WHERE 'WE WILL' THERE'S A WAY
—Chicago's New Proverb.

BY HENRY M. HYDE.

The Chicago river—which started out as a flower bordered, slow running little prairie creek — has never had a fair chance to grow up. It was man handled by the railroads, used as a sewer by its own people, encroached on by property owners, laughed at by humorists as the acme of ugliness and filth, generally derided and debased.

And all the time it carried on its uncomplaining waters a commerce greater—when the last figures were available—than the foreign traffic of the great ports of Boston, Philadelphia, and Baltimore, all rolled into one.

Now that its banks are filled with clear blue water, with a new outer harbor building at its mouth, the tunnels lowered to give a clear depth of more than twenty feet, and the center pier bridges—which blocked the passage of big boats—beginning to get out of the way, it is time that the river be given a chance to realize its possibilities.

NOT only, in the opinion of experts, may its present commerce be greatly developed but its banks, now largely lined with black, slimy, and rotten wooden docks, may be changed, if not into borders of beauty, at least into clean and convenient landing places.

Thirty years ago, when 25,000 small steamers and sailing vessels a year filled the river with bustle, its frontage was already divided up into hundreds of small holdings. The boats were small and a dock fifty or a hundred feet long would accommodate the best of them. They were of shallow draft and there was plenty of water in the stream. Only twenty years ago, when a steamer with 50,000 bushels of grain in its hold entered the river, it was a prodigy. The biggest cargo of grain brought into the river this year contained 200,000 bushels.

THE boats grew bigger, longer, deeper. Many of the small private docks became useless and were left to decay. Until the street car tunnels under the river were lowered the capatin of a big steamer almost expected to spend a day or two aground on the top of one of them. The Calumet river harbor was developed, the huge docks at Gary and Indiana Harbor were opened.

Yet, in the face of it all, the total entrances and clearances of vessels, which reached their peak with a total of 10,750,000 tons in 1898, dropped in 1911 but a trifle more than 15 per cent, the total for the latter year being 9,060,000 tons. Meanwhile, it must be remembered, Calumet harbor increased during the same period from 4,000,000 to 7,000,000 tons, making a total for the two Chicago harbors of about 16,000,000 tons.

The lake traffic of Chicago, as a whole, continues to increase, about equaling the foreign commerce of either New York or London in tonnage.

MEANWHILE, the work of improving the frontage along the Chicago river has well begun.

Wherever the city builds one of its new lift bridges it lines the river banks from street line to street line with solid concrete piers. Along the north side of the river, between La Salle and Clark streets, a big wholesale house is building a huge concrete dock a block long. Above it, on the street level, there will be a walk along the river, to which, under certain restrictions, the public will be admitted. In fact, along a good part of the river there is a strip from five to ten feet wide, to which, when the lots were replatted, the public was given free access and on which any steamer may land its passengers.

MEANWHILE, there are other developments which should encourage frontage owners along the river to improve their property with concrete piers. The

CITIZENS WILL HIRE EXPERTS TO SOLVE TERMINAL TANGLE

Raise $100,000 for Independent Study Unhampered by Lack of Funds.

REBUKE FOR CITY COUNCIL

Bion J. Arnold Engaged to Make Preliminary Report on Chicago Station Plans.

A. L. BAKER AND JANE ADDAMS LEAD

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

A group of public spirited citizens will have a comprehensive study made of the entire railroad terminal problem of Chicago—the greatest railway center in the world. These men are neither for nor against any plan so far suggested, and their only desire is for an impartial investigation followed by an exhaustive report. They plan to hire the ablest experts obtainable.

For this purpose they believe $100,000 will be necessary. Of this amount $77,000 already has been subscribed and it is expected the remainder will be promised within a week or ten days.

Rebuke for City Officials.

While the announcement of the undertaking is polite in tone and diplomatic in phraseology, it is, however, in the nature of a rebuke to the city officials who have attempted to solve the question with a mere expenditure of $10,000 or $15,000. It is a hint that the private citizens think—as has been repeatedly pointed out to the city council—that the settlement of this question will help or hinder the growth and prosperity of Chicago more than the solution of any issue before the council in several decades.

The new organization is called the Citizens' terminal plan committee and its executive board is composed of:

Alfred L. Baker,	John W. Alvord,
Julius Rosenwald,	Charles S. Cutting,
David R. Forgan,	Morton D. Hull,
Alfred Cowles,	Mrs. E. Blaine,
A. A. Sprague II.,

As a beginning Bion J. Arnold has been engaged to make a general inquiry of a preliminary character. For this work he has been allowed $25,000.

Mr. Arnold is not only to outline the general principles which should underlie adequate railway terminal plants for the city as a whole, but also to review the report of John F. Wallace, forthcoming in the early fall.

Commission of Experts Needed.

A statement of the committee's intentions is given in the announcement as follows:

"Although Chicago is the greatest railroad center in the world, there has never been a comprehensive study made by a duly qualified and authorized technical commission of its railroad passenger and freight terminal problem in its entirety. As this many sided problem is becoming more and more complicated, it seems to us imperative that such a study be made now, and by a commission of the ablest experts obtainable. We believe that such a broad investigation is needed to supplement the inquiry provided for by the present city council committee on railway terminals.

"We are not committed in favor of or against any of the various terminal plans which have been recently proposed and our only object is that this problem shall be thoroughly, broadly, and constructively investigated, with a view to reaching the best general solution.

Independent Inquiry the Aim.

"If such an investigation is to be made and its comprehensive and impartial character safeguarded, we believe that under the circumstances this can best be carried out as a voluntary citizens' movement.

"In recognition of these facts a group of citizens has been engaged for several weeks in maturing plans for securing such an investigation by such a commission and securing the requisite funds therefor. It is believed that for this purpose a fund of $100,000 should be provided. Over two-thirds of that amount has now been subscribed on condition that the balance be obtained.

"With such an investigation in view the urgent matter for immediate consideration is obviously the proposals of the Pennsylvania Railroad company and its associate companies for new passenger and freight terminals on the west side of the city. It is imperative that no plans be adopted for these improvements which would prevent or seriously interfere with carrying out the most desirable comprehensive solution of the terminal problem for Chicago as a whole.

Bion J. Arnold Engaged.

As preliminary, therefore, to the exhaustive investigation and report of the commission, Bion J. Arnold has been engaged to make a study of the terminal proposals of the Pennsylvania and its associated companies, and of the terminal plans submitted respectively by Jarvis Hunt, by Charles H. Wacker and his official associates, by Pond & Pond, by Guenzel & Drummond, and any other plans which he deems valuable; likewise a study of the report, when made, of the city's expert, John F. Wallace, whose recommendations are expected to receive early attention in the city council.

"Mr. Arnold is to outline in a general way what should be the principles of an adequate and comprehensive railway terminal plan for the city as a whole; to report as to the extent to which such plans as may be recommended by Mr. Wallace would or would not fit into such a terminal plan for the city as a whole; to report what, if any, modifications of the plans recommended by Mr. Wallace should be made; and why; and to

STORM KILLS ONE; SHOW TENT FLOPS

Motion Picture Operator Electrocuted; Actors in Dark Prevent Rush.

PANIC AT GENTRY BROS.'

A severe electrical storm accompanied by high wind and hail marked a path across the south part of Chicago last night. One man was killed. Several were injured. Houses were burned and trees swept down as the gale moved rapidly from Robey street east to Lake Michigan between Fiftieth and Seventieth streets.

The storm broke on the city at 7:30 o'clock. A circus tent crowded with women and children, who went to see the Gentry dog and pony show was flattened. The patrons fled in a panic.

A motion picture operator was electrocuted as he operated his machine in the Langley Hippodrome at Sixty-third street and Langley avenue.

The Dead.

James Lovelle, 1127 Winona avenue, motion picture operator; electrocuted.

The Injured.

Mrs. Hannah Dooley, 5918 Laflin street; trampled upon in the Gentry Brothers circus tent after the tent was blown down at Fifty-ninth and Laflin streets.

Charles McDonald, clown with Gentry Brothers; knocked unconscious by falling tent pole.

Mrs. John May, 4334 Union avenue, struck by a small tent pole.

Lawrence Mertes, 14 years old, 5317 Bishop street, cut and choked by a rope which fell around his neck from a pole in circus tent.

W. S. Pilgard, 6327 Jefferson avenue, knocked down by lightning which struck his residence.

Benjamin Graves, 8920 Exchange avenue, struck by lightning when he stopped at house of William Palmer at 6327 Jefferson avenue.

Miss Belle Palmer, 6327 Jefferson avenue, knocked unconscious by lightning as she started to close window.

George Freeman, 1145 Central Park avenue, blown through a plate glass window as he walked along Sixty-third street, near Cottage Grove avenue.

Frank Ryan, 15 years old, 4416 North Troy street, injured when window was crashed at saloon of H. McMahon, 4871 Archer avenue, where many persons took refuge.

F. Grant, 2340 South Whipple street, face and hands cut in McMahon's saloon.

Actors Perform in Dark.

Lovelle was killed as he operated his machine. The theater was crowded with persons, many of whom had run in from Sixty-third street to escape the storm. The lightning struck the electric feed wires near the building and a switch was burned out. Lovelle grasped the switch to throw it into place again when he dropped to the floor. The switchboard was charged with the surplus electricity.

Donald Ritchie, 15 years old, was in the fireproof operating room with Lovelle. When the operator dropped to the floor the boy hurried downstairs and told the manager. The lights were out, but the manager had presence of mind. When the pictures stopped he ordered his vaudeville performers to start their act. They held the crowd while the manager called the police and an ambulance arrived.

With difficulty Lovelle was pulled free from the electric wires and taken to the Washington Park hospital. The police used rubber gloves in breaking the connection of the wires with Lovelle's body. When Lovelle was received at the hospital he was pronounced dead by the physician.

The vaudeville performers entertained the audience for twenty minutes until the storm was over, when the manager announced the lightning had put his motion picture machine out of repair. Members of the audience did not know the "movie" operator had been electrocuted.

Cut Way Out of Tent.

The first serious damage by the gale was at Fifty-ninth street and Laflin avenue, when the Gentry Bros.' tent was struck. The guy ropes gave way and the "big top" flattened on 500 persons. The lights went out immediately and the persons in the tent were panic stricken.

Women were separated from their babies and several fainted. Men cut holes in the tent with knives and the audience was liberated through the improvised exits.

The storm traveled along Sixty-third street, where most of the property damage was done. A flag pole was blown over in White City. A carnival given by the Moose lodge was ended by the wind. The tents were carried away and a merry go round was blown from a vacant lot into the middle of the street at Seventieth and Wentworth.

Part of City in Darkness.

The main feed wire of the Commonwealth Edison company, which supplies Hyde Park, Woodlawn, and the southeast part of the city, was struck by lightning at 8 o'clock and that section of the city was in darkness until 1 o'clock this morning.

A gospel tent at Seventieth street and Wentworth avenue was blown down.

Reports of several robberies were received by the police after the storm. Persons left their houses to visit the places wrecked by the storm and thieves did effective pillaging.

Hundreds of trees in Jackson park were uprooted. Washington park was damaged in proportion.

Life savers from the Jackson park station were searching the lake shore last night for a launch containing several persons, reported to have been caught in the windstorm. No trace of it had been found at 1 o'clock this morning.

The storm will cool the weather for several days, according to the weather bureau prediction. A bristling cool northwest wind is expected most of the day, with light showers.

AUTO COMPANY QUITS FIELD.

American Locomotive Concern Arranges, However, to Fulfill All Guarantees Made to Patrons.

New York, Aug. 21.—[Special.]—The American Locomotive company, one of the three largest makers of automobiles in this country, announced today that it had decided to abandon the manufacture of automobiles.

This decision was reached by the board of directors at a meeting on Aug. 13, but nothing was said about it until after a second meeting held today.

In a statement the company "assures all owners of Alco vehicles that arrangements will be made to furnish them with repair parts for a period of not less than five years to come, and that it will fulfill in every respect its obligations given under guarantee to its customers."

W. L. VELIE'S WIFE CALLED SMUGGLER

Automobile Man's Spouse Held in New York City by Customs Officials.

GEMS AND FURS FOUND.

New York, Aug. 21.—[Special.]—Mrs. William L. Velie, wife of the president of the Velie Motor company of Moline, Ill., and her companion, Miss Mary J. Lilly, were arraigned before United States Commissioner Edward R. Stanton at 91 River street, Hoboken, N. J., this afternoon charged with attempting to smuggle jewelry and wearing apparel into this country.

Customs officials believe that Mrs. Velie's undeclared jewels and clothing may amount to $10,000.

Mrs. Velie was represented at her arraignment today by former Senator John C. Spooner and Henry Jennert. She was paroled in their custody until a hearing on Monday, by which time the contents of her fourteen trunks will have been examined.

Declares $245 Worth of Stuff.

Mrs. Velie, with her daughter, Marjorie, 18 years old, and her companion, Miss Lilly, arrived in New York on Monday on the Kaiser Wilhelm II. Mrs. Velie declared $245 worth of stuff for herself, her daughter, and Miss Lilly.

While on the pier Mrs. Velie spoke to John P. O'Connor, acting deputy surveyor, and asked him for permission to leave the pier in order to do some shopping at once. She left her companion and daughter to look after the baggage and, having got permission from John J. Rackziewicz, another customs official, hurried away.

Before she was allowed to leave, however, the customs officers took away from her jewels she was carrying in a case and her furs.

Find Goods Outrun Declaration.

William H. Kraft was assigned to look over Mrs. Velie's trunks. He discovered more than $245 worth of stuff and ordered all of the trunks sent to the public stores except two small handbags which the women were permitted to take away.

Thus far $3,000 worth of jewelry and wearing apparel has been found in the appraisal of the trunks, but the ttal will reach several thousand more, say the officials, who found receipts and invoices from the biggest houses in Paris.

Mrs. Velie had receipts for many purchases, including a lot of bronzes and lingerie. In her trunks were found diamond rings and watches set with diamonds and rubies. Customs inspectors watched her go from store to store while she was abroad this summer.

BOY HERO SAVES BABY GIRL.

Tries to Catch Her as She Drops from Window—Breaks Fall—Incurs Wrenched Back.

A boy of 9 risked his life yesterday to save a 2 year old girl in South Chicago. Both were injured.

Irene Matz, 3253 East Ninety-first street, was leaning against the window on the second floor of her residence. A band went along in a street car. She leaned a little farther out. The screen gave way.

Paul O'Neil, 3269 East Ninety-first street, was playing down below. He saw Irene fall and held out his arms to catch her. The force of the fall knocked him to the ground. The break saved the baby. She was injured slightly. Paul's back was wrenched.

WILSON WILL URGE CONGRESS TO KEEP HANDS OFF MEXICO

President Plans to Outline Policy in Message to Be Given Next Week.

NO RECOGNITION OF HUERTA

Penrose Demand That Americans in Danger Be Protected May Embarrass Executive.

SENATE FIRM FOR ADMINISTRATION

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—President Wilson will send a message to congress probably early next week, describing the conditions existing in Mexico and the efforts he has made to ameliorate them and to restore permanent peace.

It is probable the president will deliver this message orally at a joint meeting of both houses.

The president will not recommend military intervention, or, indeed, action of any kind by the legislative branch of the government.

The policy he will outline will be as in the past, nonrecognition of the Huerta government and noninterference except in a peaceful way.

At the same time the president's attitude is likely to be embarrassed by a demand made upon him this afternoon by Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania. Secretary Bryan reported to Mr. Penrose that two Pennsylvanians, Shirley C. Hulse and one Fuller, reclamation engineers, had been threatened with death by insurgents if they again impounded water in a dam they have built in Chihuahua.

Demands Protection of Americans.

Mr. Bryan apparently was doing nothing for the protection of the two men, so Mr. Penrose sent him a message demanding that he notify Huerta and Carranza that if Hulse and Fuller were killed or injured they would be held personally responsible.

Tonight the secretary said he had not received Senator Penrose's letter, but that telegrams as strong as the senator could wish already had been sent by the department, and that a letter had been prepared this evening giving him the substance of these messages.

The message the president began to write tonight on the general Mexican situation will detail the consequences of the revolution upon American and other foreign interests. It will refer to the "concern" this nation necessarily feels in a condition of strife, frequently barbarous and of which there is no end in sight in a country lying on our doorstep.

Revolution Costly to Americans.

The revolution is exceedingly costly to the American people for there has not only been a tremendous cut in trade and in the production of mines owned by Americans but it has been incumbent upon the government to maintain a number of battleships and cruisers in Mexican waters and a small army on the Mexican frontier to show the extent to which this government, actuated by a spirit of friendship for the Mexican people, has gone in the effort to restore peace.

The president will refer to the dispatch of Mr. Lind to Mexico City and submit the text of the notes he has exchanged with President Huerta.

In taking congress and the country into his confidence the president desires to show Gen. Huerta and his supporters that the American people and their representatives are not partisan but patriotic, and that they will stand solidly behind their chief executive in an emergency such as now confronts them.

Senate Refutes Huerta Assertion.

It will be recalled that Huerta, in his reply to the Lind note, laid stress on the belief he entertained that President Wilson and the United States senate widely differ on the policy to observe with reference to Mexico. Evidently the Mexican provisional president had in mind reports that the senate foreign relations committee favored the recognition of Huerta's government as recommended by Ambassador Wilson.

The senate gave an emphatic refutation of the Huerta belief today when senators of both parties voiced their confidence in the wisdom and good faith of President Wilson and his Mexican policy.

Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania offered a resolution providing for the dispatch of American troops as "constabulary" to Mexico and appropriating $25,000,000 for use by the president in protecting Americans and their interests in the disturbed republic.

The Penrose resolution was not acted on and there was a general agrement for cessation of debate on the Mexican situation in order not to embarrass the president.

Wilson Considers Message Carefully.

The announcement today that the president would send a message to congress on the Mexican situation was made only after careful consideration. It is believed when this news reaches Mexico City Gen. Huerta will deem it advisable to make some concessions, in order not to arouse the American people.

So long as the negotiations were conducted in camera, it naturally was to be expected the public would remain quiescent. But the administration believes that once the character and temper of the American note are known and compared with the contemptuous rejection of the proposals by Gen. Huerta, a sentiment will be created which will show the officials in Mexico City that the time of American action is perilously near.

Mr. Lind is not to be withdrawn for the present from Mexico City. It is expected his services again will be required.

Huerta to Feel Pressure.

Before further negotiations are attempted, however, the full force of public opinion, not only of this country but of the world, must be applied to and be felt by Huerta.

The latter is in an obstinate frame of mind, bitterly hostile to the United States and determined to remain in power until October when the elections occur, and to dictate the choice of his successor.

His hatred of this government is inspired partly by the view expressed here that he is responsible for the assassination of President Madero and partly by the measures he attributes to this government, which he holds are responsible for the failure of foreign nations to recognize his rule. Swayed by such sentiments, it is hardly likely Huerta would make any concessions whatever to the United States, and the only chance which the president and Secretary Bryan have come to recognize, lies the force of public opinion.

Wilson Eyed in Judgment.

It is the general view here that had the president promptly made public the note presented to Huerta by Lind, the general public support it would have received here and in Europe would have caused the Mexican authorities to hestitate before petulantly rejecting the proposals it presented.

While on the surface the Lind mission is failure, it has at least been a good diplomatic play. It was a response to the anxiety of the world that the United States take some action with a view to restoring peace, and it has shown Huerta that the situation has reached a stage where this government believes it imperative to interfere.

The first step in problems of the Mexican character always is peaceful; that was true of the Cuban situation.

Follow Precedent of Cuba.

The United States delicately brought the conditions in Cuba to the attention of the Spanish government and expressed the hope that they would be ameliorated. Then it presented various proposals with a view to restoring peace. Finally, as a result of the destruction of the Maine, intervention took place.

The president will postpone the intervention stage in Mexico as long as possible. He will hope that the next few days following the submission of his message to congress will create a world condition that will be felt in Mexico City and that the result will be new negotiations and at least a partial compliance with his demands by the Huerta government.

Senate Solid Behind Wilson.

A concerted effort on the art of Republicans and Democrats to support President Wilson in his Mexican policy and to carry to the world the definite idea that the president has the full support of the American people at once became apparent on the introduction of the Penrose resolution. It was followed by a general demand on the part of the Republicans, seconded by Chairman Bacon of the foreign relations committee, for a cessation of all debate and to support President Wilson.

Emphatic and concerted declarations were made by senators of both parties of their confidence in the wisdom and good faith of the president.

"It is our duty to uphold the hand of the president," said Senator Sutherland, Republican. "It is the part of patriotism and good sense to withhold any criticism until the situation has clarified. Until then we should stand firmly behind the president, uphold him in his negotiations, and not embarrass him. I for one propose to do this."

Republican Senators Outspoken.

Senators Lodge, Gallinger, Nelson, Smoot, and other Republicans joined in a definite expression of their belief that the senate should give the world no occasion to believe that President Wilson did not have the confidence and support of leaders of both parties.

"Nothing that could have occurred," said Senator Bacon, Democrat, "could have given such emphatic denial to the construction some Mexican officials appear to have put upon conditions here, as the patriotic utterances that have been made today on each side of this chamber. I am willing this debate should go to the world as the answer to those suggestions."

The only exception to the Republican attitude of suppressing the Mexican debate was Senator Fall, who said he believed the discussion should not be stopped.

"I think the Mexican people should know," said Senator Kern, Democrat, "that in a threatening situation like this the American people stand together like a stone wall."

Penrose Asks Protection Fund.

The resolution of Senator Penrose which drew forth the foregoing expressions took the form of an amendment to the deficiency bill and called for an appropriation of $25,000,000 to be expended as the president might direct for the protection of the lives of Americans in Mexico.

Mr. Penrose made no effort to secure immediate action upon his resolution, and at the suggestion of Senator La Follette it went over a day under the senate rules.

Senator Penrose consented, at the request of Senator Bacon, to withdraw certain articles he had asked to have read. He said he had introduced the resolution in good faith, believing something must be done to stop "brutality, robbery, and molestation" exhibited toward Americans.

Demands Rebels Protect Americans.

Eagle Pass, Tex., Aug. 21.—A step to protect Americans and all foreigners in constitutionalist territory was taken today by Acting American Vice Consul W. H. Blocker at Piedras Negras, Mexico, in protesting formally to constitutionalist leaders against the destruction of the mining town of Lampacitos, Coahuila, last Saturday, when about $1,000,000 worth of property, much of it French, was destroyed.

Gen. Carranza, acting head of the constitutionalists, said the constitutionalists propose to protect foreigners, but that if Lampacitos had not been wiped off the map it could have supplied the Huerta government all the coal needed for railroads, shops, and other purposes.

MEXICAN PAPERS COMMENT.

Mexico City, Aug. 21.—The Mexican press today devoted itself editorially to the possibility that the United States will recognize the belligerency of the rebels. Intervention is also discussed by all the papers. One or the other of these courses the newspapers appear to consider imminent.

El Pais, the organ of the Clerical party, after pointing out that the Madero rebellion had one recognized chief, says:

"Suppose Gen. Huerta relinquishes power, to whom would he deliver it? Carranza? No, because Zapata would claim it for himself. Maytorena? No, because Pesqueira would not be comfortable To Zapata?

"Should the United States recognize the belligerency of the rebels, which group could it recognize as a belligerent? This, Mr Lind, is the precise situation."

The Independiente quotes former Vice President Fairbanks as saying that it "would be foolish to sacrifice a single soldier for all the dollars of American speculators," and asks, "How would he characterize intervention from the Mexican point of view—which is that thousands of Mexicans would be forced to die opposing a most unwarranted aggression? There is only one adequate word for such an act, and that is 'crime.'"

Government Officially Silent.

Officially Mexico continues silent regarding the negotiations with the representative of the president of the United States, Mr. Lind, although the public has been given to understand that they are yet in progress.

Mr. Lind has shown no indication of early and the foreign minister, Señor Gamboa, departure, and the conferences between him which have been held at intervals, serve as a basis for the statement that cordial relations prevail.

A conference between Mr. Lind and the foreign minister was held this afternoon, but as usual the nature of the conversation was not revealed.

THAW ATTORNEYS WIN WEEK'S DELAY

Believe Fate of Prisoner, So Far as Canada May Influence It, Is Settled.

HEARING ON WEDNESDAY.

Report of Plan to Kidnap Slayer of White Denied; New York Asks U. S. Aid.

Sherbrooke, Que., Aug. 21.—Until Wednesday of next week, barring unforeseen developments, Harry Kendall Thaw will remain in the Sherbrooke jail. On that day he is to be arraigned in the Superior court on a writ of habeas corpus. Between now and that time his battery of Canadian lawyers hopes to perfect plans, not to thwart deportation but to submit to it gracefully—to a point selected by Thaw.

This, in brief, was the status tonight of Matteawan's fugitive, arrested on Tuesday near Coaticook, Quebec, and committed to jail here on a defective warrant.

Ignorant of the moves made by his lawyers, Thaw has spent his time pacing the length of the narrow corridor in the Sherbrooke jail, and was not even aware that the writ of habeas corpus in his case was served on the jailer this afternoon and that but for a timely telephone message he would have been produced in court today with the bench vacant.

Foil Attempt to Take Thaw Out.

This incident, variously described as a blunder, a case of absent mindedness, and an error due to hurry, arose after Superior Judge Globensky failed to specify in writing that the writ was returnable before him next Wednesday.

He had set this date in chambers, but the writ reading "instanter" when served on the jailer, set that official into instant action, and he had called a carriage and ordered Thaw to dress for an outing when a telephone message from the judge informed him that the latter was leaving for Montreal, not to return here as a Circuit judge until next week.

Meanwhile District Attorney Conger of Dutchess county, N. Y., Deputy Attorney General Franklin Kennedy of Albany, and others primarily interested in getting Stanford White's slayer across the border, seized on the possibility of Thaw's immediate production and sought to find another judge before whom to arraign him.

But Mr. Laforce, governor of the jail, declined to surrender the prisoner until he had consulted with Sheriff Aylmer.

Holds Fugitive in Jail.

The sheriff, after reading the writ carefully, said, that while no time for its return was stated, he had understood from the court that Wednesday was the day, and he allowed that Thaw had better stay in jail.

Rumors sprouted meanwhile that the New York authorities were trying to kidnap Thaw, that an automobile was ready to whirl him to the New York line; that an open clash, perhaps a street battle, was imminent.

As a matter of fact, the officers from New York were as much surprised as any one. They had protested at postponing the proceedings until Wednesday, but their protests failing, had decided to bide their time, hoping that when arraigned Thaw would be released as a fugitive and promptly snapped up by the immigration authorities as an undesirable.

Thaw's Lawyer's Satisfied.

Thaw's lawyers said tonight that they were well satisfied with the events of today. They feel now that Thaw's fate, so far as the Canadian authorities may influence it, is practically settled.

The plan of Thaw's lawyers, and there is reason to believe they have had assurances of its success, is to have Thaw examined before that board and ordered deported to Montpelier. Than any other state Thaw would prefer Vermont as a refuge.

Investigation made in his behalf has convinced those who are working in his interests that Vermont would afford the most involved extradition proceedings.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lauder Carnegie, Thaw's brother-in-law and sister, left town tonight. Mrs. Thaw, the mother, would not come here, they said.

WARRANT'S LEGALITY AT STAKE.

Montreal, Que., Aug. 21.—"All that I have to decide is whether the warrant of commitment on which Harry K. Thaw is confined in jail was legally issued or not," Justice Globensky, before whom the Thaw case in Sherbrooke is pending, said on his arrival here tonight.

"As the case now stands before me," the justice added, "it has nothing to do with extradition or deportation proceedings. The warrant on which Thaw is confined was signed by Justice of the Peace Dupuis of Coaticooke and the charge against Thaw is that he illegally escaped from Matteawan asylum. The writ of habeas corpus was issued yesterday afternooon. I will have to decide whether the writ should be maintained and Thaw set free or the writ quashed and the prisoner returned to jail."

Judge Globensky did not care to discuss the question of deportation or the probable action of the immigration authorities, stating that it did not come within his province. He thought that if the man was deported from Coaticooke he would be sent to the state of Vermont, while if the proceedings were in Montreal he would be sent to the state of New York.

NEW YORK ASKS U. S. AID.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 21.—Both the men who claim to be New York state chief executives were busy on the Thaw case today and there was much telegraphing and telephoning.

Gov. Sulzer telegraphed Secretary of State Bryan at Washington asking that the American consul general at Ottawa advise the Canadian authorities to return Thaw to the jurisdiction of this state at Rouses Point.

Several hours previously Acting Governor Glynn and Attorney General Carrmody sent a telegram in duplicate to Mr. Bryan and to the federal secretary of commerce requesting Thaw's deportation.

U. S. Unofficially Acts.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—The state department tonight conveyed an unofficial intimation to the British ambassador, Sir Arthur Spring-Rice, that the United States would be pleased if Canada should deport Harry K. Thaw, who is being held by the Canadian authorities. The intimation was carried in a telegram to the ambassador at his summer home at Dublin, N. H.

The telegram, which was marked personal, in order to signify that it was not an official communication, said:

"The department, while not in a position to make a request in the matter, which in its present aspect is not within our extradition treaties, brings it to your notice with a view to such action as the Canadian authorities may find themselves justified in taking."

The action of the state department was taken in response to messages received from Gov. Sulzer and Acting Gov. Glynn of New York.

Plea Rejected by Council.

Various organizations, including the Chicago plan commission, City club, Western Society of Engineers, and the Chicago Architects' Business association, pleaded with the council committee on terminals to make an investigation on a large scale, such as the citizens' committee has undertaken. The plea was turned down, although the City club offered to pay the expenses of one expert if the council would appoint a commission of three, or of two members if the commission consisted of five.

The council committee on terminals decided one expert was enough and that $10,000 or $15,000 would be sufficient for his compensation and expenses. The committee then decided to hold no more sessions until autumn and Chairman Geiger departed on an automobile trip to California for his health.

Pennsylvania Plans Up.

The terminal problem was forced to the foreground by the request of the Pennsylvania group of railroads for permission to construct a west side terminal. The Chicago plan commission objected, urging that this scheme would interfere with the plan of Chicago. Before Chairman Geiger left for his vacation he said that work will be started on the Pennsylvania plan by Nov. 1.

Regarding the plan of the citizens' committee, Chairman Alfred L. Baker said last night:

"I wish especially to emphasize that no member of the committee is prejudiced either for or against any plan suggested. They have no opinions and approach the subject with open minds. All they want is a free and impartial study."

FIGHT ON WILKERSON FAILS

Men Who Fear Law Back Attempt to Oust Prosecutor.

REFUSED TO DROP CASES.

Attorney General Turns Deaf Ear to Requests of Politicians.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—Some of Chicago's "malefactors of great wealth" who are being prosecuted or threatened with prosecution by the government are responsible for recent efforts to oust District Attorney Wilkerson from office, according to disclosures here today.

In spite of the fact that Wilkerson's term will not expire for two years Illinois Democratic politicians have been extremely active within the last few weeks in seeking to induce Senator Lewis and Attorney General McReynolds to remove the district attorney and appoint a Democratic successor.

Politics Nothing to Wilkerron.

It appears that Mr. Wilkerson had been pressing the trial of cases against Republicans as well as Democrats and that he is particularly unpopular with some powerful defendants who had attempted to induce the government to drop prosecutions.

Mr. McReynolds was particularly pleased with the aggressive attitude of Mr. Wilkerson in the oleo tax cases, the defendants in which had obtained immunity from the administration which placed Mr. Wilkerson in office. The attorney general has evinced his confidence in the district attorney and turned a deaf ear to the demands for his removal.

The policy of the attorney general, however, will be to fill vacancies on Mr. Wilkerson's staff with Democratic appointees. On the recommendation of Senator Lewis he has asked Mr. Wilkerson to name as one of his assistants State Representative M. L. Igoe of Chicago.

Jobs for Illinois Democrats.

Igoe was one of the Dunne floor leaders in the last legislature. Others recommended by Senator Lewis for places in Mr. Wilkerson's office are George McIntyre, a Sullivan Democrat and junior member of the senator's law firm, and Samuel C. Herren, now assistant city attorney under the Harrison administration. It is proposed to place Mr. Herren in charge of income tax collection cases.

Attorney General McReynolds will not decide for several months whether to fill the Grosscup vacancy in the Circuit Court of Appeals. He is awaiting the outcome of pending legislation to abolish judgeships and add two judgeships to the District bench in Chicago and also the receipt of a report by an examiner on the condition of court business in that district.

FIVE DEAD IN FARM TRAGEDY; MURDER AND SUICIDE THEORY.

Iowan Believed to Have Killed Wife, Children, and Himself—Bodies Found in Burned Buildings.

Dubuque, Ia., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—Five persons are dead as the result of a tragedy which occurred early this morning on the farm of Henry Sternweis, fifteen miles north of this city.

It is believed that Sternweis, after a family quarrel or in a fit of temporary insanity, killed his wife and three children, set fire to the farmhouse, and then hanged himself in a barn.

At noon when the ruins of the buildings became cool enough to permit a search, the probability that the tragedy was a quadruple murder and suicide developed. The bodies of Mrs. Sternweis and two daughters, aged 5 years and 9 months respectively, were recovered from the ruins of the farm house. The body of a 9 year old son could not be found, although it is thought to be among the ruins.

In the débris of the burned barn was found the body of Sternweis.

PATERNITY SUIT NEAR TRIAL AFTER TWO YEARS OF DELAY.

Son of Late Missouri Senator Will Contest Damages Sought by Bar Harbor, Me., Domestic.

Bar Harbor, Me., Aug. 21.—[Special]—After two years of delays and adjournments, with only a partial disclosure of the evidence, the action of Lena Garmong against John Brooks Henderson is set for trial at the coming session of court, which will begin on the second Tuesday of October. The paternity of a child is involved in the suit.

Mr. Henderson, the defendant, is the son of the late John B. Henderson, once United States senator from Missouri, and author of the thirteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States, abolishing slavery.

Lena Garmong alleges that Mr. Henderson became friendly with her when she was a domestic at the Bar Harbor summer home of the Hendersons. She asks $10,000 from the defendant.

Find Body on Third Rail.

The body of an unidentified man, about 40 years old, was found on the third rail of the Aurora, Elgin and Chicago railroad company's track near the Bellwood station yesterday.

COOK COUNTY TOPS GOOD ROADS FUND

State Allots $120,320 for Better Highways in Vicinity of Chicago.

MUST DUPLICATE GIFT.

Different Illinois Boards Like Tice Scheme and Will Take Advantage of Bill.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—The state highway commission, in announcing the apportionment of state funds or county aid in construction of highways, fixed the allotment of Cook county at $120,320. This is not quite so high as early estimates of Cook county's share but the difference is not material.

Of the amount, $48,750 is to come from each of the $400,000 annual appropriations made by the legislature from the automobile fund and $32,820 from the general taxation fund of $300,000. As the county is required to duplicate the state's appropriation, Cook will have $240,640 for use in the improvement of its highways.

All Countries to Get in Line.

It is now expected that practically all counties of the state will take advantage of the state's offer to aid in good roads. Some county boards have been hanging back and in a few instances adverse action has been taken, but it is believed all will be found in line when the September meetings of the county boards are held.

Representative Homer Tice, author of the good roads bill, has been giving his time since adjournment of the legislature to the work of explaining the new law in various counties of the state, meeting with the county boards and commercial organizations.

Counties and the total allotment of the biennial appropriation each county will receive will be announced by the highway commission today. Will county gets $22,874; Lake county, $15,505; Dupage, $14,839; Kane, $26,400; and La Salle, $36,081.

Illinois to Have Convict Roads

"Not a guard in camp will have a gun," Warden E. M. Allen of Joliet penitentiary said today in discussing plans for the employment of convicts on the road work in Lee county, near Dixon.

Forty men, who will be sent out on Monday to work ninety days, are classed as "trusties." The warden declares he could send them to China on the honor system and they would came back. This is the only gang that will be put to work this year.

Gov. Dunne today has agreed to commute the sentence of each prisoner ten days for each thirty days he works outside prison walls.

End Good Roads Work.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 21.—Sunset put an official end today to Gov. Major's two good road days, during which it is estimated 250,000 business men and farmers forsook their business and their farms and went to the highways to give their work that Missouri might receive impetus to become one of the leading good road states of the union.

When the last man laid down his pick and his shovel tonight it was estimated the work done, had it been paid for, would have amounted to $1,500,000. Better still, an unquenchable desire for better highways has been kindled, according to leaders.

Every state in the union will be asked by Gov. Major to join in the proclamation of two "road days" in 1914, according to a statement issued by the governor.

VICTIM SLAYS MORO ASSASSINS

Captain Vernon L. Whitney Shoots and Stabs Assailants.

FIGHT ON ISLAND OF JOLO.

Second Time Governor of Zulu Has Been Hurt in Last Six Months.

MANILA, P. I., Aug. 21.—Capt. Vernon L. Whitney of the Philippines constabulary, recently appointed governor of the Sulu archipelago by Gov. Gen. W. Cameron Forbes, had a desperate hand to hand fight with two Moros today. Though badly wounded by his assailants, he managed to kill both of them.

Capt. Whitney had just completed an inspection of the Scout camp at Bual Looc, a barrio on the island of Jolo, or Sulu, the largest island of the Sulu group. He had sent his interpreter to make ready his steam launch. The interpreter was attacked by Moros, but managed to escape. A few minutes later two Moros approached Capt. Whitney, behaving in a friendly manner.

Within a short distance of the captain, however, they suddenly drew their barongs, or native swords, and made a rush at him. He succeeded in clinching with one of them, at the same time drawing his revolver and shooting the other of his would-be assassins. He then, after a struggle, wrested the barong away from the other and killed him with it. He was cut five times in the struggle, but probably will recover from his wounds.

ADVOCATES GREAT FLEET TO POLICE WATERS OF WORLD.

Universal Peace Conference at The Hague Hears Vottenhoven's Plan, but Politely Shelves It.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

THE HAGUE, Aug. 21.—The twentieth universal peace congress had a feast of academic idealism today. The chief item on the menu was Prof. Van V. Vottenhoven's scheme for an international police force in the shape of a fleet under an international admiralty board to compel the observance of the law of nations.

The congress, recalling the Peking expedition, the blockade of the Cretan coast, and other similar incidents, received the project with kindly interest, but politely shelved it by adopting a resolution to the effect that it was a matter for further study.

A series of resolutions on the Balkan war was passed. These resolutions expressed regret that the powers which had obtained economic advantages from Turkey could not agree to protect its subect peoples; condemned the brutality of the late war, and advised consultation of the populations concerned in regard to the future of Adrianople and Thrace.

NEGRO HURTS OWN CHANCES.

Statistics Before National Colored Business League Show Race at Disadvantage in Big Cities.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 21.—Today's sessions of the National Negro Business league convention was devoted to a discussion of general merchandising, the development of insurance business among negroes, the negro inventor, and the forward to the country movement among members of the race.

Statistics were presented to show that the negro is crowding into the large cities, to the detriment of his materigl advancement and health.

Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, and New York were mentioned as having an excess negro population measured by the opportunities the colored man has in those cities.

FATHER'S FUN MAY BE FATAL.

Invites Woman Neighbor to Toss Son to Him from Roof—Lad Falls Thirty Feet.

Edwardsville, Ill., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—Acting upon the suggestion, playfully given by Harry Johnson, a neighbor, that she throw his 5 year old son, Joseph, into his arms from a roof thirty feet from the ground, Mrs. Edward Janis of Edwardsville today tossed the lad over the edge.

Johnson missed the catch. The boy struck a brick pavement and suffered injuries which may result in his death.

Upon realizing what she had done, Mrs. Janis went into hysterics, and it was two hours before friends could calm her.

DYNAMITE LAID TO KILL GAYNOR?

Charge Found in Gothic City Hall Had Failed to Catch Spark.

PERILS WHOLE BUILDING.

Executive, in Office, Not Perturbed at News and Refuses Clews.

New York, Aug. 21.—A deadly charge of dynamite—three whole ten inch sticks and two halves with a fuse and detonator—was discovered this afternoon near Mayor Gaynor's office windows in the city hall.

The bureau of combustibles found that the explosive was 40 per cent dynamite, the regulation blasting proportion, and the amount found would, if exploded, have wrecked the city hall.

The mayor was in his office when the dynamite was discovered by a citizen passing through City Hall park. Mr. Gaynor evinced little interest when told of the explosive's proximity, and remained apparently undisturbed at his desk while police officers hurriedly drew a cordon about the dynamite to keep back an excited crowd.

Gaynor Refuses Clews.

Mr. Gaynor frequently receives threatening letters, but tonight he would make no statement regarding the possible connection between any previous threat by mail and the dynamite of today.

It is just three years ago this month that he was shot in the neck by a so-called crank and so badly wounded that for several days it was feared he would die.

The dynamite found today lay on a basement door in a concrete moat or areaway within sixty feet of the mayor's window. The explosive was arranged in a latin formation, with the two small pieces on top. A partly burned four inch fuse, made of gunpowder tightly rolled in a paper cylinder, led to a detonating cap on one of the half sticks of dynamite.

Close to the explosive was a piece of Chinese punk and several partly burned matches. The dynamite and fuse were wrapped in a piece of heavy cambric secured by red and blue twine. The cloth was blue with red and white figures, and resembled the fillets worn by women of the working class.

Explosion Escape Narrow.

The bureau of combustibles experts state that the only thing which prevented a disastrous explosion was the presence of a strip of cotton wool wound so tightly about the base of the fuse that a spark could not reach the detonator. An edge of one dynamite stick was slightly scorched.

The investigators do not attach much importance to the finding of half burned matches and a partly consumed cigar near the explosive. Hundreds of smokers pass the areaway during the noon hour and some of them occasionally throw dead matches and cigar butts there.

The police authorities say that laborers sometimes carelessly drop dynamite sticks near their blasting operations. There is an excavation shaft on the Broadway side of City Hall park, leading to the new subway construction. Detectives are making a close investigation of this location, although the contractors declare that they do not use a per cent dynamite in their operations.

MILWAUKEE FACES SCANDAL; FIVE COLLEGE GIRLS INVOLVED.

Several Court Proceedings on Statutory Charges Threatened—Surprise Weddings Predicted.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—A sensational series of scandals is about to break in this city and several court proceedings on statutory charges are threatened. The trouble seems to be centered in the most aristocratic portion of the city and affects girls believed of the most spotless reputation.

One charge against a man has already been prepared, while surprise weddings may be resorted to for the blocking of other similar cases. Reports say there are five girls involved and by a peculiar coincidence all are students at one of the most exclusive girls' colleges in the west, where only wealthy parents can afford to send their daughters.

COURT VINDICATES NEWSPAPER RIGHT

Judge Fisher Decides "Tribune" Acted Lawfully in Photographing Gamblers.

FOUR MEN SET FREE

Praised for Courage in Behalf of Public Morality in Strong Decision.

Judge Harry Fisher, sitting in the Municipal court, yesterday held that a newspaper which, in a campaign to suppress gambling, takes a flashlight photograph of gamblers in the act of violating the law, is acting clearly within its rights.

The decision was given in the case of four Tribune employés, Herman Brocker, Ben Kendall, Edward F. Weigle, and Charles Lando, accused of disorderly conduct at the instigation of State's Attorney Maclay Hoyne.

THE TRIBUNE men had gone at night in an automobile to a gambling house at 813 Maxwell street where they took a photograph of a room full of gamblers. After the picture had been taken the gambling house crowd rushed out and attempted to mob THE TRIBUNE employés. In protecting themselves from the mob one of the occupants of the auto shot a member of the mob. The wounded man has since recovered and, with a staff of "detectives" to "guard" him, is living at the taxpayers' expense at the Bradley hotel.

Judge Praises Newspaper Men.

Judge Fisher not only vindicated the defendants in their right to take the picture, but praised them and THE TRIBUNE for their zeal and courage in behalf of public morality. He dismissed the charges against all the men.

"Any newspaper that is public spirited enough to expose the awful conditions existing in the congested districts of this city should be encouraged," said Judge Fisher. "There are many other places in this district that should be exposed. The newspaper that has the courage to take photographs of such places in order to show the public the existing conditions should be commended. It is a good thing to take pictures of these places.

"There is nothing unlawful in taking a flashlight picture for this purpose, as long as the men proceed in a lawful manner, and there is nothing to show that these men did not conduct themselves lawfully.

Says Mob Broke Law.

"According to the evidence the men went to this place in an orderly manner, took a flashlight picture, and then returned to their automobile. The machine attempted to drive away, according to the evidence, and a crowd of almost 200 persons gathered about it. This was unlawful. The crowd that collected around the machine was violating an ordinance.

"The prosecution admits the machine drove away after the picture had been taken. The men in the machine did nothing disorderly, according to the evidence. There is nothing that I can hold these men for. They have done nothing that constitutes disorderly conduct.

"The chauffeur of the machine simply drove there under orders. The rest of the men were engaged in their lawful duty also. There is no doubt that the men in the machine were willing to leave without causing a disturbance.

"The prosecution has failed to show any reason for holding these men, and as far as I can see they have not committed any act that would justify me holding them for disorderly conduct. I will have to dismiss the case."

Refuses to Hold Chauffeur.

City Prosecutor Bosta, who conducted the prosecution, objected to the dismissal of the men on the grounds that a disturbance was caused after they had gone. He requested the court to question Herman Brocker, the chauffeur, and declared Brocker should be held because he had driven the automobile to the place.

Judge Fisher declared Brocker had been acting under orders and that, even had the men in the machine conducted themselves in a disorderly manner, the chauffeur could not be held responsible.

Prosecution Calls Four Witnesses.

Four witnesses testified for the prosecution. Ben Sallin, a roommate of Alexander Belford, the gambler who was shot, declared he talked to Belford a few minutes before he was wounded. He said Belford was standing near the corner when the shot was fired from the automobile, and that Belford had taken no part in the attack on the men in the machine. Under cross examination by Attorney Benjamin Bachrach, who represented THE TRIBUNE men, Sallin admitted that he was across the street when the shot was fired.

Sam Samuels said he had talked to Belford before the shooting. He told a confused story and contradicted himself when questioned by Attorney Bachrach.

Abraham Rintzler said he saw THE TRIBUNE men climb in the machine and drive slowly away. He said the crowd followed and stood in front of the automobile.

Admits Crowd Followed Car.

"I heard one of the men in the machine say, 'Did you get a picture?' and another man said, 'Yes,'" Rintzler testified. "Then one of the men said to the chauffeur, 'Drive away.' Another man in the machine said, 'Keep an eye on the crowd.' Alexander Belford was standing close to the machine, and when one of the men in the machine asked about the picture Belford said, 'Look out, people, they are going to take another picture of us.' He was standing in front of the crowd.

"The machine started away and the crowd followed. The machine went pretty slow until it reached the corner. One of the men stood up in the machine when it started away and held out his hand to the crowd and said, 'Stay away from this machine. Don't come near this machine.'"

"Were the men in the machine making a noise?" asked State's Attorney Smejkal.

"No, sir," replied Rintzler.

"Where was Belford when the men climbed in the machine and started away?" asked Attorney Bachrach.

"He was standing in front of 813 Maxwell street," replied Rintzler.

"Where was he when the shot struck him?" asked Mr. Bachrach.

"He was near Halsted street, about 100 feet from 813 Maxwell street," replied the witness.

Adolph Kaufman, another witness for the prosecution corroborated the testimony of Rintzler.

The court did not require the defendants to testify.

Woodlawn Babies Have Day of Their Lives.

WOODLAWN MOTHERS AND KIDS

BLANCHE AND MILDRED MURPHY

Woodlawn babies, 100 of them, were on parade yesterday. It was their day in "Woodlawn week." Grownups put aside household and business cares and joined in nursery games and otherwise. Nearly every Woodlawner took a hand. A film show, however, was the feature of the day. The little leading lady, Mary Hayes, was heroine in a "stolen baby" plot to be shown at a Woodlawn theater and achieved every honor. Mrs. Ferd Baker, Mrs. W. E. Altland, Miss June Price, with Sergt. William A. Haedtler, who foiled the "kidnapers," supported her. The Woodlawn Business Men's association staged the performance.

HOYNE AID REBUFFS LYLE

Johnston Refuses to See Englewood League Attorney.

DENIED ALL INFORMATION.

Stenographic Report Shows Attitude in Child Case.

Attorney John H. Lyle, representing the Englewood Law and Order league, yesterday was refused opportunity to see Maclay Hoyne's first assistant, in charge of the state's attorney's office. Mr. Lyle called at the request of the Law and Order league and also as the representative of Englewood citizens who held a meeting more than a week ago and adopted a resolution urging Mr. Lyle to push the prosecution of the case of Christ Vrettos, indicted on a charge of taking undue liberties with the 8 year old daughter of Mrs. Sophie Dettling.

To letters sent by Mr. Lyle Mr. Hoyne replied by calling Mr. Lyle a coward and characterizing him as ungentlemanly and unlawyerlike. This was resented by the citizens of Englewood, who urged Lyle to continue his interest in the case, and if the state's attorney refused to treat with him to petition the courts for the appointment of a special state's attorney to prosecute the cases.

Stenographer Reports Meeting.

The following is from the affidavit of a court reporter who accompanied Lyle on his visit to the public office yesterday:

"In company with John H. Lyle, attorney for the Englewood Law and Order league, I, Alice M. Hanson, court reporter, 609 Ashland block, went to the office of State's Attorney Maclay Hoyne at 2:55 o'clock this afternoon, Aug. 21, and stayed there until 5:10 p. m.

"When we arrived at the state's attorney's office Mr. Lyle asked to see Mr. Hoyne. He was told the state's attorney was not in, and they did not know when he would return. Mr. Lyle asked who was in charge of the office and was told that Mr. Johnston was the assistant in charge. He asked to see Mr. Johnston and was told that Mr. Johnston was out, but that he would be back most any minute. At 5:05 a man who we were told was Mr. Julian came out and asked if Mr. Lyle was waiting to see Mr. Johnston.

Record of Conversation.

"The following conversation took place:

"Mr. Julian—Are you waiting to see Mr. Johnston?

"Mr. Lyle—I would like to see Mr. Hoyne if he is in; if he is not, I would like to see Mr. Johnston if he is in charge of the office.

"Mr. Julian—Mr. Johnston is in charge, but he won't see you.

"Mr. Lyle—Will you tell him I would like to know when the case against Christ Vrettos will be placed on trial?

"Mr. Julian—No, he says he don't want to see you. He says he won't talk to you.

All Information Refused.

"Mr. Lyle—Then could you tell when the Christ Vrettos case would be placed on trial.

"Mr. Julian—No, I couldn't tell you a thing about it.

"Mr. Lyle—Is there any one here who can tell me when the case will be placed on trial?

"Mr. Julian—Mr. Johnston is in charge of the office and he said he didn't want to see you.

TAILOR HELD FOR MURDER.

Samuel Krichilsky Must Face Trial for Killing Morris S. Shindell on Aug. 15.

Samuel Krichilsky of 1424 Solon place, a tailor, was held to the grand jury yesterday on a charge of murder at the inquest held over the body of Morris Shindell of 1446 West Harrison street, who was fatally stabbed on the night of Aug. 15. Krichilsky testified he was attacked by Shindell and Isadore Rebstein of 1507 West Harrison street, when he was going to meet his wife.

"Mr. Lyle—Ask Mr. Johnston if he won't see me, as I want to ask him about this case.

"Mr. Julian—He won't see you!"

FIELD FOR MEN IN SCHOOLS

Ella Flagg Young Denies They Are Being Crowded Out.

DON'T LIKE THE GRADES.

Women Adapted Naturally for Handling Children; Men Ambitious.

Mrs. Ella Flagg Young yesterday denied that women are crowding men out of the teaching profession. While men are not naturally adapted for the grade schools, she said, there is a wide field for them in higher education.

"Several factors tend to keep men out of the elementary grades," she said. "The majority of women who can toil with children unceasingly for days and years at a time is far greater than the corresponding proportion of men. Women enjoy the care and direction of the children where the men soon become bored.

"It is the ambition of men teachers to some day be instructors in some college or university. Finally, men are always on the alert for business chances which may take them from the field of teaching.

"The cry so often heard is that women are 'crowding' out the men from our school system. I don't believe this to be true, for there are as many men teachers proportionally now as there were when I went to school.

"What I would consider an ideal is to have as many grade school principals men as women, have an equal number of both in the high schools and in the colleges."

FIND ARSENIC IN DE LATOUR

Coroner Decides to Reopen Inquest Over Pole.

CHEMIST MAKES ANALYSIS.

Finds Drug in Excess of the Amount Needed to Kill.

The finding of arsenic in large quantities in the stomach of Jan de Latour, said to have been an exiled Polish nobleman, who died suddenly some days ago, caused Coroner Hoffman to announce yesteday that he would reopen the inquest. A coroner's jury had declared De Latour a suicide.

The amount of arsenic found is believed by Dr. W. D. McNally, the coroner's chemist who made the analysis, to be greatly in excess of the quantity capable of causing death. He will not report definitely on that point, however, until he has completed his examination of the vital organs.

Mrs. de Latour, the widow, was arrested after the inquest on a warrant sworn out by Max Kacsmarek, attorney for De Latour, who, according to the lawyer, shortly before his death, had accused his wife of poisoning him. They are said to have had a quarrel.

Lieut. Thomas Duffy of the Rawson street station declined to arrest Mrs. de Latour until the warrant was issued. The police were inclined to credit the theory that De Latour was of unsound mind when he expressed the fear that his family sought his life.

Mrs. de Latour is at liberty on a $5,000 bond. After her arrest the body was exhumed and the chemical examination of the brain and viscera ordered.

CHICAGO WOMAN URGES CASE AGAINST MAN WHO SHOT HER.

Mrs. Charles Roselle, "Accidentally" Struck by Farmer's Bullet at Muskegon, Mich., May Be Victim of Revenge

Muskegon, Mich., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—The earnest request of Mrs. Charles Roselle, the Chicago woman who was shot at Duck lake yesterday, that George Seibert, the Fruitland township farmer who did the shooting, accidentally, he claims, be held at the county jail and made to answer for his deed, and the compliance of the officers with this request brought a new angle in the case tonight.

Both Mrs. Roselle and her daughter, Miss Ethel Roselle, are now anxious that the case be pressed against Seibert. It developed today that there had been bad blood between the Roselle family and the Seiberts for some time, mutual notice having been given to each to keep off the premises of the other.

The wife of the man now held in the county jail, although questioned almost continuously since the time of the shooting, has given few details of the affair. It was only after hours of examination that she admitted at all that her husband had fired the gun.

GIRL ACCUSES BUSINESS MAN.

Says Noel Kinnaman of Chicago Calculating Company Forced Attentions Upon Her.

Noel Kinnaman of 2044 Waveland avenue, president of the Chicago Calculating company, with offices in the Ashland block, was arrested yesterday on a disorderly conduct charge. Kinnaman is accused by Miss Irene Sbee, 17 years old, of 1215 North La Salle street, of forcing his attentions on her.

GAMBLING LOSS CAUSES SUICIDE

Man Fleeced Out of Money in Two Chicago Dens Kills Himself in Grant Park.

LETTER GIVES DETAILS.

Says Places Are at 71 Monroe and Palace Hotel on North Clark Street.

After losing all his money in two Chicago gambling houses, Moses Avner of 7125 South Chicago avenue, walked to Grant park yesterday, took poison, and died. Avner was a pawnbroker. A letter to his wife told of his ruin. It says:

My Dear Wife: I am going to leave you. I can't stand the strain any longer. My desire to gamble and spend money is too great. As our affairs stand there is a little left. Pay off the mortgage on the house, or sell it, as you please. I will to you all my real estate that is not in your name and all the personal property I possess. I went to bail that man out this morning and met some of the old gang. I could not resist, so I went to their headquarters at 71 Monroe street, and from there to the Palace hotel on North Clark street, and lost today $158. Henry Verman was there in the game. So, goodby, and God bless you for you have been a noble wife.

Letter Written Some Days Ago.

The letter was written on one of Avner's business letterheads and was signed "Avner." It apparently was written several days before the suicide. On the back, written in lead pencil, was this note:

I was there again today and lost $99, making a total of $250 in two days' gambling. It's no use, I can't stand it.

Assistant Chief Schuettler when told of the note found in Avner's pocket looked in a list of places where gambling has been reported. He found that a place at 71 Monroe street was on his list.

Conducted as Whist Club.

"That place is conducted by two men as a whist club," he said. "The names of the men are Summerfield and Essig. We understood there was no gambling at the place."

Schuettler then sent detectives to the place. No record of gambling at the Palace hotel was in Schuettler's office, but he ordered an investigation.

Avner in 1910 shot and wounded Richard Connell of the real estate firm of Stewart & Connell in the Unity building.

BELLWOOD GAMBLING CENTER RAIDED BY DEPUTY SHERIFFS.

Notorious Hall Exposed by "Tribune" Receives Attention and 25 Men Are Arrested While Making Bets.

Five deputy sheriffs surrounded gambling headquarters at Bellwood yesterday afternoon and twenty-five men were arrested.

The notorious handbook hall of Zimmerman and Firey was raided while Zimmerman was busily calling the winners of the races and posting odds on a blackboard. The place was exposed by THE TRIBUNE several weeks ago. Zimmerman and Firey recently were fined $100 each by Justice George W. Carr of Maywood. The complaints were sworn to by Thomas Kane, a former police captain. The state's attorney refused to prosecute the men and Frank McDermott, a partner of Barney Mahoney, assistant state's attorney, defended them.

Fred Zimmerman, J. T. Firey, and Samuel Crogan were arrested yesterday as the proprietors of the game. The deputies found roulette wheels, dice tables, and other gambling devices in the pool and billiard resort.

Municipal Judge Mahoney cited a change in street names as a cause for discharging a man charged with gambling.

Louis Hershfield was arrested at 4514 Broadway.

"Your honor," he said, "I am accused of gambling, but they add insult to injury by saying that I gambled on Evanston avenue."

"Discharged," Judge Mahoney said. "The court must take judicial notice of the change in street names."

ASK POLICE TO SEEK WOMAN.

Relatives of Miss Clara Burdharth, Who Escaped from Oak Park Sanitarium, Invoke Authorities' Aid.

Police have been asked to search for Miss Clara Burdharth, 35 years old, of 216 South Whipple street, Oak Park, who vanished Wednesday from Dr. Henry Lindlahr's sanitarium at 525 South Ashland avenue. The woman is said to be slightly demented.

The mother of Hiram Darris, 14 years old, 3300 Wrightwood avenue, asked the police to hunt for her boy.

George Winfield, 12 years old, 1146 South Western avenue, has been missing since Tuesday.

DEARBORN HEROES OFF ROLL

Mystery Veils Erasure of Names from Massacre Honor List.

HAYES AND RONAN MISSING.

Omission Not Discovered Until Orator Reads Roster to Public.

The names of Ensign Ronan and Sergt. Dennis Hayes, the only two officers of the garrison of Fort Dearborn who refused to surrender to the Indians and who died fighting for the women and children, were found erased from the roll of honor yesterday when the list was read at the memorial exercises at the massacre monument, Calumet avenue and East Eighteenth street. Deep mystery surrounds the mutilation of the list of names, which has been in the possession of the Chicago Historical society. An investigation is to be made.

The discovery was made in the midst of the impressive ceremonies. Many women and children were present, and delegations from the Illinois Equal Suffrage association, the Chicago Political Equality league, and the Seventh Ward Suffrage alliance.

Finds Heroes' Names Deleted.

Jerome J. Crowley, the principal speaker, started to read through the list of names of those who lost their lives in the Fort Dearborn massacre in 1812. When he had read the last name on the roll, he turned the sheets over nervously and scrutinized them again closely. Persons in the audience acquainted with the names of the characters in the old Chicago tragedy noticed the omission of Ensign Ronan and Sergt. Hayes. The speaker appealed to Miss Caroline McElvaine of the Chicago Historical society.

"The chief purpose of these memorial services," said Mr. Crowley, "was to commemorate the courageous part taken by Ensign Ronan and Sergt. Dennis Hayes. Where are their names? I can't find them."

Upon inspection of the list by Miss McElvaine it was discovered that some one had erased the names of the two men who refused to surrender and died fighting.

Object of Deed Inexplicable.

None of the members of the society was able to explain the mutilation, which will be made the object of a searching investigation. The possible object of the guilty person could not be fathomed by officers of the organization.

At the conclusion of the ceremonies, the "Niagara," restored flagship of Commodore Perry, came to anchor in the lake off Eighteenth street. Its escort, the gunboat Wolf of the massacre. After the salute the Niagara was towed northward on its trip back to Buffalo, N. Y.

Among the speakers were James Edgar Brown, whose subject was "Perry's victory," and Frank L. Logan, who spoke on "One Hundred Years of Peace."

The rain caused the lake front evening program of the "Perry Centennial" to be called off. Today's feature of the program will be the woman's sailing races in the inner harbor and the flight of Glenn Martin in his hydroaeroplane, with the parachute jump of Miss Tiny Broadwick.

MAN FOUND SLAIN BY BULLET; THREE HELD BY THE POLICE.

Love Affairs of Victim Investigated to Ascertain if the Deed Was Murder or Suicide.

Kazimer Macender was found dead with a bullet wound in his head by the owner of a rooming house at 1612 South Jefferson street. Mrs. Anna Pedwiak, who lives in the same house, said Macender had been drinking heavily and shot himself.

Mrs. Pedwiak, Mrs. Marie Daziak, and Frank Vadas are being held by the police pending an investigation.

The police are investigating the love affairs of Macender, which are thought to have played some part in his death. Miss Pedwiak was to have been married to the man Saturday. She said that she left the house to get a pail of beer and on her return found Macender dead.

The police are also looking for Mary Daziak, a daughter of Mrs. Marie Daziak, to whom Macender is said to have been attentive for some time. Vadas was found by the police searching the body. He said Mrs. Daziak had told him to look for some letters Macender was supposed to have had on him. He gave the police $1.50 which he had taken from Macender's pockets.

The body of a man believed to be W. H. Cauper of Hebron, Ind., was found dead with a bullet wound in the head in a room at the Princess hotel, 333 South Clark street. The police believe he committed suicide.

BIG FUND TO FIGHT ORDINANCE?

Health Commissioner Young Hears of $10,000 to Be Used in Attack on Theater Measure.

War to the finish against the owners of small theaters who have been fighting the ventilation ordinance was declared yesterday by Health Commissioner Young. Dr. Young declared that he has been informed of a fund of $10,000 raised to fight the ordinance.

DEATH RECALLS WEDDING SCARE

Mrs. J. Clinch-Smith Threatened by Rejected Suitor, Who Talked of Shooting.

ARMED GUARD AT CHURCH

Detectives Prevented Attack Previous to Ceremony, Which Was Not Interrupted.

The death of Mrs. James Clinch-Smith in Switzerland recalls a sensational incident in her Chicago life.

The incident was attendant upon her wedding, which took pace at Grace Episcopal church, Wabash avenue and Fifteenth street. It was the largest wedding of that season, more than 300 carriages taking guests to the church and to the residence of the bride's parents in Prairie avenue.

Bertha Barnes—Mrs. Clinch-Smith's maiden name—was one of Chicago's prettiest girls and she was a pianist of more than local celebrity. She had many suitors before she met Mr. Clinch-Smith, a member of one of New York's most widely known families.

When her engagement to Mr. Clinch-Smith was announced a discarded suitor sent word to Miss Barnes that the marriage would never take place. He threatened to shoot the bride and groom as they entered the church.

Detective Tells Story.

Detective Sergeant John C. Kehoe, one of the men detailed to guard the bridal couple, tells of the incident as follows:

"I was at the Cottage Grove avenue station at the time of the wedding, in 1896, I think," Kehoe said, "and I was in charge of several policemen detailed at the residence and church. It was an evening wedding and I remember there was a light fall of snow.

"When I reported for duty at the Barnes residence I was surprised to find several detectives there from a private agency. I was told they were on hand to prevent a discarded suitor from attacking the bride and groom.

"As I recall it Miss Barnes' father employed the sleuths. Two of them rode inside the carriage with the bridal couple from the residence to the church and a third was on the seat with the driver. All of them were armed.

"A few days before the wedding, I was told, a rejected suitor wrote a threatening letter to Miss Barnes.

"The fellow kept writing letters threatening to kill Miss Barnes unless she broke off the engagement with Mr. Clinch-Smith, and her parents, fearing for her safety, hired a detective to watch the house.

Hidden Behind Sofa.

"One evening about a week before the wedding the repulsed suitor went to the Barnes residence and demanded admittance. The detective told the Barnes family to let the persistent young Lochinvar enter. Concealing himself behind a sofa in the parlor, the detective was ready to spring to the side of Miss Barnes if needed.

"The fellow reiterated his threat to prevent the wedding, and he grabbed Miss Barnes by the wrist. She screamed, and this brought the detective from his hiding place. He sailed into the fellow, knocking him down three or four times, and ended by kicking him into the street. You could play checkers on the fellow's coat tail as he fled from the scene.

"On the night of the wedding the rejected suitor did not appear."

GIRL DIES IN DOCTOR'S OFFICE; FULL INVESTIGATION ORDERED.

Dr. Otis M. Walter and Dr. Charles L. West to Be Asked to Give Details of Tragedy Due to Illegal Operation.

An investigation is being made by the coroner's office into the death of Miss Emma Witt of 3506 Ogden avenue. She died in the office of Dr. Otis M. Walter, 4022 West Twenty-sixth street, Wednesday night, supposedly from an illegal operation.

The inquest was continued at St. Anthony's hospital yesterday afternoon until Aug. 26 after several witnesses had testified.

Miss Witt went to the physician's office at 7:15 o'clock Wednesday morning, according to information obtained by the police. Dr. Charles L. West, 3935 West Twenty-sixth street, administered chloroform, it is charged, under Dr. Walter's direction, then went to his own office.

Dr. West was called to Dr. Walter's office at 5:30 o'clock in the evening and found him working over the girl. She was hurried to St. Anthony's hospital on the advice of Dr. West, and physicians there said she was dead. When the girl's room was searched a letter from John Nakin, living on the north side, was found.

SAYS M'DERMOTT DEMANDED SPLIT

Always "Touching" McMichael for Part of N. A. M. Pay, Mulhall Asserts.

"BROKE" AT ALL TIMES.

Ex-Lobbyist Tells House Committee of Cash Relations with Representative.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—Resuming the witness stand before the house lobby investigating committee late today, Col. Martin M. Mulhall was cross examined on his relations with James T. McDermott, the representative of Chicago's stockyards district.

Under searching questioning by members of the committee Mulhall repeated his testimony that he paid $50 a month to I. H. McMichael, who was chief page of the house and confidential agent of McDermott.

For this pay McMichael furnished to the lobbyist for the National Association of Manufacturers secret information concerning the plans of the labor group of congress, whose confidence was extended to McDermott, an ostensible representative of organized labor.

Tried to Boost McMichael Pay.

"I tried on several occasions to get more pay for McMichael because he said he was always dividing with another party," testified Mulhall.

"Whom did he say he was dividing with?" a committee member inquired.

"The Hon. James T. McDermott," Mulhall replied. "McMichael said McDermott was always touching him for 'dough' and McDermott frequently asked me to have McMichael's pay raised in order that he (McDermott) might get more money from it."

Representative Stafford asked Mulhall concerning his charge that McMichael had listened to and reported private conversations on the floor of the house.

"Do you mean that he was eavesdropping?" Stafford asked.

"Well, I wouldn't put it just that way, but as a matter of fact, that is about what it amounted to."

Gold Mine of Information.

"But McMichael has sworn that he had never given you any such information; that it was beneath him to think of such a thing."

"O, as far as that goes, after I became friendly with McDermott it wasn't necessary for me to depend upon McMichael for confidential information," Mulhall replied. He then went on to tell of alleged confidences which McDermott had repeated to him following conversations with Representatives Rainey and Buchanan of Illinois and other members of the house.

"When did you get your first real help from McDermott?" Representative Ferriss asked.

"During the winter session of 1910."

"What did that help consist of?"

"Well, we were always getting a large number of documents from McMichael, and he always insisted he was giving them to us under orders from McDermott."

Refuses to Estimate Loans.

The committee attempted to learn about how much Mulhall had "loaned" McDermott. Mulhall refused to give an estimate, saying that he had loaned him amounts varying from 50 cents to $100.

"Besides," he said, "I always was the goat and paid the bills at the parties we had at Fritz Reuter's hotel here. Night after night I have paid the bill at 12 o'clock and left them there drunk. McDermott used to borrow on an average of $25 or $30 a week."

Mulhall repeated the incident when, he claimed, McDermott snatched a roll containing $34 from him.

"I had to borrow enough money to get back to Baltimore from a newsboy on that occasion," he said.

WAUKEGAN HAS A MYSTERY; HOYNE LEAVES POLICE LOCKUP

Cook County State's Attorney Subject of Puzzle After Long Stay Behind Doors of Station.

Waukegan, Ill., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—Mystery surrounds the capture of a man held in the city jail. For hours today Maclay Hoyne, Cook county's state's attorney, two Chicago detectives, and two assistant state's attorneys were at the local police station.

Hoyne and his aids left the police station by one of the rear doors. They did not visit in the reception room of the station.

Assistant Chief of Police Thomas Tyrrell denies he is holding a man prisoner upon complaint of the Chicagoans. However, it is known that State's Attorney Hoyne came to Waukegan Wednesday night and that since his arrival he spent a big percentage of his time behind the doors of the police station.

GREATER CHICAGO DEPENDS ON DOCKS

lighterage of freight on the river has only begun. The Chicago Junction railroad has one big lighter running under its own steam, which can transport fourteen loaded freight cars at a time, delivering the freight directly at the dock of the consignees when the proper unloading facilities exist. It has also in commission a smaller car ferry, pulled by a tug, which performs the same service.

A private lighterage company, with two self-propelled lighters in service daily, delivers about 400 tons of freight—chiefly in package form—to the docks of customers along the river.

The Erie railroad has just announced a new lighterage service which will start with three receiving and delivery stations. One will be at the junction of Market and Washington streets and the river; another at Erie street and the river, and the third at Webster avenue and the river. At the first station only carload lot freight will be received and delivered; at the other two there will be provision for both carload lot and package freight. In each case freight will be delivered at the dock of the consignee when proper landing facilities are provided.

THE advantage of lighterage delivery and receipt of freight to the shipper is that the whole expense of trucking is avoided; more than that, freight loaded directly into or out of a car is saved the damage resulting from an extra handling and from the wear and tear of being hauled over the streets.

The advantage to the people is that just to the extent that freight is handled by water the congested streets are relieved.

While the movement has just begun it may be expected that more and more property owners will see the advantage of providing concrete docks and other necessary conveniences for the direct delivery of freight along the river.

Nor does that tell the whole story. Chicago is not the only city in Illinois which is building a municipal harbor. Peoria has bought a site for a city harbor and freight barge terminal. Alton, on the Mississippi, has surveyed the location of a municipal sea wall, alongside which barges may tie up and deliver their cargoes directly into freight cars or into the hoppers of flour mills. Quincy, also on the big river, is planning to improve its slack water harbor.

Other downstate towns and cities are stirring. There are even signs of life along the ancient tadpole ditch of the Illinois and Michigan canal. Down in La Salle county 150 farmers have formed a cooperative company and built a grain elevator on the banks of the canal. Last fall they shipped their crops to Chicago in barges. Last fall also the first shipments, for a long time, of cement, clay, and sand, coal, and other bulky freight came to Chicago via canal and river in light draft barges, a whole fleet of them pulled by a single towboat.

FARMERS as far south along the Illinois river as Pekin and as far north as the Rock river, along the Hennepin canal, are beginning to wake up to the fact that freight barges offer a cheap and convenient way of shipping their produce. An elevator and grain shipping firm at Pekin has for some time had a fleet of steel barges in service, running them up the Illinois river and through the Hennepin canal to collect their cargoes and bringing them back to their docks, where the grain is quickly loaded into cars or elevators by machinery.

If the canals and waterways of the state are ever to compete with the railroads in the handling of freight it must be by utilising the comparatively new system of inexpensive and light draft steel or wooden barges, a number of which may be pulled by a single towboat, driven by either a gasoline or steam engine.

Hitherto the railroads have had the advantage, even in the season when navigation was open. They have sometimes lowered their rates in the summer time and raised them again when the ice formed. Rulings by the interstate commerce commission forbid this practice and also provide that where a railroad makes a rate along a waterway it must also make the same rate elsewhere. This would seem to assure the water shippers that they will enjoy whatever savings the barge lines may be able to offer them. And according to figures prepared by an expert employed by the Illinois and Michigan canal commissioners these savings should be large.

HERE, for instance, are the comparative railroad and water rates on grain from a number of downstate cities to the Chicago market:

From—	Miles to Chicago.	Cost of Send. One Ton by Rail.	Cost of Send. One Ton by Barge.
La Salle	98	$1.20	$0.19
Peoria	188	1.20	.34
Grafton	358	1.60	.72
Rock Island	185	1.60	.37
East St. Louis	401	1.60	.80
Cairo	592	2.00	1.18
Keokuk	307	2.00	.61
Paducah	638	2.40	1.28

All this means, if the commerce of Chicago is to enjoy the advantage which seems to be offered, if it is to handle the water borne traffic which the state is preparing to send, that the dockage facilities along the river must be vastly improved.

And in every movement of that kind the property owners will have the active encouragement and assistance of Commissioner of Public Works McGann, whose dream it is to see both banks of the Chicago river built up solidly with concrete docks.

CAMINETTI TRIAL NEXT WEEK; FOUR COUNTS IN INDICTMENT.

Lawyers Agree to Brief Delay in Prosecution of Diggs' Companion—Charges in Cases Similar.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 21.—F. Drew Caminetti, companion of Maury I. Diggs in the flight from Sacramento to Reno, Nev., with Marsha Warrington and Lola Norris, will face a jury next Tuesday in the same court room in which Diggs was convicted. Like Diggs, he will attempt to prove that the elopement episode did not render him amenable to punishment for violation of the Mann white slave act.

When the case of Caminetti was called today in the United States District court, Judge Van Fleet set it over for trial at the request of the government for a continuance.

Special Prosecutor Theodore Roche announced tonight the exact charges or counts of the indictment upon which the government will attempt to convict Caminetti. They are four in number—that he transported or assisted in the transportation from one state to another of Lola Norris for immoral purposes; that he transported or assisted in the transportation from one state to another of Marsha Warrington for an immoral purpose; that he induced and enticed Lola Norris to go to Reno for an immoral purpose, and that he induced and enticed Marsha Warrington to go to Reno for an immoral purpose.

Each count carries with it a maximum penalty of five years in a federal penitentiary and $5,000 fine, either or both.

SULZER SETS UP PLEA OF MARTYR

Sends Out Pamphlet Charging Tammany Is After Scalp for Graft Reasons.

CHIEFS FLOCK TO GLYNN.

Heads of Departments Turn to Acting Governor of the Empire State.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—Gov. Sulzer is adhering closely to his policy of vilifying Charles F. Murphy and Tammany hall in an effort to divert the attention of the people from the charges lodged against him by the Frawley committee. He is saying nothing personally, but, through his agents, particularly John A. Hennessy, who engineered the backfire on the Frawley committee, he is sending out literature extolling the efforts of Hennessy in uncovering alleged graft on state highways, canals, and in different state departments.

Title of Pamphlet.

"Highway robbery on state roads—the real reason why the bosses want to crucify Gov. Sulzer—millions of plunder by the state wide system controlled by thieving bosses through their creatures in public office," is the title of a pamphlet, written by John A. Hennessy, and mailed broadcast throughout the state today by the impeached governor.

Gov. Sulzer's "executive chamber" was deserted today, the first time since his inauguration, while the offices where Acting Gov. Glynn is carrying on his work were the Mecca of visitors and state department heads.

Refuses to Be Sworn.

Matthew J. Horgan, chief investigator of the Frawley committee, and who unearthed a large proportion of the evidence upon which Sulzer was impeached, refused today to be sworn before Commissioner John A. Hennessy, who is investigating Tammany controlled departments, on the ground that the commission of Hennessy expired with the impeachment of the governor, and that as a legislative officer he was not susceptible to subpœna or arrest.

SEE MUST SERVE HIS TERM.

"Absolute Life" Priest Denied Commutation of Sentence by Gov. Dunne.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 21.—Evelyn Arthur See, high priest of the "Absolute Life" cult in Chicago, who was sent to the penitentiary for the abduction of Mildred Bridges, must pay the penalty for his crime. Gov. Dunne today, upon recommendation of the state board of pardons, refused to commute See's sentence.

HUNT NEW MACHINE FACTS

Deneen and Aids Will Seek Evidence During Recess.

BUTTS TELLS OF RESULTS.

Chairman Says Aim Is Thorough Inquiry of Big Purchase.

Chairman Butts of the legislative committee investigating the million dollar voting machine deal had a final conference yesterday with Attorney Deneen regarding the procedure to be followed during the recess of the committee which adjourned on Wednesday until the last week in October.

The search for facts is to continue under the direction of Chairman Butts and Attorney Deneen and it is probable there will be a general reopening of the investigation when the legislators reconvene after the state fair.

Butts Tells of Results.

Chairman Butts issued the following:

"The committee has employed experts of high skill and character who have had wide previous experience in the examination of voting machines. Five weeks were occupied by these experts in the examination of voting machines at present in use in the city of Chicago, with a view of determining their mechanical efficiency and their practicability for use at elections in the city of Chicago. The results of their examinations have been demonstrated upon the voting machine in the presence of the committee and cannot be disputed.

"The contract between the city of Chicago and the Empire Voting Machine company, and, as far as possible, the incidents leading to its consummation, have been thoroughly investigated, and so far as the facts have been elicited have been presented to the public.

Some Witnesses Evade Inquiry.

"The investigation of this subject has led to an effort to obtain the testimony of witnesses who are residents of other states and who have knowledge regarding the inception of the negotiations for the contract by the Empire Voting Machine company. The committee has done everything in its power to secure and present this information to the committee and the public.

"The general assembly authorized and directed the committee to make an exhaustive investigation. The committee has endeavored so to do, and when it reconvenes the same policy will be pursued in the hope that when the labors of the committee shall have been concluded the public will be in possession of all facts relating to the voting machine and the voting machine contract, and we hope that the public will feel that the committee has done everything within its power to discharge the important duties imposed upon it by the general assembly.

"The members of the committee have served for seven weeks. They have received no compensation. The work of the committee has been of such a character as to prevent its members from attending to their private business. For this reason the committee has taken the present recess, but will resume its investigations in the latter part of October."

NEW MOOSE IDEA POLITICAL SECRET

Final Call for "Special Service," Nature of Which Is Not Yet Disclosed.

LETTER FROM ROOSEVELT

Chicago Progressives Hear of Hopi Indian Snake Dance; Fear Colonel Cannot Come.

Last call for special service to the Progressive national organization was sounded last night from the national Progressive headquarters in New York.

Over the signatures of Oscar S. Straus of New York, Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana, Senator Miles Poindexter of Washington, and John M. Parker of Louisiana, the summons was issued for volunteers to perform confidential duties to which they will be assigned.

By Sept. 1 it is expected by the national party leaders that the particular work under consideration will have headway in more than forty states.

New Idea In Politics.

"The committee," it is stated from the national headquarters, "has regretted the necessity of holding back the details of the true purpose of the Volunteers, but there have been reasons why this was deemed imperative. The success of the movement might have been imperiled by premature or only partial reports of the plan.

"It may be stated positively that the idea of this movement is unlike anything that has been done heretofore by political parties."

Final Call Is Issued.

The final call issued last night from New York follows:

The undersigned, with the sanction and approval of the national Progressive committee, recently issued a call for 1,000 loyal Progressives, from all states in the union, to join them in a special and highly important service to the party. We appreciate to the highest degree the splendid response that has come from all sections, and now issue this final call to round out and complete the organization.

If you are a true Progressive, willing to strike a blow for what you believe in, we invite you to join us, and we assure you that you will not be asked to do anything that will in any way interfere with your occupation or involve any sacrifice of time or money.

It will help us if you will state your occupation, but whatever that occupation may be, or wherever it may hold you or take you, you have it in your power by joining in this movement to give invaluable assistance to the national committee and the party. If you have this cause at heart we urge you to answer this call to the colors. Please address Volunteers' Department, Progressive National Committee, Room 1530, Forty-second street building, New York, N. Y.

Col. Roosevelt Expected.

Cook county Progressives announce their hopefulness that Theodore Roosevelt will attend the Progressive party birthday celebration at Riverview park on Aug. 30. The following letter was received yesterday by Charles J. Ryberg, chairman of the Progressive executive committee:

August 6, 1913.

In the Navajo Desert.

Dear Mr. Ryberg:

Your telegram of July 18 has just reached me, which shows how impossible it is to communicate while I am in this desert. I have no writing material even. I am sending this in by a Navajo runner. * * * It is utterly impossible to set a date when I can leave this country. I shall be as apt to reach Chicago in midweek as on Saturday. The day of the snake dance has not been announced yet. * * * I have the deepest feeling of gratitude to the Progressives of Chicago and the neighborhood. Always yours,

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

"With the dance and ceremony ending today," said Mr. Ryberg, "we figure Col. Roosevelt will have six days in which to get out of the desert and reach Chicago in time to attend the celebration."

Slit Skirt Race Electrifies Electrics.

A "slit skirt race" was a feature at the picnic of the Electric club yesterday at Shermerville. Mrs. L. C. Jones won the race with ease, leaving her more tightly bound competitors far behind. Miss Hester Bone borrowed her brother's jackknife and cut a six inch opening at the side of her gown. Miss Floria Forbich was also one of the racers. The tango contest was won by Mr. and Mrs. Homer Niecz, who carried off a coffee percolator as a prize. Miss Catherine Swearingen and William C. Miller were adjudged the handsomest couple on the grounds.

REPUBLICANS TIRED OUT BY LOSING TARIFF FIGHT.

Give Up Fruitless Opposition to Certain Extent and Rapid Progress Is Made on Bill.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—Republican senators gave evidence today of tiring over continued fruitless opposition to the tariff schedules, and rapid progress was made in consideration of the bill, the fight on free raw wool having been postponed until tomorrow.

The flax and silk schedules were approved as amended by the finance committee and Democratic caucus. Senators McCumber and Gronna ineffectually sought to transfer flax from the free to the dutiable list.

When the paper schedule is disposed of tomorrow Senator Simmons will call up the wool schedule, expecting a vote on free raw wool before adjournment for the day.

LORD STRATHCONA TO RESIGN.

Canadian High Commissioner May Be Succeeded by Former Minister of Interior.

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 21.—Lord Strathcona has signified his intention of resigning the post of Canadian high commissioner. He will retire early next year, when he will have reached his ninety-fourth year. He probably will be succeeded by Hon. Clifford Sifton, former Canadian minister of the interior.

PREPARE TO BLOW UP DIKE AND FLOOD PANAMA CANAL.

Barrier Between Miraflores Locks and Tidewater Awaits Destruction on Monday.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—Another important step toward final completion of the Panama canal will be taken next Monday, when preparations will be made to blow up the heavy earth dike, now the only barrier between the Miraflores locks and tidewater on the Pacific side, three miles away.

There will be nothing spectacular about the destruction of the dike. Its base will be perforated by a number of holes heavily charged with dynamite, then for five days fresh water from the Rio Grande diversion, one of the rivers in the canal zone, will be turned into the canal prism and when the water is near the level of the sea water on the other side the charge will be set off.

Two monster dredges, the Mole and the Corosal, are waiting to attack the debris, and it is expected two or three days will clear a channel through the dike sufficient to admit the dredges and vessels of ten or twelve feet draft as far as Miraflores locks. A month later a channel the full width of the canal prism and deep enough to pass a battleship will be completed.

After the destruction of the Miraflores dike there will remain only two such obstructions along the canal route, one at Gamboa, about one-third of the way through from the Atlantic, holding back the water from the Culebra cut, and one over which the railroad crosses at the Gatun locks.

BANDITS TRY TO ASSASSINATE ROUMANIAN KING AND QUEEN.

Chauffeur Speeds Up Automobile and Carries Charles and Carmen Sylva Out of Range of Bullets.

BUCHAREST, Aug. 21.—Revolver shots were fired by bandits today at King Charles and Queen Elizabeth (Carmen Sylva) of Roumania as they were riding in an automobile near Sinaia, a fashionable health resort in the Carpathian mountains. Neither of their majesties was injured. As soon as the bandits began firing the chauffeur speeded up his machine and succeeded in carrying the king and queen to safety.

MISSOURI UNIVERSITY SUES BENEFICIARIES OF PULITZER.

State College Brings Action to Get Part of Inheritance Tax Under Will of the Late Publisher.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 21.—The University of Missouri today filed suit in the Probate court here against certain philanthropic legacies, under the will of the late Joseph Pulitzer, owner of the New York World and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

One suit is for the payment of an inheritance tax of $14,450 on sums aggregating $292,000, which are set aside from the earnings of the Post-Dispatch for the Philharmonic society of New York, the Metropolitan Museum of Art of New York, and the Columbia university school of journalism.

The will also provides that each of these beneficiaries may get bequests not exceeding $500,000 from time to time, which are to be paid by the trustees of the Pulitzer estate. The university claims an inheritance tax on whatever sums are paid in the future under these bequests.

The University of Missouri also filed suit for an inheritance tax of $4,500 on bequests made to editors and managers of the Pulitzer papers.

The suits were filed under a statute which imposes a collateral inheritance tax of 5 per cent on all legacies except those bequeathed direct heirs of the maker of the will. Under the law the University of Missouri is beneficiary of this inheritance tax.

"LIFT CORN TARIFF," PLEA.

Kansas Farmers May Ask for Free Argentine Grain on Account of Drought.

Topeka, Kan., Aug. 21.—Kansas farmers and stockmen, owing to the effect of the drouth upon the corn crop, will ask the removal of the tariff duty on Argentine corn, so it may be imported and fed to Kansas stock, according to a statement tonight by George B. Ross, state grain inspector, who has just returned from a tour of inspection through southwestern Kansas.

He reported an estimate of one-tenth of a crop on the yield of corn in the district he visited.

No rain fell in Kansas today and the average temperature was above 100 degrees.

SULLIVAN DEAD; LEADER OF IRISH

Lawyer Succumbs to Blood Poisoning at St. Joseph's Hospital.

WAS FIGURE IN POLITICS.

Campaigned for Grant and Blaine; Mentioned in Cronin Case; Headed Land League.

Alexander Sullivan, a well known lawyer and a leader of the Irish in Chicago, died at St. Joseph's hospital yesterday from complications which followed blood poisoning.

Several days ago Mr. Sullivan became lame in one of his ankles. Investigation showed that blood poisoning had set in from an infection in his heel. The infection rapidly spread to his leg. Complications in the form of lung and kidney ailments set in and he became critically ill.

Although hope was expressed at the hospital that if Mr. Sullivan successfully passed the pneumonia crisis he would improve rapidly, the Rev. M. J. Dorney, pastor of St. Gabriel's church, remained all Wednesday night with the patient.

Efforts have been made to get into telegraphic communication with a brother, Eugene Sullivan, who lives in Canada. Mr. Sullivan's half-brother, Father Bush of the diocese of Pittsburgh, has already been notified.

Father British Army Officer.

Alexander Sullivan was born in 1847 at Waterville, Me. His father and mother were both Irish, the father being an officer in the British army.

The young man's first work was in a boot and shoe shop in Detroit. The boot and shoe business could not hold him, however, for he had a natural gift for public speaking, and was a politician before he was out of knickerbockers.

His first important political work was done in 1868, when he stumped the country for Grant. For this he was rewarded by being appointed collector of the internal revenue in New Mexico.

Mr. Sullivan came to Chicago in 1873 and went to work as a reporter on the old Chicago Times. There he met his wife, then Margaret Buchanan, an editorial writer on the newspaper.

After a year of reportorial work Mr. Sullivan was appointed secretary of the board of local improvements by Mayor Colvin. While in that position he studied law and subsequently was admitted to the bar.

The Hanford Incident.

In August of 1876 Mr. Sullivan figured in an incident that startled Chicago. His wife, who was teaching in the public schools, had been insulted, as he believed, in a letter which Francis Hanford, principal of the North Division High school, had written about her. Sullivan called on Hanford to demand an explanation. The meeting resulted in Sullivan shooting Hanford dead. He was twice tried. At the first trial the jury disagreed; at the second he was acquitted.

During all of this time Mr. Sullivan had been an active spirit in Irish politics in this country. In 1883 he was elected president of the Irish Land League of America.

Campaigns for James G. Blaine.

In 1884 he took the stump for James G. Blaine and did such effective work that he was discussed as a candidate with Blaine for vice president.

In 1889 Mr. Sullivan was one of the so-called "triangle" in the Clan-na-Gael which was brought into the general dispute over the murder of Dr. P. H. Cronin in Chicago.

Some years ago Mrs. Sullivan died. Her husband's grief for her was great and he went into retirement. Of late years little has been heard of him though he still continued on terms of close intimacy with many friend who visited him at his rooms at the Illinois Athletic club.

Friends Pay Tribute.

Prominent Chicagoans paid tribute to Mr. Sullivan's memory after the news of his death became known.

"He was a man of polish, self-control, and the most infinite good humor," said James O'Shaughnessy, founder of the Irish Fellowship club, of which the decedent was a member. "He was a great orator, driving his points forcibly home, and interruption of heckling only seemed to give him renewed strength."

"He was a student in my law office," said Judge Thomas G. Windes. "He began practice in 1878 and a year later became my partner. We were in partnership until I was chosen to a bench in the Circuit court in 1892."

"All of the decedent's activities in the Irish cause were confined to this country," said Father Dorney. "He was looked upon as a ruling factor here in Irish societies and was in the vanguard of the Irish National League of America. Charles Stewart Parnell and John E. Redmond always communicated with him before they took any steps in the Irish cause in the United States."

The funeral services will be held this morning at Holy Name cathedral. Interment will be made at Mount Elliott cemetery, Detroit.

OWENS ACTS ON JUSTICES

Will Clear Up Suburban Scandals Within Week, Judge Says.

THOMPKINS HANGS TO SEAT.

Defeated Magistrate Declines to Recognize Successor.

County Judge Owens yesterday announced he would have the Niles, Norwood Park, and Oak Park justice court cases disposed of within a week. He has instructed Assistant County Attorney Adams to cite the men concerned at the earliest date possible.

Relative to the Oak Park incident, wherein Alfred Roy Hulbert, newly elected justice, complains he has never been able to take his seat because Alfred L. Thompkins, the ousted justice, has refused to relinquish the court dockets, Judge Owens stated he would cite Thompkins, compel him to abdicate the bench and to turn over the dockets to the rightful holder of the office.

Hulbert Elected in April.

Hulbert was regularly elected justice of the peace in Oak Park at the election in April. He states he has repeatedly requested Thompkins to leave the bench and allow him to take his office, but that even the county clerk's order failed to disturb Thompkins. The result was that he complained to the county court. Judge Owens said he would curb Thompkins' stubbornness by a court order.

Hennings Cannot Be Found.

It developed during the day that Noah J. Hennings, justice of the peace in Norwood Park, who was charged with running a liquor license bureau in dry territory, had disappeared. Judge Owens said he had caused subpœnas to be issued for Hennings and that they are now in the sheriff's hands.

The case against Frank Korlocvsky, justice of the peace in Niles, who was charged with undue activities in the prosecution of motorists, will come before the County court during the early part of next week.

KELLY COMES OUT FOR COUNTY JUDGE

Third Warder Opens His Campaign for Democratic Nomination.

OWENS WILL MAKE FIGHT

Townsend Probably Will Get Support of Sullivan in Treasurership Aspirations.

James J. Kelly of the Third ward opened his campaign last night for the Democratic nomination for county judge, with a round-up of his friends through the Second and Third congressional districts. Formal announcement of his candidacy, it was learned, will be made next week.

Mr. Kelly's activity, following closely upon the authoritative statement that James J. Townsend of the north side territory is to be a candidate for county treasurer, gave plenty of indication to the Democratic leaders that the campaign for the county jobs is "on" absolutely and that the primary fight cannot longer be kept under cover.

H.-H. Crowd to Back Owens.

The leaders expect that the announcement will be forthcoming without delay that County Judge John E. Owens will be a candidate for reelection, with the open support, naturally, of the Hearst-Harrison wing.

Undoubtedly, as the Democrats understand the situation, James J. Townsend will be the Sullivan organization candidate for county treasurer. The favored possibilities for sheriff and for county clerk have not yet been trotted out.

Madden to Have no Opposition.

Congressman Madden, according to the program, is to have no opposition in the Republican primaries for renomination.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 22, 1913.

AGREE AND PUT IT THROUGH.

Senator Owen's intelligent attitude toward currency legislation seems to have been badly misinterpreted at Washington. So far as he was explicitly reported there was no reason for the alarmist conclusions that he had deserted the administration bill or that hope of its passage had been destroyed by his alleged change of attitude. THE TRIBUNE, therefore, withheld comment until Senator Owen could comment himself upon the rumpus made over his sensible remarks to his committee.

What Senator Owen in fact said seems in effect to have been merely that the measure which he introduced in the senate, and which bears his name and that of Representative Glass, was as first formulated tentative and was expected to be amended under criticism. As a matter of fact, it has been amended and, in the opinion of experts, greatly improved. Senator Owen merely indicated that process of modification was not yet ended, and that his colleagues in the senate committee would be given opportunity to improve the measure.

In other words, Senator Owen has deserted neither the bill nor the administration, the administration has not thrown over the bill nor the expectation of passing it after further wise amendment, and there is reason for encouragement, not despair, in the situation.

The Owen-Glass bill as it stands today with the amendments thus far accepted is a strong measure, on well considered lines, but with some weak spots, from a practical point of view, which there is good reason to believe will be removed.

One of these weak spots Senator Owen evidently referred to on Tuesday and was misunderstood. His remarks about the regional reserve plan probably did not mean that he repudiated the reserve system or even the regional plan, but that upon further investigation he found that the arbitrary requirement of twelve banks could not be complied with. This point was raised by Mr. John V. Farwell and the committee of the National Citizens' league, which suggested five instead of twelve regions, or at least a provision for not less than three nor more than twelve.

Senator Owen's statement that there was doubt as to the constitutional right to force the banks into the system is far from startling or novel, but rather has been understood from the beginning outside of Washington, at least. It is, in fact, an understatement. The most important truth of the whole tactical situation governing the currency problem at this time is that the banks cannot be coerced by any measures which would not produce a condition of affairs very injurious, if not disastrous, to the country, to say nothing of the administration and its party.

On the other hand, it is incumbent upon the bankers of the nation to deal with the problems of the bill not from the point of view of immediate selfish interest but as patriotic citizens, whose interest is in the general welfare of the country. In this spirit they ought to coöperate with the administration, avoiding the magnification of differences, and realizing that if we are to have legislation correcting the present abominable conditions, if we are to have it now or at any other time, it will have to be a compromise, and that the principle of reasonable public regulation must be accepted.

The Owen-Glass bill, as amended now, is conceded to offer a great improvement on present conditions. If it is defeated because the bankers magnify the dangers of "partisan control" of the central reserve board and make demands which raise once more the issue of financial centralization, they will incur a heavy responsibility, impair their present and future influence as a class, and precipitate the very difficulties they would avoid.

As a check upon the politically appointed reserve board, an advisory council elected by the bankers of all sections has been adopted. It may be the law should provide that in certain circumstances or upon certain broadly important questions the assent of a majority of the advisory council shall be necessary. But the consideration of such checks should be undertaken both by the bankers and the makers of the bill in a spirit of coöperation, with the firm intention of coming to a friendly agreement and of putting the Owen-Glass bill through at this session.

THE NEW PHILIPPINE GOVERNOR.

The appointment as governor general of the Philippines of Representative Francis Burton Harrison of New York augurs better than was feared of a Democratic administration. Mr. Harrison's public life has indicated courage, independence, and ability. He has shown no signs of being a theorist, and this is important, for when he goes to his post he will have need for looking facts in the face which do not accord with Democratic platform policy nor square with Mr. Bryan's amiable parochialism. The Philippine peoples are not the people for whom Mr. Bryan's political saint generalized, and Mr. Harrison, we believe, will soon find that out.

We also believe he has the political instinct—speaking in the highest sense—and the courage to draw his own conclusions. The Evening Post describes him as "of the type England is fond of sending on such commissions," and likens him to former Governor General W. Cameron Forbes. May his career be as creditable to himself and to his party and as sincerely serviceable to the Philippines.

THE NATION IS BEHIND THE PRESIDENT.

The jingo resolution of the Hon. Boise Penrose had at least one good effect, that of bringing the leaders of the senate, regardless of party, promptly to the support of the president.

It is to be hoped this action will be interpreted correctly at Mexico. Mr. Penrose's burst of hectic patriotism will be understood by the American public as an attempt to wrap the flag around a somewhat punctured prestige, but the suppression of Penrose and the exhibition of nonpartisanship in the senate should not be misread to mean that if military measures are forced upon us there will be any hesitancy in the White House or the capitol to provide and support them amply. As Senator Kern said in the debate: "I think the Mexican people should know that in a threatening situation like this the American people stand together like a stone wall."

This was in obvious reference to a report that Huerta is laboring under the delusion that President Wilson has not the support of the American people in his official action respecting Mexico.

This notion is natural to a Mexican politician. President Wilson is a minority president, elected because of a split in the powerful party whose control of government had been only twice shaken in half a century. It is hard for a Latin American politician to realize that when an election is held the defeated accept its result loyally and respect the authority of the duly elected, to realize that the orderly process of real constitutional government is based on this loyalty, and that Woodrow Wilson is today not head of a faction but head of the American people.

If more Latin-Americans could understand this there would be fewer revolutions and more modern progress in their domain. If Huerta and his associates could understand this there would be less danger of our being compelled to intervene.

PULLING UP MISSOURI.

Fifty thousand Missourians gave a rousing example of public spirit on Wednesday by getting out in the heat to "pull Missouri out of the mud." There isn't much mud in Missouri this season, but there will be, as there will be in Illinois, and these good citizens determined to make a start on a good roads crusade by a demonstration of democratic muscle.

The spirit of the effort was admirable, and so dramatic an exposition of the people's will to have good roads should benefit the cause. It recalls the old fashioned individualism of pioneer days and reminds us that it is still with us.

But it also reminds us that there are better ways to pull Missouri or Illinois out of the mud. The best roads, most efficiently and economically maintained, are in Massachusetts, and the secret is not amateur roadmaking, but scientific. The spirit that turned Missourians out on Wednesday has worked in Massachusetts and other good roads states to compel legislative action and to develop and maintain a system of roadmaking which is the pride not only of those states but of the country.

Illinois at last is making a start on systematic roadmaking. The Mississippi valley states have a sorry record in this line of public improvement. But the automobile is bringing a change.

MILLIONS for peace—but they don't seem to be cutting much ice!—Andrew Carnegie.

VOTING machine politics, when subjected to critical analysis, would seem to be very much like any other kind of machine politics.

HEREUPON Senator Penrose jumps into the arena as the champion of Uncle Sam in this Mexican muss. Stand back and give him air!

PROBABLY Harry Thaw can boast of being Not Wanted by more states than any other man now before the public.

"GENERALLY fair, except possibly local thunder showers." While preserving the spirit of this generally accurate prediction, the weather man might vary the form of it once in awhile.

PERHAPS Harry Thawed out.—Gary Tribune.

And perhaps it served him right that the Canadian authorities afterward froze to him, you ribald jester!

IN A MINOR KEY.

Behold the Result.

At last the revered Essepost had got the language worked over to suit even the Essepost. Observe the happy effect, as shown in an extract from a story selected at random from its columns:

BOTHSIDES HEARDFROM.

They stood on the loftybanks of the Hudsonriver. The settingsun threw a mellowglow over the majesticlandscape. It was in the gloriousmonth of October1914.

The youngman was a lieutenantcolonel in the statemilitia. The youngwoman was the unmarrieddaughter of a Unitedstatessenator.

"Atallevents, Euphorbia," he said, a genialsmile lightingup his suntannedface, "there are twoways of lookingat suchquestions."

"I hopeso, dearfriend," she answered, with playfulbadinage, "for I have justordered anotherpair of goldrimmedspectacles."

(Andsoforth.)

Past Finding Out.

"Pardon me for asking the question," said the inquisitive passenger, "but what do those embroidered bars on your coatsleeve signify?"

"Each one of them," answered the conductor, "means that I have been five years in the service of this railroad."

"Then you've been traveling on this line twenty-five years?"

"Nearly thirty."

"And you're still alive! Great Cæsar! It's miraculous!"

[On mature deliberation it has been decided to suppress the name of the railway, leaving the reader—if such person there be—free to guess it for himself.]

How to Keep Well. By Dr. W. A. Evans.

HEALTH IS WEALTH

Questions pertinent to hygiene, sanitation, and prevention of disease, if matters of general interest, will be answered in this column. Where space will not permit or the subject is not suitable, letters will be personally answered, subject to proper limitations and where a stamped, addressed envelope is inclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases. Requests for such service cannot be answered.

BABY SAVING POLICY.

THE latest English reports are to the effect that the baby death rate for England last year was pushed down to 95. As between a baby saving policy and a policy of letting the baby wiggle out the best way he can the figures show plainly that the baby saving policy is a winner even in the country districts.

A part of the baby saving policy is to get the sick babies attended to promptly. A group of scientists in the Philippines found that animals, starved to the bone, when young, will be runted for life. Furthermore it is the experience of every one who has had much trouble with babies that diarrhœas, once well established, are hard to cure.

All of this being true, why is it that mothers allow bowel trouble in their babies to continue so long?

One reason is that so many get well by themselves after a few days. The other is that treatment has not been successful enough to satisfy fully. The mothers want a better treatment than the doctors now offer.

A number of years ago, when Flexner picked up the Japanese idea that the Shiga bacillus was the cause of summer complaint and built up a serum treatment on that idea, the mothers took heart. The babies with diarrhœa became easily get-atable. Then that treatment was not talked of any more and the mothers went back to the old policy of trusting to nature.

Now Dr. Clock, a physician of standing in New York, comes forward with the recommendation that babies suffering from diarrhœa be treated by the implantation of Bulgarian lactic bacilli in their intestines. To implant the bacilli a large number of tablets, sometimes as many as forty a day, are given a young baby.

The plan is to have this germ grow and multiply in the babies' intestines and to kill out those germs already there causing the sickness or contributing to it. The babies, when flooded with these bacilli, can take and digest milk. Milk is a much better food for babies than barley water, if it is being digested. Of course, if it is not being digested, it is worse than any other food.

Clock has been treating babies on this plan for several years. Last summer he cared for 117 in the New York babies' hospital. One died, the rest got well—a fine result for sick babies in a hospital.

They not only got well but they got well quickly. The bad symptoms disappeared within a few days. They got well without running down to skin and bones, as babies with summer diarrhœa so frequently do. Who has not had his heart touched by the weazened, old, downcovered features of a baby sick with summer complaint!

Finally, when the 116 were looked up last winter it was found that they had kept in good health and were growing well. Their resistance had not been lowered, their frames had not been runted by a long summer sickness.

NO THEORY YET PROVED.

Mrs. L. C. C. writes: I am spending the summer in northern Georgia and hear much of the terrible disease, pellagra, and of its rapid increase. Indeed, if the reports be credited there have been already 100,000 cases, 30,000 of whom died, and the doom of the others is certain, as it is pronounced incurable. The cause of the disease is a mystery, it is said. The general opinion is, I believe, that it is caused by the use of moldy cornmeal. If you have an opinion on the subject, kindly express it.

REPLY.

The corn theory has more adherents than any other. At the same time not enough is known about the disease for any one to have confidence in any theory. If I lived in Georgia I would see to it that I ate only fresh, clean, bulk cornmeal. As meal gets old it sours. The acidity can be tested.

THEORY IS WRONG.

T. J. S. writes: One often hears it said that people living in the pine and cedar woods, and breathing the air there are mostly free from throat and lung trouble. With that idea some persons sleep on pillows of pine needles.

1. Is there any virtue in this?
2. If so what chemical could be obtained from a druggist to be used for the same result as an odorant?

REPLY.

1. No.
2. Bits of pine and cedar can be had from any chemical house or drug store.

MILD CLIMATE NEEDED.

J. A. W. writes: A lady, aged 70, has been troubled for three or more years with coughing spells at night and sometimes during the day, raising a slimy mucus, which, when examined, indicated no consumption, the doctor stated. He calls it bronchitis. Will such affect the lungs? Can bronchitis be cured? If so, where? The same lady also has an inward goitre of small size. Would it produce coughing spells, as above? Can it be cured? If so, where? The coughing, when started, lasts quite a while and completely tires her out. It is more noticeable in winter than in summer. Please express your candid opinion.

REPLY.

Chronic bronchitis in an old woman may not be due to consumption. Such a bronchitis may bring on a bronchial asthma, make the person short winded, or some other inconveniencing condition. If you can find a cause for the bronchitis and remove it, you will get well. If it is due to a change in heart or kidney, or blood vessels, due to age, you probably will not get well. A milder climate—the south or California—will help you if you can be comfortable and happy away. Goitre occasionally causes coughing through pressure. In a person of 70 it is rarely advisable to be operated on for goitre.

WASSERMAN TEST COST.

G. S. writes: "Will you kindly inform me what is the usual charge for a Wasserman test? Also if there is a dispensary in the city where a test may be procured free of charge?"

REPLY.

1. Five dollars to $10.
2. The city laboratory may make the test for you it was thought necessary.

LA MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

[Copyright: 1913: By the Brentwood Company.]

KING GEORGE has just bestowed a commission in the army upon young Viscount Clive, who has lately graduated from the royal military college at Sandhurst, and who will attain his majority at the beginning of next December.

He is the eldest son of the Earl of Powis and the fifth in direct male descent from the celebrated Lord Clive, the victor of the battle of Plassey, and to whom more than any one else Great Britain is indebted for the possession of its huge empire of India.

Young Lord Clive was born at 45 Berkeley square, in London, the town mansion of his famous ancestor, and which remains the metropolitan residence of Lord Powis to this day.

The victor of Plassey, a battle in which, with 3,000 men, he defeated the ruler of Bengal at the head of an army of 70,000 men, and thus avenged the atrocities of the Black Hole of Calcutta, made his country seat at Claremont, which he built for himself at the cost of $500,000. It has long since passed into the possession of the reigning family; was used by Queen Victoria for her honeymoon; was afterwards lent by her to King Louis Philippe and Queen Marie Amelie after they had been driven out of France by the Paris revolution of 1848, and is now the home of the widowed Duchess of Albany. But Lord Clive's arms still appear on the pediment of the Corinthian columns which constitute a feature of the façade of Claremont.

Stately as it is, it is inferior in grandeur and in interest to Powis castle, the principal country seat of the Earl of Powis, and to the possession of which young Lord Clive will eventually succeed.

It is the castle of "Garde Doloureuse" of Sir Walter Scott's novel, "Betrothed."

In ancient times it was known as the Red castle, being built of red sandstone, and afterwards as Poole castle. Its connection with the family of the earl is of great antiquity.

It was originally the seat of Owen ap Griffith, the last Welsh sovereign prince of Powis Wenwyrwyn.

The prince's descendants having become extinct in the male line, the castle passed through the distaff side of the house to the Herberts, a junior branch of the family of which Lord Pembroke is the chief.

There were Herbert Earls of Powis, also, Marquesses of Powis, and even a Duke of Powis, who played a great rôle at the court of St. Germain after the deposition and exile of James II.

The great Lord Clive's son married the only sister and sole heiress of the last of the Herbert Lords of Powis, and, on becoming through this union the owner of Powis castle and of all the landed property connected therewith, was created Earl of Powis of the present creation.

The late Earl of Powis was a somewhat eccentric individual, and his entire life may be said to have been overshadowed by the fact that he accidentally killed his father, the second earl, while out shooting.

He was not on particularly good terms with his nephew, the present earl, and when the latter, as George Herbert, married the famous beauty, Miss Violet Lane Fox, they had extremely little on which to live. In fact, their circumstances were extremely straitened.

Before many months had passed, however, the earl suddenly died, and the young couple found themselves in possession of a large fortune.

The late earl had a passion for hoarding things in out of the way places, and most amusing stories were told of the extraordinary discoveries of hidden treasure made by Lord and Lady Powis when they first took possession of Powis castle after the old peer's death.

Rooms that had been unopened for half a century or more were investigated and many precious things, in the shape of old plate, superb jewels, and valuable paintings, of the existence of which no one had had the slightest idea, were brought to light.

Lady Powis to this day remains an extremely beautiful woman. She is as fair as the lily, with golden hair, a smiling face, and a perfect figure.

Prior to her marriage she was subjected to the most extraordinary persecution on the part of an individual of the name of Randall, a gentleman by birth, though not by breeding, who fell violently in love with her.

She was unable to move out of the house without being annoyed by his persistent and unwelcome attentions, and so importunate did he become that her mother, Lady Conyers, was repeatedly forced to invoke the assistance of the police and cause his arrest.

He suffered no less than three different terms of imprisonment with hard labor for thus offending, and, when last charged with the offense was let go solely on the condition and the pledge that he would expatriate himself.

Lady Powis, besides being a peeress of the realm through her marriage with the earl, is likewise a peeress in her own right, as the holder of the ancient barony of Darcy de Knayth.

This peerage, created on Jan. 27, 1331, has, thanks to its descent through the female line, been held in turn by the Lords Conyers, by the Earls of Holdernesse, by the Dukes of Leeds, and by the Lane Foxes.

On the death of Sackville Lane Fox, twelfth Lord Conyers and fifteenth Lord Darcy de Knayth, his peerage fell into abeyance, which was terminated by the crown in the following fashion:

The baronies of Conyers and of Fauconberg were assigned to his elder daughter, wife of the fourth Earl of Yarborough, while his barony of Darcy de Knayth was allotted to his younger daughter, Violet, Countess of Powis.

Several English works of reference state that on Lady Powis' death her barony will go to her only daughter instead of to her eldest son.

This is not the case. It is her eldest son, young Lord Clive, future Earl of Powis, who will on his mother's death at once succeed to her peerage as Lord Darcy de Knayth and to the seat in the house of lords which it carries with it, even though his father be still alive.

Powis castle is no longer haunted. Its ghost has been laid.

It took the form of an aged man in the costume of the seventeenth century, who used to appear at the bedside of the inmates of the castle and to beckon them to follow him.

One night he appeared at the bedside of the old family butler, who, being more strong minded than those who had already been subjected to the visitations of the spook, arose and followed. He was led to a remote portion of the castle, where the ghost pointed to a spot on the stone flagging and then vanished.

On the following morning the butler, who had taken note of the place, summoned to his assistance the head gardener, and, prying up one of the flagstones and digging down a little, came upon an ancient looking iron box.

Before it was removed Lord Powis was notified. By his direction it was taken to the library and there opened.

It contained a number of documents, all carefully tied with red tape. What the documents were has never been definitely stated, but they are supposed to have been the long missing title deeds to certain tracts of land and estates.

That they were valuable to the owners of Powis castle is best shown by the fact that the two servants, the butler and the gardener, were handsomely pensioned for life. The ghost has never been seen since.

AUGUST.

[From the Old Librarian's Almanack.]

Comes now great August & the Dog Star burns.
From sultry heat without the Scholar turns
To where his Books in well-appointed rows
Assure true Solace, & the Mind's repose.
Scan well your Books and heed the warning Glass
That marks the flying hours as they pass.
Let no intruder interrupt your toil,
And no base volume your collection spoil.

BEGINNING Sept. 1, state convicts will be employed on the public roads of Illinois. This will be good for the roads, and as good as golf for the convicts, as the work will "take them out in the open air." And it is a more pleasing sight to watch a man mending a road than to watch a dub golfer ruining the turf on a fairgreen.

The Exonerating of "Quentin."

Sir: "Quentin" of the Minneapolis Tribune has been ill for two months and her space in the paper has been filled by a column captioned "Foolery and Funniment—Culled from the Press." It is true that credit is not given to "The Chicago Tribune" nor to any other newspaper for the squibs published therein. It is not essential that credit should be given under the head used. As you have done "Quentin" an injustice in publishing attached statement, I hope you will make public admission of the injustice.

LIVE OAK IS RIGHT.

[From the Jacksonville, Fla., Metropolis.]

On Wednesday night at 8 o'clock, a crowd of Live Oak's most popular young people gathered at the home of Miss Elsie Haile, where they had a delightful surprise party. Miss Haile took them all to the moving picture show and the drug store. They departed at 11 o'clock, all having enjoyed the evening.

THE DELECTABLE RIVER.

III.—Smudge.

"This," you say, as you step from the canoe and help to fling the cargo ashore, "this looks like good camping ground."

The place is more open than is usual, comparatively level, and a dozen feet above the river, which, brawling over a ledge, spreads into an attractive pool. The place also faces the west, where there is promise of a fine sunset; a number of large birches are in sight, and an abundance of balsam. "And," you remark, stooping to untie the tent-bag, "there are not many flies."

Instantly a mosquito sings in your ear, and as you still his song you recall a recent statement by the scientist Klein, that an insect's wings flap four hundred times in a second. The mind does not readily grasp so rapid a motion, but you accept the figures on trust, as you accept the distances of interstellar spaces.

Very soon you discover that you were in error about the fewness of the flies. They are all there—mosquitoes, black-flies, deer-flies, and punkies, besides other species strictly vegetarian. So you drop the tent-bag and build a smudge. Experience has taught you to make a small but hot fire, and when this is well under way you kick open a rotted, moss-grown cedar and scoop up handfuls of damp mould. This, piled on and banked around the fire, provides a smudge that is continuous and effective. We built smudges morning, noon, and night. Whenever a halt was called, if only for five minutes, I reached mechanically for a strip of birchbark and a handful of twigs. At one camping place the ring of smudges suggested the magic fire circle in "Die Walküre." Brunhilde lay in her tent, in a reek of smoke, while Wotan, in no humor for song, heaped vegetable tinder upon the defending fires. More than once the darkening forest and the steel-gray sky of a Canadian twilight have set me humming the motives of "The Ring," and I shall always remember a pretty picture in an earlier cruise. "Jess" was a stable boy who drove our team to the point where roads ceased, and during a halt in the expedition this exuberant youth reclined upon a log, and with a pipe fashioned from a reed sought to imitate responsively the song of the white-throated sparrow. He looked for all the world like Siegfried in his forest.

"Smudge." It is not a poetic word—mere mention of it would distress Mr. Yeats; but it is potent as "Sesame" to unlock the treasures of memory. And before the laggard Spring comes round again many of us will sigh for a whiff of yellow, acrid smoke, curling from a smoldering fire in the heart of the enchanted wood.

BARRING the items requesting Huerta to resign, to fix a date for an election, and to keep out of it, the proposals of the Washington government were extremely flattering to the President of Mexico. Undoubtedly he has had them framed and hung over his desk beside the motto, "Do it now!"

ACCORDING to Dr. W. F. Goss, smoke and dust are the result of the city's great progress, and to check these nuisances would be to check enterprise. He might also mention dirty streets, hideous billboards, Bedlam noises, and other signs of civic greatness. To do away with these were to check enterprise.

THE DEGRADATION OF A STATE.

[From the New York Tribune.]

The Friend of the People.

VARIOUS IMPROVEMENTS.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Kindly inform me why Hood avenue, from Evanston avenue to Southport avenue, is not paved and what the cause of the delay is. Is there to be a new sewer in said street? If so, when is that to be put in? Why is Evanston avenue, from Foster avenue north to Devon avenue, not paved and improved? What is the cause of the delay in that important and very necessary improvement?

E. H. KOENIG, 1265 Hood avenue.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Kindly tell me if the sewer will be placed in North Forty-eighth avenue, between Roscoe street and Belmont avenue, this fall. JNO. OFFENLOCH.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Is there any likelihood of a sewer being laid in State street, between Ninety-second and Ninety-fifth streets, in the near future? A. MARTIN MEREDITH, 2338 Dearborn street.

The proceedings for paving Hood avenue from Evanston to Southport avenue and for paving Evanston avenue from Thorndale to Devon are being held up until the matter of the sewer has been disposed of.

We have case pending on calendar 206 in the County court, under docket No. 35,952, for system of sewers which includes Hood avenue from Evanston to Southport and Evanston avenue from Thorndale to Granville, etc., and, as above stated, until this is disposed of nothing can be done in the way of paving the streets.

The sewer in North Forty-eighth avenue, from Belmont avenue to Roscoe street, will be built next fall. The Ryan company is the contractor for this work. The assessment will be in collection next January, under warrant No. 40,660.

Contract has been let for sewer in South State street, between Ninety-second and Ninety-fifth streets, to George Pontorelli, and the work will go in next fall. EDWARD J. GLACKIN, Secretary.

NO CENTRAL PARK AVENUE LINE.

Chicago, Aug. 20.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Kindly inform me if it is true that the City Railway company is going to run a car line on Central Park avenue, and if so, how far will it extend?

B. KATZIN, 1131 South Halsted street.

There is no present plan for this extension.

A TRANSFER DISPUTE.

Chicago, Aug. 19.—[To the Friend of the People.]—A friend of mine and I take a through route No. 11 car every evening, traveling east on Ogden avenue and thence north on Clark street, via Madison street. My friend transfers, or rather has been transferring, west on North avenue, going west to Halsted street. A few nights ago his transfer was refused owing to the fact that it was punched "east" by the conductor on the Ogden avenue car, and he therefore cannot travel in the opposite direction on same.

I contend that the transfer should be punched northeast, because Ogden avenue runs in that direction, and, moreover, Clark street runs north. Conductor further claims that the party should transfer at Halsted and Madison streets, going north on Halsted, a feat which is next to impossible. L. J. E.

If this party boarded a through route 11 car west of Twelfth street on Ogden avenue, eastbound, he should receive a transfer punched "East," and if he stayed on that car to Clark street and North avenue he would not be entitled to ride west.

He should have transferred on Halsted street or some other north and south line west of that street if he wanted to go to a point between Halsted and Clark street on North avenue. Even if the transfer had been punched "North" and "East," as the writer suggests, he would not be entitled to go west. CHICAGO RAILWAYS COMPANY.

ANNOYED BY A WHISTLE.

Chicago, Aug. 18.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Is there a law that forbids a factory from blowing its whistle beyond a limited time? By that I mean the length of time each time it is blown. This whistle is blown five times a day, and the length of time it blows is tremendous. The factory has a new engineer, and we have complained to him, and he in turn, seems to be spiteful and blows it so long that it is nerve racking, especially at 8 a. m. and 1 p. m. HEIGHT REQUIREMENTS AND CIVIL SERVICE.

Evanston, Ill., Aug. 20.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I beg the privilege of space in your columns to call the public's attention to another instance of the quibbling over trifles by the civil service commission. I have reference to the height exaction as it affects applicants for the position of post-office clerk.

No matter how intellectually prepared to cope with the test, or to perform the tasks imposed by the office, no matter how physically fit to undertake its toil, should the candidate lack so little as one-half inch of the 5 feet 4 inches required by the commission he is politely, yet none the less positively, refused entrance to examination.

I am one of the sufferers through this ultra stringent law of the commission, having on Aug. 6 been refused examination on no more serious grounds than my lack of one-half inch in height.

I have been informed by men in the service that the reason for this height regulation is that the men "working cases"—sorting mail by placing it in a pigeon holed rack—will be able to reach each pigeon hole or compartment with comparative ease. By this, then, we see that it is not a man's height, so much as his reach, that should concern the commission, two vastly different propositions. The extent of a man's reach is no more absolutely dependent on height than is strength, or my contention would be useless and unreasonable.

LIP READING FOR THE DEAF.

Chicago, Aug. 19.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Could you inform me whether there are any schools for the teaching of lip reading for the deaf in Chicago? M. K. B.

AN EXAMPLE AND A WARNING.

Chicago, Aug. 20.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—In view of the selfish action of the Pennsylvania railway in Philadelphia, where that corporation, through city officials and other forces, was enabled to prevent practically all other railways from properly entering that city and fully participating in her vast commerce for a period of more than thirty years, and from which monopoly it has just been summarily ousted—in view of such selfish work, what may not Chicago expect to suffer if that corporation is allowed to dominate the present railway reorganization movement?

Let Chicagoans beware! If they do not combat that selfish enemy the city will become victimized even more shamefully than Philadelphia has been. This is a time to be on guard. ALFRED SHIRLY.

BLUNDERS ON BANNERS.

Chicago, Aug. 18.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Was it Capt. Lawrence or Capt. Perry who said: "Don't give up the ship?" I see the phrase on banners downtown, but thought it was Capt. Lawrence who said it when he was leaving the Chesapeake June 1, 1813, after he was mortally wounded. Why is this sentence on all public buildings.

SEX EDUCATION IN THE HOME.

Elkhorn, Wis., Aug. 17.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—There seem to be a few misconceptions as to the position Catholics take regarding the teaching of sex hygiene. Your editorial on the question leaves the impression that Catholics are unalterably opposed to sex enlightenment of whatever kind, in such wise as though ignorance in sex matters was the right stand to be advocated. The majority of Catholic writers who have given thought to the matter will insist that such instruction is necessary. They will agree with the statement that "it is not a question of whether youth should remain ignorant or be instructed." That part of it seems to be quite settled in the minds of all, all agreeing that youth cannot remain ignorant, but must be instructed.

But the question is how, and where, and by whom is this instruction to be imparted. Catholics will take issue with the statement "that it is frequently not the question whether instruction shall be given in the home or in the school, for in the vast majority of cases it must be in the school or in the street." This is precisely the question. Precisely here Catholics differ from those who advocate sex instruction in the schools. They maintain that it should be given at home.

The duty of this instruction devolves primarily upon the parents of the children. All education is first the duty of the parents; and only when conditions make the fulfillment of this duty impossible on the part of the parents does the state assume this function. In education the state is only the vicar of the parents. With this principle as a basis, it must first be shown that sex instruction by the parents is quite impossible, that the parents are not best fitted to perform this duty, and that therefore the duty devolves upon the state to impart the necessary knowledge.

As a matter of fact, parents are best qualified to act in this matter. Sex life is one of those extremely personal, individual things, as is no doubt known to the student of the sex problem. It is intimately bound up with the individualistic texture of man, with his character, with his associations and environments, but above all is it closely connected with that highly individual characteristic in man, his temperament. This accounts for striking differences in adolescence, for different developments in maturity. Each case is singularly individual. Logic demands, then, that the treatment be individual; that each case, being so delicate and important, receive separate attention. It is clear that parents, understanding their children best, can alone do this most effectively.

General promiscuous instruction, as it must necessarily be given in the schools, will be of little avail. It will throw out a few facts that will be of very little help to the child. Not understanding the meaning and application of them to itself, this instruction will, in the majority of cases, only prove to be a dangerous instruction, because a dangerous experiment, and this cannot be permitted.

Now, if parents do not do their duty because of ignorance as to the need and methods of instruction, why not lodge the education where it belongs? Why not give the instruction to the parents? It will at least there be profitable, because a mature, experienced mind will know how to appreciate the instruction.

This is, in brief, the position of the vast majority of Catholic writers on the sex question. They do not oppose the instruction but the method of instruction. On this stand they are prepared to meet objections.

Final Plans Made for Festival of All Nations.

THE final arrangements for the masque to be given at the Harvest Festival of All Nations, to be held at Ravinia Sept. 12 and 13, were made at the meeting of the Ravinia club yesterday. Miss Saidee Buckley will take the part of Demeter, Mrs. Henry Hubbard will be Persephone, Charles T. Atkinson is to be Pluto, and Ernest Von Ammon will represent Hermes.

At the close of the second night of the pageant a complimentary dance will be given by the club to the several hundred players who take part. Young girls under the charge of Ruth Gregory will sell programs and candy. Mrs. George K. Owsley has charge of the boxes. Those who already have secured their boxes for the opening night are Mrs. Frank R. McMullin, Mrs. J. MacGregor Adams, Mrs. Clarence E. Smith, and Mrs. Clancy G. Bolte.

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Bent, daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. George Payne Bent, to Otto Young Schnering will take place tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock at "The Bouldera," Williams Bay, Wis., the summer home of the bride's parents, Mrs. Stanley G. Harris of 5757 Monroe avenue, sister of the bride, left yesterday for Williams Bay to be matron of honor at the wedding. Mr. Harris will leave today. A special train for the accommodation of Chicago guests who will attend the wedding will leave the Northwestern station tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock, returning from Williams Bay at 4.

Mrs. Elizabeth Anna Logan announces the marriage of her daughter, Frances Helen, to George Bernard Waterstraat on Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Waterstraat will be at home after Oct. 1 at 514 North Homan avenue.

Tomorrow evening there will be a dinner-dance at Onwentsia to finish the day's play for the golf trophy presented by Morris Johnston. Mr. and Mrs. Johnston will give one of the evening's dinner parties.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert B. Dick of Lake Forest have rented their Wisconsin camp to Edward Samuel for the rest of the season and have sailed for Europe, contrary to their first plans, to join their daughter, Miss Mabel Dick, in London. Miss Dick and Miss Elizabeth Boynton have spent the summer tramping through Germany.

Mrs. Cecil Clark Davis is in Tangier, Africa.

Beaumont Lytton, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Lytton, sailed last week to spend two or three months on the continent.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kirschner of 906 Lakeside place will be at home Friday evening, Aug. 29, in honor of their twenty-fifth anniversary.

Among the Chicagoans sailing from New York yesterday for Europe were: Mrs. Caroline C. Brown, Miss Meredith Brown, Miss Winifred Brown, Miss Babara Brown, Miss Lucia Brown, Mrs. Clara D. Koch, Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Francis, Cecil Francis, and Miss Josepnine O'Meara.

Miss Sylvia Luise and Miss H. Charlotte Cohn of 4916 Washington Park court are visiting their brother in Madison, Wis., and probably will not return to the city until the first of September.

Miss Lizzie Aitkenhead of Greenock, Scotland, was married yesterday to Alexander Cameron Smith of Detroit, Mich. The ceremony took place at the residence of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Neil MacDonald, 4527 St. Lawrence avenue.

Mrs. Thomas G. O'Connor 610 Winona avenue will be the hostess on Monday at the card party benefit given by the Women's auxiliary of the Oak Park hospital.

Lake Bluff to Have Wireless.

One of the largest wireless stations in the world is planned for the United States naval training station at Lake Bluff, according to Capt. E. R. Clark, commandant, who returned to the government school yesterday from the east.

One hundred thousand dollars will be spent, it is said, and it will be capable of communicating with San Francisco. It will care for all government business in the central west.

Beginning next month, the enlisted men at the station will be given a course in the elementary branches of schooling as well as in military tactics and drills. This means the installation of at least a half dozen instructors, who will arrive here soon from the east to take up the work, a change which is radical in naval training stations. Four hundred men leave the station in September, and the new feature will not be extended to them, but becomes operative at once after their departure.

Beginning with the arrival of the new recruits in September, the length of service of apprentices will be four months instead of three.

Shorthand Writer Cup Won by New Yorker.

NATHAN BEHRIN of New York, who can write shorthand faster than any two people ordinarily talk, won the Shorthand Writer cup for the third time. The award was made at the banquet of the National Shorthand Reporters' association, held at the Hotel La Salle last night.

Mr. Behrin's record for the contest was writing at the rate of 200 words a minute for five minutes and making only eight errors. At 240 words a minute he made fourteen errors and at 280 words a minute forty-four errors. His accuracy average was 98.3 per cent.

The only other man to qualify was J. D. Carson of Chicago, whose average was 93.8 per cent. He made forty-four errors at a speed of 200 words a minute, seventy-five at 240 words a minute, and 129 at 280 words a minute. Mr. Carson had one leg of the cup before Mr. Behrin entered the contests three years ago.

One woman qualified in the race. She is Miss Paula Werning of New York, the only woman who has passed the New York state examination for certified court reporters. Her record in the contest at the convention was 96.5 per cent accuracy in the 240 word race.

Judge John P. McGoorty of the Circuit court and Harry Olson, chief justice of the Municipal court, were guests at the banquet.

The convention will close today with the election of officers.

Their Romance Started on Train.

A wedding, the culmination of a meeting on a transcontinental train two years ago, took place in the Hotel La Salle last night when Miss Ethel Goldberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Goldberg of 5142 South Michigan avenue, was married to Albert Schoenfeld of San Francisco.

Miss Goldberg and Mr. Schoenfeld became acquainted on a Union Pacific railroad train on the way from San Francisco to Chicago after the young woman had suffered a sprained ankle as the result of a fall while passing down an aisle in the train. Mr. Schoenfeld witnessed the accident and assisted Miss Goldberg.

A coincidence of the wedding is that it took place on the twenty-fifth anniversary of the marriage of the parents of the bride, which was also the second anniversary of the meeting of the young people.

Rabbi Aaron Weinstein of Davenport, Ia., performed the ceremony.

Baby Reconciles Relatives.

Habeas corpus proceedings against Mrs. John Woolerton, 3803 South Halsted street, brought by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Marvel G. Fuller, were up for hearing before Judge Denis E. Sullivan.

"Just look at that baby, judge. See how strong he is," said Mrs. Woolerton. "I've been taking care of it since it was twelve days old."

"I will have to give the baby to the mother," said the judge.

The grandmother rushed over to Mrs. Fuller. Bursting into tears, she kissed her grandson. The mother smiled and lifted the baby up to her mother-in-law. Both then sat down. When the bailiff rapped for order the two women walked out together.

Fraternal Organizations Unite in National Body.

THE amalgamation of the National Fraternal congress and the Associated Fraternities of America was completed yesterday at a joint session of the two bodies held in the afternoon in the Hotel Sherman. The name of the new body is "National Fraternal Congress of America." At the afternoon session the articles of amalgamation were ratified by the delegates present without a dissenting vote.

A resolution favoring the passing of uniform laws throughout the country prohibiting the writing of "group insurance" was passed. Immediately after the passing of this resolution a telegram was received by John A. Sullivan, former secretary of the Associated Fraternities, from T. W. Blackburn, secretary of the American Life convention now in session in St. Paul, Minn., saying that that association had resolved that the issuance of group insurance by legal reserve life insurance companies without individual medical examination to be a menace to all life insurance.

The American Life association is made up of twenty-two legal reserve life insurance companies and is the largest organization of such companies in the country. As the writing of group insurance has been almost entirely done by legal reserve companies this action on their part was considerable of a surprise to the members of the fraternal insurance bodies. In the telegram from Mr. Blackburn the coöperation of the fraternal societies was asked in the opposition to group insurance writing.

"This action on the part of the American Life association," said Mr. Sullivan, "practically assures the death of group insurance in this country."

The following officers were elected to serve for the coming year in the new organization: W. H. Powers of Boston, president; J. W. Taake of Des Moines, vice president; F. J. Junnenmaker of Chicago treasurer. The executive committee is composed of A. R. Talbot of Lincoln, Neb.; W. E. Fraser of Dallas, Tex.; T. B. Hanley of Des Moines; J. B. Clark of Dayton, O.; J. J. Hynes of Buffalo, and G. B. Hunt of Indianapolis.

Wants Square Deal in Schools.

According to Prof. F. E. Bolton of the University of Washington the system of study and curriculum used in the schools today does not appeal to the average boy or girl. The professor backs up his statement by statistics showing that only 50 per cent of the children of school age in this country are found in the school rooms. He declares the reason for this is not that they are compelled to work in order to help support themselves or families, but that they simply are not interested in school work and withdraw of their own free will.

Prof. Bolton stated this belief in a lecture entitled "A Square Deal in Education" at the University of Chicago.

"The reason the schools do not appeal to the boys and girls today is that there is not enough opportunity for them to make and construct things," he said. "The desire of the average boy and girl to fashion and create things is not recognized, and as a result half of our young scholars leave school and enter business before they reach the eighth grade."

Prof. Bolton pleads for a large extension of industrial training and declares that many of the study rooms in the schools might be turned into work shops and laboratories with good results. He declared: "It is not giving the children a square deal when we educate the men who are going into professions with courses of Latin and history at the public expense and do not educate to the same extent the young men and boys who expect to enter a trade. We are giving one class of our young people a poor start in life and are discouraging the extension of education among this group."

How to Fight Cost of Living

Not the Bugbear It Is Pictured.

The high cost of living has never appeared to me to be the big bugbear that it is usually pictured. Being the product of European parentage, economy has always been instilled in my life. One of the things which every German daughter must learn, if she expects to be mistress of her own home, is never to waste anything and always to be ready to prepare a meal out of almost nothing. The meal must be good and nourishing and also well served. Hence, being reared in such an environment, it was pleasant to assume the household management and plan for my own table.

During eleven years of housekeeping I have always rejected paper-bag meals and other so-called eatables from the delicatessen store. The food thus purchased is expensive, and the helpings surely aren't very generous. A little forethought would relieve matters. An emergency shelf is a great help in time of need and can be replenished very easily if a memorandum is kept of those things which are used. If it is impossible to procure such as have been used something else may be substituted.

Do your own buying. The little outing to and from the market will make you and the little ones feel better and also help your purse. You will then enjoy planning some new recipe which you have just noticed in the morning paper. Your meal preparations will not be so tiresome, and your big family will surely enjoy your work the same as mine does. But avoid the delicatessen store and bakers' pastry and learn to prepare those things yourself. You can learn in the same way that I have learned. Several failures have finally resulted in success, and it surely is pleasant to hear your own family say, "Isn't our mother a fine cook?"

MRS. PAULINE F. PALMER,
9821 Bishop street, Washington Heights.

Good Cooks Needed.

Food need not be expensive in order to be good, and also palatable. It means adaptability more than expenditure of much money in the buying of food materials. One must not think indifference in cooking can be excused through lack of means. Where close economy is absolutely necessary there also is the greater need of extensive culinary knowledge, and for that very reason this condition should create superior cooks, as necessity is the mother of invention, and no necessity is greater than well cooked, palatable food. Especially is this the case in the homes of those who must earn their bread either by mental or physical labor.

MRS. JOHN W. KRONING, 5129 Fifth avenue.

"All in Studying Things Out."

In the first place I manage to have an extra room to rent to help on the rent. Next, I take a boarder, one who is willing to share as the family does, with no extras, and that helps in supplying the table, for you do not make much difference with just one extra at the table. Then, again, I watch for bargains. It pays, be it ever so small. If my grocer charges me 30 cents per pound for coffee, I have found another a little farther up the street who sells it to me for 25 cents. We like the good cuts of meat; we have one once in a while, but offset the expense by having something very cheap in between, like a stew of mutton, potatoes and onions or neck bones, etc. I keep my meat bill down quite low, but remember men are never satisfied without meat once or twice a day. I avoid eggs in everything I can until they are cheaper. It is not a real saving to withhold fruits and sweets from the table. The children want and need them; so do the rest for that matter. Do not try to buy every little fancy you see. Remember you can sink a lot of money in that way. I never spend over $6 per week for the table, and there are four of us—three adults, besides having company—and that buys the extras like soap, starch, washing powder and such little necessities. My advice, too, is get insured and keep insured, and always keep a little money put away, even if it is but little and you have to deny yourself for it. It pays. You can economize on clothes by buying a suit of good and plain material, not a "loud" style, and you can wear it the second season by having it cleaned. I have one I have worn for three years. It's good yet and comes from the cleaner's like new. I make all my little daughter's clothes and mostly they are from "made-overs," with the addition of new trimming, and I have been complimented on the prettiness of her clothes. It's all in studying things out.

MRS. H. L. MCLERAN,
12 Lafin street [second floor].

Must Be Business Woman.

Business men would be considered fools if they destroyed all records of running expenses. It is by comparison and deduction that he makes better plans of conducting his business. A woman ought to be as much a business manager of her side of the fence if she wishes to make a success of house and home keeping. I have evolved a method by which I can profit by previous years' experience. My method needs first a fifteen inch day book, containing at least 320 pages (a page for every week day of the year). Record all your day's expenses and add up for each day. In upper right hand corner place the amount spent so far that month. You can then tell at a glance whether you are exceeding your month's allowance or not. Besides being of comparative value, it will help in planning next year's menus.

This was good as it went, but I wanted to know exactly how much it cost to run each division of the house per month. So in another long daybook I have six pages devoted to each month. On the first four of these I have made columns headed: Bread and cake, vegetables, fruit, other groceries, butter, eggs, milk, meat, laundry, fuel, light, rent, house furnishings, amusement, car fare, lunches (shopping), drugs, clothing. Then, at the end of the day I post in this book, placing the day's expenditures in their respective columns. It sounds complicated, but takes only a few minutes, and as the children grow up they will be delighted (incidentally benefited) by doing this under your supervision.

At the end of each month add up each column and place on next page total sum spent for each department. Every penny accounted for and staring you in the face. An impractical, complicated scheme! Not at all after you have once set the machinery at work.

MRS. R. B.

Cash Buyer Has Advantage.

When I was a young housekeeper thirty-seven years ago work was not plentiful and a man going to work the first of the month received no pay for six weeks. It was impossible to pay cash, but we were very prompt to pay our bill the day we received our money. Two young men whom we knew from boyhood started a grocery store. We bought our groceries from them. Competition was not so keen in those days and sales were a rare thing. The young men advertised a certain amount of sugar for a dollar. I went down to see if I could get a dollar's worth. I was told "no, it was strictly cash." I was a good customer and pay day was not near, so it was all right. Next pay day I did not pay my bill. I bought for cash. At the end of the month I was able by good management to pay my bill. Needless to say, when I had cash I went elsewhere. It needed just that instance to show me that the cash buyer had the advantage every time. The best way to meet the high cost of living is to pay cash. If you live within your means it's easy. How foolish to say "the small pittance of $18 a week." Take that money and go out and buy to the best advantage, have no waste, and do it in a business way. I have what my friends think a small allowance every month. When I get it I put 10 per cent in a building association—that's for my rainy day. I buy only the best cuts of meat. I buy things in season and out of season, as I see them at what I think is my price, I never bargain. If it's a half cent more than I think it's worth I leave it, and when things are brought in they are put on the scales to see if I get weight. The sales are watched every Sunday and we buy clothing and housefurnishings always in Chicago. My husband never earns more than $80 a month, but I take great pleasure in managing my money. We had five in our family, and now as twilight begins to dawn on our lives we feel no fear for old age. Thanks to the dollar's worth of sugar that I didn't get. MRS. J. L. M.

AUTO TRUCK RUNS DOWN BOY ROLLING HIS HOOP IN STREET.

Car Passes Over Child's Body and He Is Badly Injured—Williston Fish Hurts Little One.

Hoop rolling in the street may cost the life of William Schaltz, 12 years old, who lives with his parents at 1508 Wrightwood avenue. While playing in the street last night the boy ran in front of an auto truck driven by O. Oehlsen, 2720 Florence avenue.

The truck passed over the boy's body and he was unconscious when Oehlsen picked him up. He took the boy to the Alexian Brothers' hospital and then gave himself up to the police.

An auto owned and driven by Dr. Charles Schutt, 1301 North Clark street, ran into Fred Suhr, 2155 North Halsted street, last night in front of 65 Fullerton avenue. The boy was only slightly injured.

Investigation yesterday showed that Gen. Supt. Williston Fish of the Chicago Railways company was in the automobile which ran down Lillian Thorsen, 11 years old, near Milwaukee and Belmont avenues on Wednesday evening. The girl jumped from an ice wagon in front of the automobile, which Mr. Fish was using to make a tour of inspection of the northwest side lines. The girl was only slightly injured.

KILLS CONVICT; WANTS TOBACCO

Reformatory Inmate at Jeffersonville, Ind., Slays Friend to Be Sent to Northern Prison.

Jeffersonville, Ind., Aug. 21.—Edward Morton, an inmate of the state reformatory here, stabbed and killed Charles Bartle, another inmate, today. Morton said he bore Bartle no ill will, but that he stabbed him so he could be sent to the Indiana state prison at Michigan City, where the prisoners are given tobacco.

ACCIDENT HALTS KING'S TRIP.

Italian Monarch Quits Hunt When Rock Falls, Killing One and Wounding Another.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

ROME, Aug. 21.—While King Victor Emmanuel was hunting chamois near Cuneo, in Piedmont, today, a rock fell, killing one huntsman and injuring another. The king, who is greatly distressed over the accident, has abandoned hunting for the remainder of the year.

CITY COMPLETES PURCHASE OF RECREATION PIER SITE.

Chicago Canal and Dock Company Gets $300,000 Municipal Bonds for Dock Land.

The city yesterday completed the purchase of the property along the lake shore between Ohio and Indiana streets, and work upon the proposed recreation pier and dock will start immediately, according to Mayor Harrison.

At a conference between officials of the city yesterday city bonds for $300,000 were turned over to the dock company by Controller Traeger.

It is proposed to extend the Indiana street car line to the end of the pier as a part of the harbor plans. Test holes already have been bored under the direction of the harbor and subway commission and specifications are being prepared for the bids to be advertised for on Sept. 15 for the substructure of the pier.

LANDMARK GONE FROM POTOMAC

Stone on Which Newspaper Woman Sat While Interviewing President Adams, In Bathing, Removed.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—Lovers of ancient landmarks today joined in a cry of protest when they discovered that the famous stone on which Anne Royall was said to have sat and "interviewed" President John Quincy Adams while the head of the nation was bathing in the Potomac river had been removed to make room for improvement in Potomac park. For years the stone occupied the identical spot that Anne Royall hallowed, and before which the president stood in water up to his neck while the young woman quizzed him.

BOY FINED FOR ATTACK ON GIRL.

Pleads Guilty to Charge Brought by Child and Is Assessed $100 and Costs.

Joseph Barone, who is 19 years old and lives at 1026 Milton avenue, was fined $100 and costs, amounting to $81.15, by Judge Brentano in the Criminal court yesterday on a charge of attacking an 8 year old girl in Lincoln park on June 28.

DISCARDS WEDDING RING; WOMAN AND SEX UPHELD.

Philadelphia Court Declares Refusal of Wife to Wear Matrimonial Badge Has No Bearing in Court.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—A married woman has a perfect right to refuse to wear her wedding ring. Such was the ruling of Judge Barratt today in a desertion case.

It was declared by counsel for George Klein that the man's wife had no claim on her husband for support because, among other things, she left him without cause and then sought to hide the fact that she was his wife by declining to wear her wedding ring.

"Women have a right to do as they please," Judge Barratt said. "This is a progressive age."

TAKE HOTEL MAN FOR FRAUD.

John Ambrose Accused of "Padding" Register to Deceive Would-Be Purchaser.

The police charge John Ambrose of 1023 West Madison street with having "padded" the register of his hotel at that address before selling the hotel a few days ago to Joseph Smith for $1,600. Ambrose was arrested on a charge of operating a confidence game.

Smith was arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct. He was alleged to have permitted men and women to rent rooms at the hotel for immoral purposes.

In court he told Municipal Judge Dolan he had paid Ambrose $1,600 for the business and had been told that he could rent rooms in any manner he chose.

Chicago Suffragist May Sit for Sculptor.

MRS. GRACE WILBUR TROUT, president of the Illinois Equal Suffrage association, yesterday received a communication from Mrs. Adelaide Johnson, sculptor, who has become known through her portraits in marble of leaders of the woman's suffrage movement. Mrs. Johnson states in her letter that she was born in Illinois and is jubilant over the woman's victory in ... native state.

It is believed that on the return of Mrs. Johnson from her studio in Rome she will ask Mrs. Trout to sit for a portrait to be worked later into marble for future generations. The tone of the letter carried that impression. Mrs. Trout stated during the day she would be willing to sit as a model.

Mrs. Johnson has made portraits of Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, Susan B. Anthony, Lucretia Mott, Elizabeth C. Stanton, and other early pioneers of the suffrage movement. She declared she was strongly impressed with the work of Mrs. Trout, Mrs. Funk, and Mrs. Booth in bringing about the suffrage victory. She said on her return to America she intended beginning work on busts of modern American suffragists.

Mrs. Charlotte Rhodus, president of the Woman's Party of Cook County, and Mrs. Hilda Swain, the party's chairman of the Fourteenth ward precinct workers, today will continue their canvass of the Fourteenth ward. They will endeavor to meet every woman in the ward and ascertain the number who will vote at the spring election.

During the last canvass Mrs. Rhodus and Mrs. Swain added ten names to the party's roll and found the majority of women eager to vote.

Mrs. Rhodus stated yesterday that as soon as the hot weather spell is over a comprehensive campaign for soliciting women voters for civic betterment would be started by the party. It is planned, she said, that every member of the organization assist in the canvass. Education of all women, desirous of voting, in the principles of registration, election laws, and in municipal legislation will form a part of the party's program for the fall and winter.

The class in public speaking maintained by the Woman's party will be held on Tuesday at the party headquarters in the Hotel La Salle. Mrs. A. H. Beaver, Mrs. H. W. Young, and Mrs. Rose Beaver will talk on different planks of the party's platform.

"Cornfed" Girl Seeks Copper.

There are "cornfed" girls from the country in Chicago who can cook, sew, and wash dishes who are willing to take a chance on Patrolman Charles Rhodes. One who read of the qualifications for a wife which Rhodes set forth in THE TRIBUNE on Wednesday wrote to THE TRIBUNE yesterday for Rhodes' address. She said she could measure up to specifications, with a little to spare.

The girl is Miss Julia Werner. She is German and was born on a farm near Milwaukee twenty-three years ago. She has been supporting herself since her parents died four years ago by working in a restaurant at 589 Harrison street.

A reporter found Julia yesterday afternoon sitting on a bench in front of the restaurant with another girl who works in the restaurant.

"Why do you want to marry a policeman?" the reporter asked.

"B'cause I saw his picture in THE TRIBUNE, and h... looks like a good man—the kind of man who would make a good, kind husband."

Church Sixty Years Old.

The oldest Swedish Methodist Episcopal church in the United States—the First Swedish Methodist Episcopal church of Chicago, West Oak and Orleans streets—celebrated the sixtieth anniversary of the founding of the church last evening. Formal exercises were held in the auditorium of the church.

A reunion of former and present members of the congregation was under the leadership of the Rev. N. O. Westerdeen, the oldest living Methodist preacher in this country, and the Rev. Alfred Anderson, the present pastor, and the Rev. Eric Philip Swan of Jamestown, N. Y.

The church was founded in 1853 by the Rev. O. A. Hedstrom.

News of the Theaters.

"A Trip to Washington," the new La Salle entertainment, was presented at the Pabst theater, Milwaukee, last evening after a day spent in rest for the players and in revision by Henry Blossom of the excess text found in Monday evening's performance at Racine. Those interested say they like it.

Jack Gardner will be in charge of the rehearsals of "A Broadway Honeymoon," scheduled to wax or wane at Joe Howard's Comedy theater some time in September. Among those whom he will rehearse are Miss Frances Kennedy, Miss Emma Carus, Miss Sophie Tucker, Knox Wilson, Joe Howard himself and Miss Mabel McCane. P. H.

Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout.

Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout of Oak Park, president of the Illinois Equal Suffrage association, may be asked to sit for Mrs. Adelaide Johnson, a well known sculptor now in Rome, who has made busts of several suffragists. Mrs. Trout received a letter yesterday from Mrs. Johnson giving the impression that she wished her to sit for her.

Rail Superintendents Discuss Explosives.

THE need of more stringent rules governing the handling of explosives, inflammables, and other dangerous articles was the subject of an address before the American Association of Railroad Superintendents at yesterday's session of their convention in the Hotel Sherman. Col. B. W. Dunn of New York, chief inspector of the bureau for the safe transportation of explosives and other dangerous articles of the interstate commerce commission made the address.

"The larger amount of explosives being shipped in this country than in other countries," said Mr. Dunn, "has made the question of handling such shipments of a great deal more importance to us than to any other nation. The bureau established by the interstate commerce commission for the purpose of eliminating as much of the risk from such shipments as possible has accomplished much more in the seven years it has been established than ever was expected of it.

"During the first year after the establishment of the bureau the loss of lives due to accidents on railroads caused by such shipments was fifty-two, while last year no lives were lost In 1907 losses of property amounting to $500,000 were reported, while in 1912 the losses were estimated at $30,000, although shipments of explosives have increased almost one-third in that time."

Stereopticon views were shown to illustrate Col. Dunn's address, demonstrating the dangers that are incurred in the improper handling of explosives.

Plan Loop Efficiency Bureau.

At a meeting of the Mental Efficiency league last night in the Hotel La Salle arrangements were made for the establishment of a public efficiency bureau in the loop district from which public welfare bulletins will be issued weekly by the league.

Parker M. Sercombe was chosen to act as representative of the league at the International Congress of Child Hygiene to be held in Buffalo next Monday and Tuesday.

A round table discussion on the subject "Hypocrisy as a Factor in Human Evolution" also was held during last night's meeting.

Likens Vice Crusade to That of Tribune

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

WINONA LAKE, Ind., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—A fight declared by the speaker to be similar to the one now being carried on by THE TRIBUNE in exposing gambling in Chicago, in which one of THE TRIBUNE'S representatives was assaulted for taking part in one instance, was described at the Winona assembly today by the Rev. Paul C. Curnick, pastor of the First Methodist church of Terre Haute, Ind.

Dr. Curnick told the story of the campaign against vice and corrupt politicians in Terre Haute, which he said is still going on.

"The papers of Terre Haute have stood with us in this battle," Dr. Curnick said. "In doing his duty one newspaper man, Charles Clogston, was knocked down and nearly killed by the gangsters of the political machine. I, myself, was obliged to leave the city one night, so violent was the opposition to the decent element, which was simply trying to bring about a condition of order and observance for wholesome law.

"There is perhaps no city in the United States in which the connection between vice and the city officials is so intimate as in Terre Haute; and this reveals the weakness of the government under which we live. When gambling and liquor selling were openly going on in violation of the law I telegraphed to Gov. Ralston. He called up the Terre Haute officials and they replied that everything was quiet and satisfactory.

"Gov. Ralston then put the burden on me or on some other citizen, if I would not act, to file complaint and seek to get redress from officials who were in league to defeat justice. These officials had sold the right to gamble for $1,400 as the only way, they said, there was to attract the men who were sustaining the races, which were advocated as a means of giving Terre Haute a national reputation.

"Here is injustice, indeed—to have the governor of a great state put the burden of law enforcement on private citizens when men paid salaries for enforcing the law are in league with vice and when the men we fight have money enough to throw to the dogs.

"In this fight I was no longer willing to merely preach about Moses, nor against the Jews or Mormons, but I was obliged to preach against the prize fights, the gambling, the red light district, and the squandering of the people's money by boodlers and grafters. We are not through with the fight, and we are only hoping that the women of Indiana will be given the suffrage like the women of Illinois, so that they may help us fight until we win."

Every reference to woman's suffrage was cheered. Dr. Curnick's address marked the close of the Ninth Christian Citizenship institute, which has been in session the last ten days under the direction of the Rev. Dr. J. S. Martin of Pittsburgh, national superintendent of the Christian Citizenship league. The enrollment of the institute was 263, representing twenty-five different states.

Today marked also the close of the summer Bible school of the Moody Bible institute of Chicago, which has been in session here eight weeks, and the International Sunday School institute of the Fourth district. One hundred and forty-two persons took the Sunday school training course, representing twelve states and thirteen denominations. The sacred opera "Ahasuerus" was given this evening as the closing event of the assembly.

Fireman and Copper Win Medals.

The Harrison and Tree medals for bravery were presented to the two men selected for that honor from the police and fire departments yesterday. Mayor Harrison pinned the medals on the breasts of Policemen James McDermott of the Cottage Grove avenue station and Assistant Engineer Paul H. E. Reimer of engine company 113.

Controller Traeger, Chief McWeeny, and Chief Seyfe...ch and a number of other city officials were in the mayor's office when the presentation took place.

McDermott crawled under a porch after an armed negro murderer and Reimer won the Harrison medal for stopping a runaway engine and saving the lives of several of his companions.

Passenger Agents End Session.

At the final meeting yesterday of the Southeastern Passenger Agents' association at the Blackstone hotel excursion rates to southern winter resorts were discussed.

"No important changes in the rates to winter resorts from those in force last year were suggested," said W. H. Howard of Atlanta, Ga., secretary of the association. "Whatever changes we advocate will be given publicity when the fall excursion season opens. No other business was taken up at this convention outside of the monthly reports of our committees. The next meeting of the association to be held in Chicago will take place next July."

Intelligence of Japanese Monkey.

A man wending his way up a mountainside in Japan sat down to rest. He was surprised by the approach of a young monkey, which, instead of showing fear, came to him and began to pluck at his garments. The expression of solicitude on the animal's face indicated something unusual. The wayfarer arose and followed the monkey to the valley below. Soon he came upon the exciting scene of a battlefield with hundreds of monkeys engaged in a fierce encounter with a big black bear. The simians were rushing in and assaulting bruin on all sides and every now and then the bear succeeded in laying one low. The man counted some thirty monkeys lying dead. Upon returning with companions bearing guns the first report from the rifle caused bruin and all the monkeys to take fright and disappear into the forest.

Do You Mean What You Say?

How to Earn Money at Home

This Woman Was Unhappy but She Isn't Any More.

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

The purpose of this department is to find profitable employment for women in occupations which they can carry on at home without interfering with their domestic duties. To stimulate suggestions The Tribune will award $1 each for every help published.

Address—Sally Joy Brown, care The Tribune, Chicago.

The exhibit room in The Tribune Building is open from 9:30 a. m. to 4 p. m. except on Saturday, when it closes at 1 o'clock.

ARE you unhappy?

Are you without money enough to study the things that you would like to study and with too much to be allowed to work for your daily bread? Do you envy the women that you meet on the cars when you have been downtown until late in the afternoon? Do you sometimes stay down late so that you may ride home with them—these workers—and pretend that you've been downtown working all day?

I know a woman who does that very thing two or three times a week. That is, she used to do it. She was really unhappy when she thought of all the things that she'd like to do and couldn't. She wanted so much to be able to take lessons in china painting and she didn't have enough money to do that. So she used to just envy all of the girls whom she saw going home from work because she thought that they could have some money to do as they wanted with. Her father simply wouldn't let her work. He said that she would be telling every one that he wasn't making enough money to support his family if she went to work.

You know how hard it is sometimes to be able to work. Every one takes it for granted that you don't need to, and somehow then you just can't. There are undoubtedly lots of women and girls like that. Their fathers and their husbands won't let them work. Are you like that? Then don't you want to read this letter?

"My husband said when we were married: 'Now your working days are over. There may be lots of things that we won't be able to afford that you used to have when you were working, but you'll just have to go without them for a while until I can afford to buy them for you' He thought that he was being kind to me, indeed, but after the first few months of getting settled and buying the few little things that we needed in our tiny flat of four rooms I grew restless. I could finish my work in an hour and that left all of the day for me without anything to do. I wanted awfully to take vocal lessons, but we couldn't afford it, I knew, and I couldn't go to work, as I'd have liked to do, and earn my own money. So I grew unhappier and unhappier.

"Then last May I picked up THE TRIBUNE and I read about the women who had been earning money at home, and suddenly the idea that perhaps I could earn some money that way, too, came to me. I thought that that wouldn't be working, as my husband didn't want me to, and yet it would be giving me something to do, and maybe some time I could save enough money to be able to start with my vocal lessons.

"So I began right away. Right at first the returns weren't so very large. I wasn't apt at making baby dresses, because I had never made any at all. But it was such fun to be making them that I soon learned, and I made the best mistake that I could have made. I charged low prices for the little dresses and slips, not because I intended them to be bargains, but because I didn't know any better. Afterwards I found out that was the reason why I have made such a success of my home work.

"Well, to make a long story short, I've established a little sort of trade in baby dresses and slips and I'm making enough money to be able to save a little money against the time that I can begin taking lessons. What makes me happiest of all is the way that my husband has changed his mind about my working. He's so proud of me now to think that I could go ahead all by myself and make some money in my spare time. And I don't long to be back at work any more at all. I have all that I can do in my spare time and I'm making quite a little bit of money, and soon I'm going to begin taking vocal lessons. And I'm so happy that I don't know what to do. It's all your work, too, dear lady—your work and the work of all the other women who are trying to make the Home Workers' Market Place a blessing to women."

Isn't that an enthusiastic letter? Doesn't it make you want to start right in doing something, too?

Then suppose that you do. Suppose that you write to me this very day and tell me all about the things that you'd like to do and what you'd like to earn some money for. It will make me happy to have you do that, and just as soon as I possibly can I'll answer your letter, and together we'll make you have the best possible success, won't we? Then you won't be unhappy any more. Will you?

Raising Carrots.

A woman of my acquaintance made a little pin money in the following way: Carrots have such pretty fernlike tops that last summer she planted a row of them, next to the fence, the full length of her fifty foot flower bed. In the fall they yielded 127 bunches (three large ones in a bunch) which she sold to a hotelkeeper at 5 cents per bunch. The seed cost her just 10 cents, so she netted a clear profit of $6.25, besides storing away a peck of them for her own use and had the beautiful foliage for a background to her flowers all summer.

Kodak Pictures.

I have a sister who teaches school in New York City and she supplements her income by taking views of New York and vicinity. She has a number of these. She makes blue prints and pastes them on blue gray cardboard and cuts with an inch margin all around. Then she punches holes in the side and runs a blue ribbon through them and she has a pretty book that retails for 50 cents. The pictures could be taken apart and mounted separately. She always takes her camera with her on all their outings, as the girls know she does splendid work and they always have some poses taken of each trip. She has bought herself a piano in this way.

Violet Perfume.

Cut up one ounce of orris root and put it into a glass stoppered jar and pour over it one and one-half ounces of pure spirits of wine. Put in the stopper, which should fit very closely, and leave jar in dark place for two weeks. A few drops of this essence is sufficient. It can be made in larger quantities and when diluted with pure alcohol makes a delightful toilet water. I have a number of customers for it who would never use anything else after once trying it.

Raising Water Cress.

We have found the raising of water cress very easy and profitable for the "stay at home." One variety of cress demands a great deal of moisture, but another variety demands little so the variety best adapted to one's location may be chosen. Cress matures rapidly and with care a continuous stock may be kept on hand. Cress packed in cheap, lightweight cartons, easily obtained, assures the customer's receipt of goods in clean, unbroken condition and packed in this way commands a higher price than open bunches, withered and broken. It is best to secure the patronage of homes and hotels near by to avoid the additional expense of transportation. BERTHA AGNES ROGERS,

College Souvenirs.

I live in a college town and I make quite a little spending money making hair receivers, soiled handkerchief bags, and white linen college pillows. These articles are white, embroidered with the college letters in the college colors. They sell very readily and I make several dollars in this way. The girls and boys use them for gifts to their friends at home and they are a pretty souvenir. I also make college pennants. BERTHA ANDERSON,
223 East College avenue, Jacksonville, Ill.

Shoe and Slipper Bags.

My sister is incapable of working downtown, so she makes a good deal of money at home by a simple method. She makes bags that hold shoes and slippers. She buys khaki or canvas and cuts it into little squares, 20 inches by 20 inches. Then she cuts oblongs out of the goods she has left that are 8 inches long and 6 inches wide. These she sews on to the squares in the shape of a bag to hold the shoes. They are hung on the back of the door or a place most convenient. Some of them are embroidered and some plain. The embroidered ones sell for 75 cents and $1, while the plain ones sell for 35 cents and 50 cents. She makes as many as five or six a day. IRENE R. SMITH,
209 East Fiftieth street, Chicago.

Caring for Men's Clothing.

I have made a good living for myself and one child for several years past, by caring for men's clothing. The clerks and college boys give me all that I can do. I brush, press, and repair. I mend their stockings and underwear and often make soft shirts, ties, and nightshirts for them. I try to do this and a few other little things as I should like some one to do for a boy of my own, and I feel sure I am a great help and saving to them.

PACKERS AND TEAMSTERS IN DEADLOCK OVER WAGE PACT.

Neither Side Willing to Make First Move, Although Both Are Anxious to Negotiate.

The wage contract between the Packing House Teamsters' union and the employers expires next Tuesday night Both the teamsters and the employers are willing to meet and adjust a new scale for another term of years, but on account of a technicality neither side at present will take the first step toward such an end.

Persons familiar with the condition do not think that a strike is imminent, but believe that the appearance of an outside mediator to start negotiations between the men and the employers will bring about a settlement.

The teamsters will meet Sunday to vote on the question of either accepting the old wage scale or leaving the matter open for arbitration. Neither subjects appear favorable to acceptance from the standpoint of the men. Arbitration of the last two contracts resulted only in a renewal of former scales, the men declare. This year the teamsters ask for a horizontal wage increase of 5 cents an hour for all yard drivers.

OVER 6,000 KANSAS CITY WOMEN EARN LESS THAN $6 PER WEEK.

One-Quarter of Fair Sex Workers Receive "Bare Existence" Wage, Two Years' Investigation Shows.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 21.—Twenty-five per cent of the 25,000 women workers of Kansas City receive less than $6 a week, the wage needed for a "bare existence," according to a report of the board of public welfare, made public today. The report is based on two years' investigation.

Here are some facts adduced by the investigation:

Seventeen per cent are married women; 14 per cent are separated, divorced, or widows; 69 per cent are unmarried girls. Seventy-five per cent are living at home or with relatives.

Twenty-five per cent receive less than $6 a week. A wage of $8.50 is necessary for a girl living in boarding and lodging houses in order to live comfortably; $6 a week means a bare existence.

TOWERMAN DERAILS TRAIN TO PREVENT A COLLISION.

Wells-Fargo Express Sent Into Ditch While Running Thirty Miles an Hour Near Hammond, Ind.

While running at thirty miles an hour the Wells-Fargo express train No. 13 on the Erie railroad yesterday was derailed to avoid telescoping the Nickle Plate train No. 1 at the entrance of the bridge across the Grand Calumet river, near Hammond, Ind.

There is only one track across the bridge, and the Erie train reached the bridge first. The Erie train rounded into position alongside the Nickle Plate train, and before the engineer could apply the brakes the bridge towerman, Clarence Wise, in order to avoid a worse accident, derailed the Erie train.

The engineer and fireman on the Erie train, realizing their peril, leaped from their cab to safety.

The engine swerved from the tracks and turned over. Fourteen coaches to the train left the tracks, while another coach was hurtled against the dining car of the Nickle Plate train. The diner was badly smashed and a porter slightly injured.

Economical Housekeeping

Dill Pickles.

GREAT fields of dill are cultivated in our country, and great cartloads of this warming, pungent, aromatic herb, which looks decidedly like a relative of the caraway plant, are to be seen in the wholesale regions of our large cities. Where does it go? It may be surmised that a large part of it goes to German communities, the inhabitants of which are devoted to the pickles which it flavors.

The word in German is spelled exactly as in English, and, after perusing a large number of cook books, in order to find what use different people make of this seasoning, one may come to the reasonable conclusion that it is of German origin. Certainly English and French and Italian books have few or no recipes for its use, and all the German books have several.

On the whole, the dill pickle may be reckoned among the coarser varieties of pickle, that is, it is not as exacting to make as some. The tiny cucumber cannot be successfully used for any of the pickles which are most easily made, but those four or five inches long are needed.

Barrel pickles are only for those who have cellars to keep them in. A large number of our writers on household economics write as though all their readers were so supplied, when perhaps the majority have nothing but a boxed in space in a basement, which is no place for any kind of food other than something like beans, peas, and lentils, and it may not be even safe for them.

What the Germans call "Salzgurken" are the pickles in which dill is used. Frau Hedwig Heyl has the following recipes:

RUSSIAN SALZGURKEN (salt cucumbers).—One hundred and twenty medium cucumbers, 125 washed cherry leaves, about two tablespoons of dill seed, or perhaps a little more; a few washed grape leaves, two pounds of salt, ten scant quarts of spring water. Wipe the cucumbers and pack them with the other ingredients into a suitable cask. Then dissolve the salt in the spring water and pour it over them until the cask is full. Put on the head of the cask and keep in a cold place. After five weeks they are ready for use.

DAUER SALZGURKEN.—One hundred and twenty middle sized cucumbers, a few washed grape leaves, three teaspoons of dill, fifteen scant quarts of water, and two-fifths of a pound of salt. Lay the cucumbers in the spring water for twenty-four hours; wipe and pack with the leaves and the dill in a clean wine cask. Boil the water and salt together, and, when it is hot, turn it over the cucumbers. On the two following days pour off the water; boil it up and pour it hot over the cucumbers. The liquid must cover the cucumbers well. Fasten up the cask and turn it often until the pickles are ready for use.

SUMMER DILL PICKLES.—One hundred cucumbers, five stalks of dill, one ounce of black peppercorns, bay leaves, one cup vinegar, grape leaves or cherry, two cups salt, two gallons water. Soak pickles in cold water over night or twelve hours. Drain and dry. Place in layers of two rows pickles, then three or four blossom ends of dill and a teaspoon of whole black pepper; repeat, covering top layer well with dill and adding some cherry or vine leaves. To four quarts of water take one cup of salt. Boil and, when pool, pour over the pickles to cover. Cover with cloth. Weight well with plate to keep under brine. Let stand in warm place to ferment for a week. One cup of vinegar may now be added. Rinse off scum that rises on cloth every day in warm weather, and once or twice a week when cooler, and pickles will keep hard all winter. Keep cool in a dry place.

In this book there are recipes for dill beans and green dill tomatoes.

The only recipes to be found for dill pickles in English are seemingly translations from the German, except the five in "The Settlement Cook Book" of Milwaukee, which was compiled by English speaking Germans who cook as Germans do. This book, by the way, has many Jewish recipes. The compilers have adapted their recipes to apartment house conditions. The following are from this book:

WINTER DILL PICKLES.—One hundred medium sized cucumbers, one small red pepper, one big bunch of dill, some cherry leaves, ten quarts of water, one quart of vinegar, two cups of salt, two quart Mason jars. Lay cucumbers in salt water over night (one-half cup salt to four quarts water). Boil water, vinegar, and salt, and let cool over night. Drain cucumbers and place in cans in layers between the cherry leaves and dill. Pack cucumbers tight; add a small piece of red pepper. Cover with brine and screw down the cover. Will keep. One cup mustard seeds and one cup horseradish root, shaved fine, may be added.

Lillian Russell's Beauty Secrets.

By Lillian Russell

Wrinkled Eyelids.

[Copyright: 1913: By Lillian Russell.]

MANY beautiful women whose faces are perfect in every other respect have a collection of little fine wrinkles on the eyelids. That condition is the result of rubbing.

Wrinkles can be rubbed into the face far easier than they can be rubbed out of it. And no woman who appreciates either sight or smooth, beautiful eyelids will permit any one to rub her eyelids.

The eyes require the greatest care upon arising in the morning, after driving or motoring or any exposure to dust and wind and sun. It is desirable to bathe the eyes in tepid water in which a little salt is sprinkled. The bathing must be done with a fine linen cloth. Absorbent cotton is much used, but it is dangerous, as little particles of the cotton occasionally get into the eyes and cause severe inflammation. The cloth should be dampened with the water and patted on, not rubbed, letting a few drops of the salt water drop into the eyes.

Cold tea leaves are a great healer of tender eyelids and are sufficiently astringent to keep the eyelids smooth and firm.

In putting any cosmetic cream on the face never rub it above the eyes, but pat it gently on the skin. You can remove it in the same way with a fine dry linen cloth.

Reading at night under an artificial light is disastrous, both to the sight and lids. The eyelids become red and puffy, which causes them to wrinkle.

Amber or smoked glasses are a wonderful rest to the eyes when worn while motoring in the sunlight.

Concentrating the sight upon a flame, or to habitually sit facing a window with a bright light, or to expose the eyes to too sudden transitions of light and darkness, or vice versa, are dangerous to sight and comfort.

It is old fashioned, but candle light is the best light by far to read by, if one must read at night. And even then a soft green shade should be over the top of the candle to minimize the strain of sight and prevent fatigue.

Glasses, when necessary for reading, should only be worn occasionally, not steadily, as they contract the range more and more as the years go by, thus weakening the eyes.

The use of glasses occasionally by either young or old, whose vision is defective, contributes to strengthen the sight in one way by relieving the nerves from the strain of imperfect vision, in another by teaching the retina what perfect vision is.

Our eyes should be sacred to us and we should not abuse them. We should exercise them to keep them healthy and we should respect them sufficiently to care for them daily. They will repay us for any little attention.

The eyes directly affect the eyelids. Rested, cool eyes will be covered with smooth, firm skin.

Remember: Eyes are expressive of health, happiness, and youth.

Lillian Russell's Answers.

BETTY: Sulphur and molasses is an old fashioned remedy, but very effective for clearing the complexion and an excellent blood purifier. Each morning before breakfast take a tablespoonful of molasses and two tablespoonfuls of sulphur. Mix this thoroughly. Take this quantity every morning for three mornings and then stop a morning. Take for about two weeks.

MISS T.: Rubbing the soles of the feet with vinegar will greatly relieve the trouble you complain about. After standing all day or walking and when the feet become swollen and tired, massage them gently with olive oil. In a short time you will find great relief for the feet respond quickly to care.

B. T.: One should first study the cause for angularity—should, in fact, first look for nature's work. It is natural for some people to be thin and to combat this condition is often to combat health. However, there are certain means for attaining weight without injury to the health, even though to be thin is a family characteristic, and these means must bear nature's stamp of approval and must not be through drugs or the so called "fat foods." No one ever saw a laughing man or woman thin and dyspeptic. So begin by eradicating worry from the mind and cultivate a pleasant disposition—a disposition of harmony, if you will. It is often said that the reason some people laugh is because they are feeling good; because they are not dyspeptic. This should be changed to rightly express, "We have no dyspepsia and gain weight because we laugh."

Pickled Walnuts.

PICK the young walnuts while tender enough to be pierced with a needle. Lay them in strong brine and keep in this for three days; drain the nuts and cover again with freshly made brine. At the end of three days more drain again, lay in cold water, and leave them in this for six hours. Scald a gallon of vinegar into which have been stirred one cup sugar, two tablespoons each of whole peppers and cloves, one tablespoon allspice, and eight blades mace. Boil for ten minutes and pour the scalding vinegar over the nuts, which should have been put in a stone crock. Leave them alone for three days, drain off the vinegar, bring it again to the boil, pour it back on the nuts, and cover the jar and put in a cool place. The nuts will have to ripen for at least six weeks.—Request of Mrs. H. C. H.

Corn Relish.

Twelve ears of sweet corn, three medium sized onions, one small head of cabbage, one bunch of celery, three fresh green peppers (seeded), one-fourth of a cup of salt, three pints of cider vinegar, one and a half pounds of brown sugar, two heaping teaspoons of mustard dissolved in boiling water and stirred in at the last. Cut the corn from the cob, chop celery and cabbage, bring the vinegar and salt to a fast boil, and put in the rest of the ingredients, leaving out the mustard. Boil all together twenty minutes after the boil begins again, stir in the mustard, heat for one minute, and seal in scalding hot jars. Wrap in thick papers and keep in a cool place. It will keep well for months thus secured.—Request of S. K. and Mrs. J. H. P.

Recipe for Orange Sherbet.

"Orange sherbet is a fine and inexpensive dessert. Dissolve one and one-half cups of sugar in two cups of boiling water, add two cups of orange juice, freeze to a mush, add the whites of two eggs beaten stiff and one pint of cream which has been whipped. Continue freezing until the sherbet is hard. Could you please tell me where to secure college pennants? O. R."

Your recipe entitles you to pennants if we can get them through the efforts of our junior members. Right sure am I that the college graduate now in her (very wise) housewifely novitiate, who tries the sherbet formula with the success she should have, will strip a pennant or two from her walls out of sheer gratitude and send for the address of O. R. Which reminds me, will the latter send it in full? It is minus one item as we have it.

Strawberry Cream Recipe.

"I am an admirer of the Corner and get many useful hints from it. Some days ago I saw a request for strawberry cream and one recipe for making it. That I always use is simpler and delicious: To one quart of freshly mashed berries (or canned) add one large cup of sugar, more if liked; one quart of rich cream, three-quarters of a quart of milk, a good sized pinch of salt, which adds much to the flavor. A little rose colored fruit paste adds to the attractiveness. Pack and freeze. I always use three parts of ice and one part of salt and freeze slowly at first to have good, rich, smooth ice cream. This will be of help, I hope, to some one. If so, I shall send more good recipes.

"MRS. D. F. B."

Strawberries are out of season (more's the pity!), but red raspberries are a fine substitute. Also the fine yellow variety known as Antwerp raspberries. The suggestion as to the right manner of freezing the cream is timely and welcome. Let us have the promised recipes.

Stain on Serge.

"Will you please tell me how to remove an ice cream stain from a light tan serge coat? I tried gasoline, but it did not remove all the spots. Will some one tell me how to remove the dark ring caused by the gasoline? I enjoy reading the Corner very much and have tried some of the recipes and found them fine. An easy way to clean an aluminium cooking utensil is to boil rhubarb in it. The dish must be full of the rhubarb and boiled for several minutes.

"MRS. L. B. F."

We answered a similar query three days ago in the Corner. I subjoin now that the best detersive of which I have any knowledge and of which frequent mention has been made in the corner is equal parts of alcohol and ether, with the addition of a tablespoonful of common ammonia to a quart of the mixture. It removes grease and stains of all kinds.

Tarnished Mesh Bag.

"Can you please tell me how I can clean or resilver a tarnished mesh bag? I will watch the Corner for it. I should like to give you my recipe for devil's food cake. It is one my dear old grandmother taught me how to make, and it is delicious: One-half cup butter, one-half cup sour milk or buttermilk, one cup brown sugar, one-half cup sweet milk, two eggs, two teaspoons baking soda in some milk. Mix all together. Boiled part: Two thirds cup sweet milk, two-thirds cup white sugar, one cup chocolate cut up fine, one egg. Let this boil until thick, then pour into the other part, and add flour enough to make it quite stiff. I hope some one will try this recipe and enjoy it as much as I do sending it to the Corner. I shall send more later.

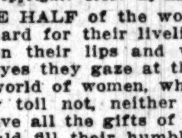
MRS. C. W. W."

I do not know how to resilver the bag. If it be sterling silver it may be cleaned by putting it into a bag of fine emory dust and shaking it violently and long, up and down, sideways and backward, or you may lay the bag flat and rub into it a good plate powder. Use a tolerably stiff brush for the work. Your recipe will, I doubt not, fulfill your expressed hope.

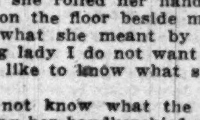
Dressing for Hot Slaw.

"This is excellent for salads or hot slaw: One egg, well beaten; a lump of butter, size of a hickory nut; one-half cup of sweet cream, one-third of a teacup of vinegar, two teaspoons of sugar, one and one-half teaspoons of flour. Stir all well together. Put on the stove and stir constantly until it boils up thick. Pour over shredded cabbage that has been salted. Serve immediately. MRS. A. M."

Of making salad dressing there is no end. Nor can we have too many if the quality be fine. The cabbage over which the above is poured must be from the heart of the vegetable, crisp, white, and fresh. The outer leaves and a withered heart are unpalatable and unwholesome.



Laura Jean Libbey's Advice



By Laura Jean Libbey

Dangerous Examples to Women.

[Copyright: 1913: By Laura Jean Libbey.]

ONE HALF of the world of women work hard for their livelihood. With a sigh on their lips and wistfulness in their eyes they gaze at the other half of the world of women, who are like the lilies—"they toil not, neither do they spin," yet they have all the gifts of the gods. The toilers would fill their humble sphere without a murmur were it not for some strange picture of real life flashed before their wondering eyes now and then.

The girl at the loom works contentedly enough until she sees the poor but pretty girl who has toiled by her side suddenly lay down her shuttle and bobbin and walk quickly out of the whirr and deafening clash of the mill, out into the glorious sunshine. The girl still at her loom is sure that her mate will return the next day, or surely the next; for those who are poor must work to eat. The days, the weeks, and months roll by, and she does not return. Her companions are sure that she sought work more congenial; or perhaps she wedded, they conclude, some honest young man, poor like herself, and is cooking the meals for her husband in some isolated flat with a song on her lips as blithe as the day is long.

The only cheer, aye and comfort, which the toiler gives herself is the purchase of her favorite newspaper. During the reading of its columns she is lifted from her sordid surroundings into a new and enchanting world. She gains a knowledge therein of the lives of the idle rich. Suddenly the beautiful pictured face which she has been scanning seems to assume familiar phases, though the printed words beneath the picture read: "The beautiful Lady Salt. The romance which gave her a fortune." The mill girl forgets her weariness as she reads breathlessly the story which seems more like a fairy tale than facts, strange but true.

She recognizes the picture as that of the dissatisfied mill girl who quit her loom that sunny summer day almost a decade of years ago. She reads breathlessly of her rise from want to wealth, of her beauty, fascination, and cleverness. She had gone through three fortunes and had gained the victory for still another, which amazed the world.

This example of her former mate's life of luxury, dearly bought though it had been, did not make the mill girl's work seem easier to her, as she took up the shuttle and bobbin again. It is just such examples as these that turn the heads of the women who are poor but ambitious. They only see the alluring side of the other woman's career. They know not of her heart aches, her disillusionment of the glare of the white way in which she is walking; that the rose which springs from the soil of ill-gotten wealth has the longest and sharpest of thorns, which pierce the heart at every turn.

It is a pleasant theme to write graciously of lovely women, forgetting their morals in looking at the fairness of their faces. It should be remembered that such fulsome praise forges dangerous examples for other women, who are easily influenced, forgetful that those who break solemn laws pay, though the hour be long delayed.

Every woman is fitted for her own especial sphere. Sturdy flowers soon wither when transplanted to unnatural surroundings. A wise woman should not allow her mind to dwell for an instant upon dangerous examples. It would be wiser by far to call a spade a spade.

What Did She Mean?

"Dear Miss Libbey: I have known a young lady for a year or two, but never have had any chance to spend an evening with her until about a week ago last Sunday she asked me to call. The next and also Tuesday evening I caught her as she rolled her handkerchief up and tossed it on the floor beside me. I would like to know what she meant by it. As she is a nice young lady I do not want to give her up, and would like to know what she meant.

"W."

I really do not know what the young lady meant by rolling her handkerchief up and tossing it on the floor. Perhaps she accidentally dropped the handkerchief. I would not give it another thought if I were you.

Has to Attend to Boss' Business.

"Dear Miss Libbey: I am nearly heartbroken, and I want you to help me. At the beach I met a slick looking young fellow, and he fell in love with me. He told me lots of times that he loved me, and was never happy only when he was holding my hands or kissing me. I only see him twice a week now, and he says he has to go up to the north end on business for his boss evenings. Some one told me he was engaged to a girl up there, and I asked him was he. He said he wasn't engaged at all, and didn't mean to be. I am wondering what he meant. Can you tell me? Shall I keep steady with him and let him kiss me like he wants to? Or shall I go with some other fellows in between? I don't want to be no old maid.

"M."

The girl who permits the familiarities you speak of invariably receives just such treatment as her reward. Men soon tire of girls who permit them to kiss and hug them. You know men prize most what requires the greatest effort to attain. I think you better have nothing more to do with this man. In future adopt a more self-respecting attitude with men if you don't wish to be an old maid.

PUGH DISTURBER SHOWS TOP SPEED

Powerful Hydroplane Wins Its Heat Easily in American Title Event.

FINAL RACE TOMORROW.

Oregon Kid, Baby Reliance, Kitty Hawk V., and Barnacle Also Qualify for Contest.

BY JOHN G. DE LONG.

James A. Pugh's 650 horsepower Chicago hydroplane Disturber III., was the star performer in yesterday's elimination trials for the Wrigley cup and the American championship title that goes with it. Judging from its great performance Disturber III. should be a leading contender for premier honors in the finals to be run on Saturday. The deciding race will bring together Disturber III, Oregon Kid, Baby Reliance, Kitty Hawk V., and Barnacle.

The twenty, twenty-six, and thirty-two foot championships having been decided, no finals were run yesterday, and the excitement was furnished by the boats drawn for the Wrigley cup trials. Four heats were carded, but one failed to fill on account of mishaps to boats entered. Winners in the three heats were Milton Smith's twenty footer, Oregon Kid of Ranier, Ore.; H. H. Timken's twenty footer, Kitty Hawk V., of Canton, O.; and James A. Pugh's forty footer, Disturber III., of this city.

First Race for Pugh's Boat.

It was Disturber III.'s first appearance in the races. Disturber III. was drawn in the same heat with J. Stuart Blackton's Baby Reliance of New York and Albert E. Smith's Hazel II., another Gotham craft. Installed in the hull of Baby Reliance were the motors taken from Baby Speed Demon, winner of the twenty and twenty-six foot American championships, which sank following its victory in Tuesday's races.

Disturber III. had the pole position, with Baby Reliance in the center and Hazel II. on the outside. As soon as the line was crossed the two smaller boats fairly leaped clear of the water as their drivers opened up the throttles. Big Disturber III. rushed for the first stake like the Twentieth Century limited and Driver Smith of Baby Reliance made no attempt to steal the pole position. Disturber III. roared around the mark, throwing up two curving walls of water ahead and leaving a wake in which the twenty footers tossed like corks.

Drives Own Boat to Front.

Mr. Pugh drove his own boat and showed himself to be a skillful pilot, for he first gained a substantial lead on the other two boats and then shut down a trifle so as to not force his craft. Each turn was taken beautifully. The twenty-four cylinders of the two motors were all hitting in unison, while the big boat planed perfectly. Disturber III. was not in danger at any time during the seven laps of the fourteen mile race. It was evident the giant hydroplane easily could have broken all the records of the meet, but Pugh was contented with things and kept power and speed in reserve.

At the end of the fifth lap, or ten miles, Distributer III. led by a half lap and Baby Reliance, which ran second throughout, was unable to gain a foot. Hazel II. was another half lap astern of the Blackton boat. The wonderful control Pugh had over his big boat was shown as soon as he crossed the finish line, for he pulled down from a speed of forty-two miles an hour, rounded to inside the course, and was tied up at the official barge when Baby Reliance finished. The time of Disturber III. was 19:46 1-5 for the fourteen miles, while that of Baby Reliance was 20:52. Hazel II.'s time was 21:40.

Kitty Hawk Beats Barnacle.

Another heat brought together Kitty Hawk V., owned by H. H. Timken of Canton, O., and Barnacle, owned by Adam F. Weckler of Chicago. Barnacle, with its damaged crankcase patched and with other repairs made, did not show the speed it is capable of when right, but at that was able to qualify, being one of the boats to make good under the special rules. Kitty Hawk V. jumped into the lead at the start and held it, and while Barnacle gained on several laps it was not enough to come on anything like even terms. The time of Kitty Hawk V. was 20:40, and that of Barnacle 21:04.

Milton Smith's Oregon Kid of Ranier, Ore., and H. H. Timken's Kitty Hawk Jr. of Canton, O., furnished the sport in the other heat. They got away to a good start, but Oregon Kid outclassed the other boat and won "pulled up" with a lead of three-quarters of a lap. C. V. Cooper's Van Blerck of Portland, Ore., also was drawn in the heat, but could not start on account of mechanical trouble. Oregon Kid's time was 19:43 3-5, and that of Kitty Hawk Jr. 21:58 4-5.

The program for this afternoon will consist of three events, each at ten miles, the first starting at 3 o'clock. Disturber III. and the Oregon Kid are the scratch boats. The first event will be for boats averaging under forty miles, for which three are eligible. The second will be for boats going over forty miles, for which six are eligible, and the third event will be a free for all, for which nine boats are eligible.

FORM WORLD ATHLETIC BODY; MANY NATIONS REPRESENTED.

United States Charter Member of Union Formed at Berlin—Germans Coming for Coast Games.

BERLIN, Aug. 21.—The International Amateur Athletic federation was formally organized at a meeting held in the Prussian diet building this morning. The United States, Great Britain, Canada, Australia, South Africa, Egypt, Belgium, France, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Finland, Germany, Hungary, Austria, and Switzerland are the charter members. Nineteen others, including Mexico and the leading South American countries, have been invited to join.

The morning session was presided over by J. S. Edstrom of Sweden, who is slated for the presidency of the federation. The delegates adopted statutes which define the functions of the association as "the drafting of rules for international athletic competitions, the registering of world, Olympic, and national records, and the drafting of a common definition of an amateur." The delegates showed a desire to exercise an influence over future Olympic games by the appointment of a committee on Olympic games under the chairmanship of S. G. Moss.

The federation will meet biennially, beginning with a congress to be held at Paris in 1914. It will be governed in the interim by a council composed of seven members elected for four years. The proceedings today were conducted principally in English and then translated into German for the benefit of the few delegates who do not understand the English language.

James E. Sullivan, secretary of the Amateur Athletic union, today obtained the promise that a team of German athletes would be sent to San Francisco to compete at the Panama Pacific exposition in 1915. In return for this courtesy it is considered likely that the American team which is to compete in the Greek Olympic games, known as the "local cycle," in the spring of 1914, will, upon leaving Athens, make a trip to Berlin and participate in an athletic meet there. Representatives of France, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, and Finland gave assurances to Sullivan that their countries would be represented at the exposition.

Inland Lakes Yachtsmen Elect Chicago Man President at Annual Meeting—1914 Regatta at Whitebear.

Oshkosh, Wis., Aug. 21.—Dr. O. L. Schmidt of Chicago was elected president of the Inland Lakes Yachting association at its annual meeting today, succeeding F. A. Valentine. C. W. Hollister of Oshkosh was reelected a member of the executive committee. William Pelouze, Chicago, representing the Oconomowoc Yacht club, was elected a member of the executive committee. Whitebear was chosen for the 1914 regatta of the association. Senta of Lake Geneva won today, taking the Valentine cup and the lead in the contest for the Gilbert cup.

All Set for Perry Centennial.

Put-in-Bay, O., Aug. 21.—With the arrival here today of the various entrants, everything is ready for aviation week of the Perry Centennial regatta, which will be started on Monday. The week will be devoted to hydroaeroplanes and hydroplanes. Among the contestants will be Beckwith Havens, Tony Jannus, Walter E. Johnson, Frank Burnside, and Hugh Robinson.

DAWSON HERE FOR AUTO RACE

Speedway Champion Visits Elgin and Picks Training Camp.

MAKES FAST TIME IN TRIAL.

Driver Finds Course Speedy; Predicts Average of Over 70 Miles.

BY REED L. PARKER.

Joe Dawson, world's speedway champion, arrived in Chicago yesterday to begin training for the Elgin road races in which he will defend the Cobe trophy on Aug. 29 with a Deltal car and challenge Ralph De Palma's right to the Elgin National trophy in the big car race on the 30th with a Marmon. He was entertained at luncheon at the Chicago Automobile club by Charles Erbstein, the local attorney.

After luncheon Dawson drove to Elgin, where he arranged his camp at Jenck's garage. With him was Spider Hyde, close friend of the Indianapolis driver, a former driver of a Flanders racing car. Ebstein accompanied the driver to Elgin. After making arrangements for the care of his car and its crew Dawson took a Mamon speed type car and tried the course. He was able to get seventy miles an hour without difficulty. He is especially enthusiastic over the improved McQueen's turn. He was able to take this at full speed and estimates from this that the course is much faster than ever before.

"The average this year will be well over seventy miles an hour," he said. "I shouldn't be surprised if the winner should come close to the world's record now held by Tetzlaff. Tetzlaff made seventy-eight and four-tenths miles an hour over Santa Monica, and while I don't want to say that mark will fall I am certain that the winner will come close to it."

Dawson has not selected a mechanic to ride with him. Mr. Erbstein yesterday expressed a willingness to give racing a trial, but Dawson, who is something of a fanatic on the subject of mechanics, said that Erbstein wouldn't quite do.

Bill Endicott took the Case around the course yesterday and is said to have made ninety-five miles an hour on the home stretch in his Case. A. C. Rankin rode with the driver and said the speedometer wavered at that mark.

ELLIOTT LEADS CHESS FIELD IN WESTERN TITLE TOURNEY.

Champion of Last Year Takes Lead by Small Margin—Hahlbohm and Jefferson Tie for Second.

BY HARRY F. LEE.

The second half of the tournament of the Western Chess association opened yesterday with Elliott of Minneapolis in the lead by a small margin.

Mr. Elliott won the championship of the association last year at Lake Minnetonka, and for years has been considered the strongest player in the northwest. Jefferson continued to play a strong game, and now ties with Hahlbohm for second-third places. The results of the play yesterday follow:

Eighth round—Gessner beat Beckner, Jefferson beat Michelsen, Phillips beat Hine, Daniels beat Shapiro, Morrison beat Palmer, Elliott beat Crew, Ellis and Hahlbohm drew, and the Winter-Scrivener and Widmeyer-Friedlander games were adjourned unfinished.

Ninth round—Morrison beat Hahlbohm, Shapiro beat Palmer, Widmeyer beat Daniels, Phillips beat Friedlander, Scrivener beat Hine, Jefferson beat Winter, Beckner beat Michelsen, Ellis beat Crew, and Elliott and Gessner drew. The standing follows:

	W.	L.		W.	L.
Elliott	7	2	Friedlander	4	4
Hahlbohm	6½	2½	Winter	3½	5½
Jefferson	6½	2½	Hine	3½	5½

Secretary Henry Allen of the Field club last night announced the team selected to play against the Australian cricketers in the first match at the White Sox park on Wednesday. It has been decided to play three games with the visitors and in each the Chicago team will consist of fifteen men, thirteen of these being allowed to field. The team for the first match is as follows: D. C. Davies [captain], G. R. Burton, H. Allen, F. M. Warriner, E. J. Parker, H. C. Andres, B. Govier, T. G. Treanor, J. G. Campbell, Dr. A. H. Boone, J. Evans, J. G. Davis, R. C. Gailey, J. Kingsland, and A. T. Campbell. The reserve players are J. Turner, W. Scwocroft, and W. Dixon.

VETERAN OARSMEN PLAN RACE.

James Ten Eyck Sr., 63 Years Old, to Meet J. H. Riley, 65 Years Old, In Three Mile Contest.

Duluth, Minn., Aug. 21.—James A. Ten Eyck Sr., father of James E. Ten Eyck, coach of the Duluth Boat club, today accepted a challenge to row James H. Riley, the veteran oarsman of Saratoga Lake, N. Y., in a three mile sculling match. Ten Eyck is coach of the Syracuse university. The men are to row not later than Sept. 9 for a purse of $500. Mr. Riley is 65 years old and Mr. Ten Eyck is 63. The race will be rowed at Saratoga lake.

Women's Civic League, 38; Peoria, 0.

The Women's Civic league basketball team of Chicago defeated the Peoria High school squad at Peoria yesterday, winning 38 to 0. At half time the score was 21 to 0.

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS.

J. Howard Camnitz, one of the stars of the Pittsburgh pitching staff, celebrates the thirty-second anniversary of his birth today. He was born in Covington, Ky., Aug. 22, 1881, is 5 feet 8 inches in height, and weighs, in playing condition, about 168 pounds. His first professional engagement was with Greenville, Miss., in the Cotton States league in 1902. The following year he was with Vicksburg, and in 1904 Pittsburgh secured him and turned him over to the Springfield club of the Three Eyes league. He was placed in Toledo, in the American association, for further development in 1905-'06, was then adjudged ripe for fast company, brought back to Pittsburgh, and has been a Pirate ever since. Camnitz got away to a poor start last year, but later took a big brace and pitched brilliantly. His record for 1912 shows that he won twenty-two games and lost ten. This season he is doing his share in keeping the Pirates well up in the National league pennant race.

'FEDS' LOSE IN ELEVENTH, 4-2, TO LEADING HOOSIER SQUAD.

Three Hits and Double Steal Give Indianapolis Game—Pettigrew and Magert Pole Home Runs.

Keeley's Chicago Federals forced the Indianapolis leaders to go eleven innings to secure the verdict in the opening battle of the series at De Paul field yesterday. The final count was 4 to 2. Link and Fisk hooked up in a slab duel.

Alcock started the eleventh for the leaders with his fourth hit, a single to right. Dolan's sacrifice andvanced the third sacker, and he counted when Hopke poled a timely single. Texter's drive sent Hopke to third, and a double steal brought in the second Hoosier tally, due to Farrell's wild heave.

Both runs scored by the Browns resulted from homers over the center field wall. Pettigrew hit for the circuit in the second round and Mackert duplicated the feat in the next session. In the Hoosiers' third singles by Link and Vandergrift and a long double by Alcock gave the visitors two runs.

From the third to the final inning both hurlers pitched sterling ball, and it looked as if darkness might end the battle before a decision was reached. Score:

WILLIAMS BEATS JOHNSTON AT NET

Easterner Eliminates Rival in National Tournament Over Newport Court.

M'LOUGHLIN ALSO VICTOR.

Weber of Chicago Meets Caner of Harvard in College Finals Today.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 21.—Of the 148 tennis players who entered the thirty-third annual all-comers singles championship tournament of the United States National Lawn Tennis association on Monday, there remain in the list tonight just ten. After a day of sensational tennis contests, in which the defeat of William M. Johnston by R. Norris Williams was the feature, it was conceded that the standard of play had never reached the point of excellence which marked the present tourney.

Williams required four sets in which to win, the scores being 6—3, 6—4, 3—6, 8—6, but the margin of victory was far closer than the mere score of games would indicate. The Californian was forced to bow to the more finished play of his opponent, but not until he had put up a battle which aroused another record gallery in a manner seldom seen at the Casino courts.

Williams Shows Indifference.

Williams displayed his usual indifference to breaks in his game and played according to a prearranged plan, using a trifle more care and skill in dangerous pinches than ordinarily. It was this faculty that finally gave him the match. In service, volleying, back court, and net play he was little if any superior to Johnston and it was placement alone that earned him the victory. In nets and outs he gave his opponent point after point, but the skill that comes from long play counted when it came to taking the deciding ace at the end of a long rally.

The summary and stroke analysis of the match, showing games and points won, nets, outs, placements, aces, and double faults, follow:

McLoughlin Defeats Leroy.

Although the Williams-Johnston match was the grand court feature the other contests did not lack merit. As was expected, Champion M. E. McLoughlin defeated Robert Leroy in straight sets, and William Clothier likewise won from W. L. Pate. Wallace Johnson and J. R. Strachan also came through another round, defeating respectively J. G. Brown Jr. and C. M. Bull Jr. W. M. Washburn won from R. Evans Jr., and Leonard Beekman eliminated F. W. Cole after a hard five set match. The one upset of the day was the defeat of G. P. Gardner Jr. by Nat Niles in four sets, reversing the usual result when these players have met heretofore. Following are the results:

Strachan defeated Bull of New York, 6—1, 6—3, 6—2.

Johnson defeated Brown of Newport, 6—3, 6—1, 6—3.

Clothier defeated Pate of Brooklyn, 6—0, 6—2, 6—1.

McLoughlin defeated Leroy, 6—2, 6—4, 6—4.

Washburn of New York defeated Evans of Philadelphia, 6—2, 6—2, 2—6, 6—2.

Niles, Boston, defeated Gardner, Boston, 6—3, 6—4, 4—6, 6—1.

Beekman, New York, defeated Cole, Hartford, 3—6, 4—6, 7—5, 6—2, 6—3.

In the intercollegiate championship the semifinal round was reached with G. C. Caner defeating W. L. McKim and J. H. Weber defeating William Blair. The Harvard and Chicago title holders meet tomorrow for the championship, but the feature comes in the battle of M. E. McLoughlin and William Clothier. Experts predict that the winner of this match will be acclaimed the United States champion of 1913 next week. The intercollegiate championship semi-finals resulted:

G. C. Caner, Harvard, defeated W. L. McKim, Princeton, 6—4, 10—8, 6—4.

J. H. Weber, Chicago, defeated William Blair, Columbia, 6—8, 5—7, 0—6, 6—3, 6—1.

Selects Three Men to Supervise Ring Sport in Wisconsin—Bouts Planned for Labor Day.

Madison, Wis., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—Gov. McGovern today appointed the members of the Wisconsin athletic commission, created by a new law recently passed by the state legislature and which legalizes ten round no-decision boxing bouts. The men appointed on the boxing commission all are well known in sporting circles throughout the state. They are Dr. C. W. Morter of Milwaukee, term of four years; Walter H. Liginger of Milwaukee, three years, and William P. Hart of Eau Claire, two years. They will receive no compensation.

The commission will meet in Milwaukee early next week and organize so as to issue licenses for clubs desiring to hold shows on Labor day. Manning Vaughan, sporting editor of the Milwaukee Sentinel, probably will be elected secretary of the commission at a salary of $1,500 a year.

The fact that Gov. McGovern and Senator La Follette are boxing fans helped the bill in passage through the legislature.

WANT JACK JOHNSON BARRED.

London Actors Condemn Engagement of Negro Pugilist, and Contract May Be Cancelled.

LONDON, Aug. 21.—The engagement of Jack Johnson, the American heavyweight pugilist, by a London music hall, was condemned at a meeting today of the Variety Artists' federation. Regret was expressed that the rules of the federation prevent the executive committee from taking drastic action. A resolution was adopted characterizing the engagement of Johnson as a violation of public decency. Hostility to the negro boxer's appearance on the stage is becoming greater and it seems likely that his engagement will be cancelled.

Cross Meets Dundee on Labor Day.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 21.—Leach Cross and Johnny Dundee, through their managers, signed final articles of agreement today to box twenty rounds here on Labor day at 133 pounds ringside. There had been much wrangling over the weight.

PUGILISTIC POINTERS.

A lot of interest is being shown in the Labor day afternoon ten round bout between Billy Walters and Eddie Clabby. This contest will be held in Hammond.

Billy Walters, the sailor welterweight, has returned from New Orleans, where he fought "Young" Denny last Monday night. George Dugdale, manager of Walters, brought back clippings from four newspapers to show that Walters won the decision.

Larney Lichtenstein, the local fight manager, yesterday took Carl Morris, the Oklahoma heavyweight, under his managerial wing. Morris has been in town for several days in quest of a capable man to look after his business and finally settled on Lichtenstein. Morris is working out daily at Lewis' gymnasium under the direction of Harry Forbes.

BEAT MEYER PAIR A STROKE

Brace of Nines Costs Skokie Team Victory in Annual Event.

BY J. G. DAVIS.

M. F. Bovard and his son, M. F. Bovard Jr., won the annual competition for the Pater Filius trophy at the Midlothian Country club by defeating C. H. and Husted Meyer of the Skokie Country club by one stroke, their score being 190—34—156, the losers having 197—40—157.¼

These sires and sons tied in the regular competition held last week and played off yesterday at Midlothian. The winning pair represented the Marsatawa Country club of Marseilles, Ill., which will hold the big trophy for one year.

The Skokie players owe their defeat largely to a brace of nines, one at the sixteenth hole in the morning and the other at the seventh hole in the afternoon. The hole is 538 yards in length and when the game was close in the afternoon the local men got into trouble, taking six shots to reach the green and three more to get down.

J. P. and Ralph N. Gardner lead the field of fifteen "father and son" teams which battled yesterday at the Homewood Country club in the annual Pater Filius tournament with low net card of 74, with a handicap of 14. Warren McArthur and son Charles had the best gross score of 87, but an allowance of 12 placed them second in the net competition with a 75.

The event is to be a thirty-six hole handicap for two special trophies hung up by H. J. Bosworth, Charles Pike, C. L. Frame, Charles Bowe, and Capt. Warren.

Pairings for the class handicap at Westmoreland tomorrow are Hermes and McMechan, Kerr and Jackson, Gilbert and Raedel, Kent and Shaffer, Welter and Moulding, Wilson and Childs, Prescott and De Golyer, McCurrach and Atkins.

M'DONALD TO MEET STANTON.

Chicago Golfer to Meet Michigan Champion in Final of Kent Country Club Tournament.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—J. N. McDonald of the Wheaton Golf club defeated W. D. Mahoney of Beverly, 4 and 3, in the semi-finals of the first flight of the invitation tournament at the Kent Country club today. He will meet Phil Stanton, champion of Michigan, in the final tomorrow, the Grand Rapids player defeating C. W. Booth of Calumet, 6 and 4.

Raymond Russel of Detroit was compelled to default in the second round to W. D. Mahoney on account of a lame foot. McDonald had low score of the day, with 74, J. L. Miller of Chicago getting 76. Summary:

First flight, second round—W. D. Mahoney, Beverly, won from R. Russel, Detroit, by default; J. N. McDonald defeated W. A. Stickney, 4—3; Phil Stanton defeated E. H. Evans, Evanston, 5—3; C. W. Booth defeated H. Grinnell, up.

First flight, consolation—B. Hopper defeated W. Chatfield-Taylor, 3—2; Dr. B. A. Duffy defeated V. E. Hanson, 4—3; C. F. Winston won from C. L. Lockwood by default; C. B. Kelsey defeated W. J. MacDonald, 2—1.

Semi-finals—Handley beat Bredin, 3—2; Booth beat J. Dole, 3—2.

In the semi-finals of the second consolation flight, C. E. Cleveland, Chicago, defeated H. S. Humphrey, 4 and 3, and Dr. W. E. Code defeated J. C. LeDuc, 1 up, 21 holes.

Plan International Golf Meet.

Asheville, N. C., Aug. 21.—Golf enthusiasts of several nations will take part in a tournament in November, it was announced today. While the announcement was authorized, the date has not yet been set. Frank Prosley of New York, a well known golf expert, will have charge of the affair. Several hundred dollars in prizes and purses have been provided.

ARCHERY TITLES CHANGE HANDS

Four New Champions Developed in National Tourney at Boston, According to President's Report.

Cambridge, Mass., Aug. 21.—Four new archery champions of the United States were named tonight by President Burton P. Gray of the National Archery association, which is holding its annual tournament on Soldiers' field this week. Dr. J. W. Doughty of Tacoma, Wash., became long distance male champion archer of this country and Dr. Robert P. Elmer of Wayne, Pa., won the short distance male title as a result of their shooting in the three days' single matches. In the women's tournament Mrs. P. S. Fletcher of Chicago was announced as the long distance champion and Mrs. L. C. Smith of Newton as the short distance champion.

Egg Breaks Cycle Record.

PARIS, Aug. 21.—Oscar Egg today broke the world's one hour bicycle record, unpaced, by covering forty-three kilometers 280 meters [26.92 miles]. Marcel Berthet on Aug. 7 established a record of 26.35 miles.

SPORTING NEWS NOTES.

The track meet to be held at the Chicago Hebrew institute on Sunday has attracted many good local athletes. Twelve events are billed.

Charles Balke, who won the recent motorcycle road race at Elgin, has signed to ride with the Riverview party team. Balk is expected to take part in next week's races.

The regular matinée will be held at the Austin track of the West Chicago Driving club tomorrow. Five races are carded. Reelfoote will attempt to lower the track record to 2:12¾.

MURPHY TAKES CHEAP RACE

Tilly Tipton Lands Futurity at Salem, but Draws Only $2,100.

Salem, N. H., Aug. 21.—Walter Cox made one of the best drives of the year at the grand circuit meet at Rockingham park today and won the Granite State, valued at $5,000, with Lady Grattan. Reusen, from the Geers stable, had been counted a certain winner of the event.

Lon McDonald outstepped the field in the opening heat with Tommy Horn, though Cox brought Lady Grattan up to a close finish. The first three horses were lapped at the wire. Tommy Horn led to the wire in the second heat, when Lady Grattan nipped him. Reusens was a length back.

Lady Grattan led all the way in the third heat. Reusens was running the last twenty yards, but the judges placed him second. In the final heat LadyGrattan broke soon after getting the word and Reusens took the lead in the back stretch. In the last furlong, however, Cox challenged Geers and fairly outraced him. Summaries:

FOUR FAVORITES FIRST AT PORTER

Opening Day of Second Meeting Attracts Good Crowd to Hoosier Track.

LONG SHOT TAKES THIRD.

Mawr Lad, at 30 to 1, Wins After Hard Brush in Stretch; Stanley H. "Cops" at 6 to 1.

BY JACK PROCTOR.

Heavily played favorites and a long shot, which went to the post practically unplayed, were the winners in the first day's racing of the meeting of the Mineral Springs Jockey club, which opened at Porter yesterday. In the opening race a 6 to 1 chance landed the purse, and in the third Mawr Lad, a 30 to 1 shot, reached the wire first. The other four events resulted as expected.

Ideal weather conditions greeted the 3,000 persons who journeyed to the Indiana track. Oral betting such as featured the first meeting went on unmolested. One of the features was the starting of John Hogan, who has succeeded Dick Dwyer. Hogan won praise for the perfect manner in which he sent the fields away.

There was not a great deal of wagering on the races because of the unknown ability of some of the horses.

Puck Throws Jockey Grand.

Jockey Grand, who had the mount on Puck in the second race, was thrown just after the field was sent away. The horse bolted and its rider shot over its head, but, aside from a shaking up, the jockey was not hurt. The horse followed the rest of the field around the track and was stopped on the back stretch.

Stanley H., with McIntire up, took the opening dash of five furlongs by eight lengths. The winner drew little play at 6 to 1. Alberta Boy, the favorite, was third. Little Jane, the choice in the second race, won in easy fashion.

Mawr Lad, with a perfect ride by Robbins, upset the dope in the third race. Mawr Lad was quoted at 30 to 1 and had little play. The winner got away to a good start, closely followed by Useppa.

J. H. Houghton, with Anderes up, was an easy winner in the fourth event at 1 1-16 miles. Ben Lasca gave him a race for half the distance, but Houghton won by two lengths. Useelt, the 1 to 2 favorite in the fifth, won pulled up, and Janiel, backed from 3 to 1 to 8 to 5, captured the final event.

Summaries of Races.

First race, ⅝ mile, 3 year olds and upward—Stanley H., 112 [McIntire], 6 to 1, won; Jim Ray, 119 [Mondon], 6 to 1, second; Alberta Boy, 119 [Nicol], 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:03. Dick Wiggs, Bow and Arrow, Strike Out, Dr. Burch, Old Crow, Golden Ramble, and Bramblette ran.

Second race, ⅝ mile, 3 year olds and upward—Little Jane, 117 [Nicol], 8 to 5, won; Aunt Alice, 115 [Anderes], 6 to 1, second; Trojan Belle, 110 [Robbins], 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:14 1-5. Eaton, Galley Slave, Sure On, and Sig Levy ran.

Third race, ¾ mile, 3 year olds and upward—Mawr Lad, 119 [Robbins], 30 to 1, won; Useppa, 119 [Woods], 3 to 1, second; Elsie Herndon, 117 [Anderes], 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:02. Gemmell, Pedro, Arrowshaft, Ike Cohen, Couer d'Alene, and Polly Worth ran.

Fourth race, 1 1-16 miles, 3 year olds and upward—J. H. Houghton, 120 [Anderes], 7 to 10, won; Ben Lasca, 112 [Dale], 3 to 1, second; Wood Dove, 107 [Hanover], 5 to 2, third. Time, 1:47 3-5. Beautiful, Defy, and Tom Hayward ran.

Fifth race, 11-16 mile, 3 year olds and upward—Useelt, 117 [Brady], 1 to 2, won; Dr. R. L. Swarinen, 109 [Anderes], 3 to 1, second; Stick Pin, 112 [Bedell], 8 to 1, third. Time, 1:07. Just Red, Chenault, and Trey of Spades ran.

Sixth race, 11-16 mile, 2 year olds—Janiel, 108 [Anderes], 8 to 5, won; Lamb's Tail, 108 [Robbins], 5 to 2, second; Ivan Gardner, 118 [Hanover], 3 to 1, third. Orange, Harwood, Prospero Boy, and Miss Barn Harbor ran.

NAGS SPEED UP AT GALESBURG.

Many Heats and Fast Time Feature the Great Western Trots—Six Brushes Mark 2:20 Event.

Galesburg, Ill., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—Racing at the Great Western meeting today was exceptionally good and was marked by many heats, close finishes, and fast time. In the 2:07 pace five heats were traveled at an average of 2:07 3-10. All heat winners cut their records. Warner Hall won the second brush in 2:04½, but was hard pressed by Our Colonel. King Daphne took the third in 2:04¾ in a driving finish. In the last heat Our Colonel sprung a surprise by winning easily.

The 2:20 trot went six heats, with Smollinger's mare, Belford Belle, and Henrietta C., a Chicago mare, as close competitors. The former showed superior staying powers in the final race. Both reduced their records. In the 2:12 pace The Climax won in straight heats.

EDDIE COLLINS

Eddie Collins made three singles, a triple, and a sacrifice hit in five times up, participating prominently in one of the Athletics' scoring rallies.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

Philadelphia's patched up Athletics won their opening clash with the White Sox yesterday by the wide open score of 7 to 1, and, with the aid of Boston's Red Sox, gained a full game in the pennant race.

Eddie Collins tried to beat the Callahans all alone and was responsible for a whole lot of what happened. He made four straight hits, one of them close to a home run, and came within the thin edge of a spike of making it five straight hits on a bunt in the ninth inning. Schang was the boy who cinched the game with a three base blow with the bases brimming in the sixth spasm.

It started out to be a slab battle between Shawkey and Benz, but did not end that way. Shawkey stuck and got better as the game progressed. Benz blew the job right after Schang's triple. Kid Smith stopped the raging Mackmen in the sixth inning, and they did not score off him after that, but he was lucky to escape a parcel of runs in the seventh.

White Sox Weak in Attack.

The combat was decided in the Sox half of the second inning. Luck ran Chicago's way for a few minutes and the visitors plainly were nervous. A determined attack right there would have changed the whole result, but the Callahans were stopped with only one run, after filling the bases with one down. They would not have scored that tally but for the intervention of providence. When Shawkey emerged from that hole in comparative safety he pitched with increasing confidence, and the whole team settled behind him. During the remaining seven innings the Sox made only one hit and that came after two were out.

Bodie led the crucial assault with a single and was sacrificed ahead by Rousch, who dumped a pretty bunt just inside the third base line. Kuhn was passed. Weaver hit to Oldring in deep short. Rube had no chance to get the runner at first, but tried to force Kuhn at second without recovering before the throw. Red beat the play and the sacks were full with one out.

Bodie Scores Local Tally.

Benz scratched a little bounder to the left of Shawkey, who hustled to convert it into a double play, tripped over his own spikes, and fell down. The ball hopped over him safely. Bodie scored and the bags were jammed again. The accident unsteadied the enemy and the Sox had only to press their advantage to rout them. Chappell popped a tall foul to Baker and Berger rolled a grounder to McInnis for the third out. Just two more home fellows got on after that, Bodie on a double and Kuhn on a pass.

Contrast with that the way the Athletics won the game on one hit in the fourth round. Oldring, first up, worked Benz for a pass. Collins bounded a slow one over Benz's head and beat the ball before Weaver could get to it. A smartly executed double steal put Rube on third and Eddie on second. Baker ripped a fast one close to first, but Chase stabbed it on the bound, tagged the bag to make sure of one man, then whipped the ball home, but Oldring slid under safely. Collins reached third on the play and scored when McInnis lofted to Rousch. The youngster apparently had been taught to relay the ball in, for he threw to Weaver, instead of trying for Collins himself. Daley followed with a single, but was caught stealing.

Collins Leads Big Rally.

With the score 2 to 1 the Callahans still had a chance up to the time of the wreck in the sixth round. Collins captained that attack with his third safety. Baker smashed a single to right, driving Eddie to third. McInnis walked, filling the bases with nobody out. Benz and the Sox were anxious and the Athletics did not fail. Daley poked a single past Lord, scoring Collins, but Chappell came up with the ball and shot it home in time to hold Baker at third. Walsh popped to Weaver and it was up to Schang to settle the thing or leave it in doubt.

Schang settled it with a whizzing drive between Chase and first base, cleaning up the bags and reaching third himself before the ball came back. Benz went to the shower bath after that blow and Smith took up the lost cause. Shawkey's out by way of Weaver let Schang register the fifth run of the inning, but Smith retired the side himself on Murphy's bounder.

The Athletics whaled the ball some in the seventh. With one gone Collins caught one just right and sailed it over left center to the bleacher barrier. He was on top of third when Rousch started the ball back and it looked like a sure home run, but Weaver handled the relay perfectly, wheeled and shot the ball home in time to beat Collins by two yards. Baker scratched a high bounder on which Smith had to make two grabs. McInnis cut loose a double to right, but Baker was held at third and Smith blanked the frame by striking out Daley.

Mackmen Practice Bunting.

In the ninth the Athletics practiced bunting in preparation for the world's series. Murphy laid one down toward third and beat it. Oldring's out by way of Berger put Murphy on second. Collins bunted toward third and Lord pegged him out by a terrifically small margin. Murphy tried to go all the way in on the play, but Chase fired the ball to Kuhn in time to stop him. Collins wanted that fifth hit and talked sassy to Umpire McGreevy about the decision without accomplishing anything.

Mack Cripples Reach Home.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 21.—Three injured players of the Philadelphia Athletics arrived home from the west today to get into condition for the final dash of the American league leaders for the championship pennant. The players are Catcher Lapp, who has a broken finger; Outfielder Strunk, wrenched leg, and Utility Infielder Orr, who has a badly swollen hand.

SOX SYDELIGHTS.

Philadelphia again today and tomorrow.

Those annunciators are great little advertising mediums.

The Mackmen are pretty well shot to pieces, with Oldring at short and two recruits in the outfield. Still they looked like considerable ball team yesterday.

Collins made his first single with two gone in the opener, but was caught napping off first and run to death by Weaver. The visitors beefed for a balk, of course.

The Sox were ahead of the Athletics on their season's series up to yesterday. It now stands even at eight victories apiece and there are six more games between those teams.

Chappell led off in the first with a clean single, but was forced out at second on Berger's bunt to Shawkey. Lord's rap to the pitcher forced Berger. Chase drove Walsh back after a long fly.

Baker led in the second with a single and was sacrificed ahead by McInnis. A passed ball, which looked as if Benz crossed Kuhn, let Baker to third, but Benz left him there by striking out Daly and Walsh in succession.

When Oldring and Collins pulled their double steal of third and second in the fourth, Kuhn handed the ball to third in time to get Rube, but Lord was drawn in, expecting a bunt from Baker, and could not reach Oldring as he slid to the base.

The White Sox gave a ludicrous exhibition of bunting in the fourth. Kuhn led with his second pass, and, as the Sox were only a run behind, Weaver tried to sacrifice. He popped a foul to Schang. Benz tried to repair that damage with a sacrifice and duplicated Buck's feat. If either had delivered the Sox might have counted, for Oldring fumbled Chappell's bounder, but managed to recover in time to fall over and tag second base with the ball, forcing out Kuhn.

Carrigans Not Credited with Tally Scored in Final Inning.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 21.—Boston won from Cleveland today, 3 to 2, in a seven inning contest, the first of a series of three games. The game was called because of rain while Cleveland was at bat in the eighth inning, and a run and hit made by Boston in its half of the inning did not count. A threatened rally by Cleveland also was nipped in the bud. Score:

Allison, Purchased Recently, Poles Seven Hits in Eight Times at Bat in Cadillac Games.

Cadillac, Mich., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—Outfielder "Pete" Allison, purchased last week by the Chicago Cubs, made seven hits in eight times at bat in a double header between Cadillac and Ludington Michigan State league teams this afternoon. Allison hit safely six times in succession. He made two triples and two doubles, scored six runs, and stole three bases. He now leads the league in batting, his average being close to .375. Cadillac won both games.

Worst "Bonehead" Play I Ever Saw.

Chicago.—[To the Baseball Editor of The Tribune.]—The worst bonehead play that I ever saw was a double bonehead play. It was made by the combined efforts of the first and second baseman. The game was between two "town" teams, at Elgin, Ill., in 1911. The Elgin team was at bat with a man on second and one gone. The center fielder of the Elgin team was hitting, and he hit the ball high to right field—the ball went so high the batter was half way between first and second when it was caught. He immediately turned and ran toward first as if to avoid being doubled. The right fielder seeing him run back threw to the first baseman, who was not on the bag. Then it happened that the great collection of ivory was exhibited. The first and second baseman chased the batter, who had been caught out, between first and second base until the runner, who was on second when the ball was hit and went to third on the catch, scored. When the runner had crossed the plate the batter deliberately allowed himself to be tagged. This was really a triple bonehead play, since the right fielder also figured in the deception.

SAM WELLERISMS.

New York, Aug. 21.—[Special.]—Two more games are scheduled against the Giants this time.

Before he dies, Matty is likely to paint a great picture and compose a grand opera.

As they say in New York, "Merkle and Heinog are not playing well this year and are liable to be toined over to St. Louis for Koeny."

The latest achievement of the great Matthewson is a drama, alleged to have been written by him. It is to be produced here soon.

McGraw was chased off the coaching lines early in the game and passed the rest of the time howling horrid things at Umpire Byron, all of which the umpire took without a word.

Jim Vaughn has a baseball suit at last and looks fine in it. He displayed it during the game by warming up down in right field, so as to take the hurling job if Moore were driven to the coop.

Umpires Rigler and Byron were in bad with the players on both sides all afternoon. It looked as if the players had something to kick about, but in the end things must have been about even.

Dick Kinsella of Springfield, Ill., noted scout for McGraw, camp into the press stand to inform us that he thinks "Rube" Shauer, obtained from the Northern league, will be the sensation of the game next year.

Larry McLean looks sleek and prosperous wearing a New York uniform, and they say he's behaving "poifectly." But then, who wouldn't behave with such a bright prospect of being around when the world's series money is divided?

Keokuk, Ia., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—Just after the finish of the game here today between Keokuk and Cedar Rapids, Umpire Garrett rushed up in the stand and assaulted John Cummins, a spectator. A policeman, with the help of the crowd, pulled the two men apart. Garrett was taken to the police station and locked up. He was unable to furnish bonds.

Yesterday's Hero.

CHRISTY MATHEWSON

Christy Mathewson's pitching gave the Giants an easy victory over the Cubs yesterday.

BY SAM WELLER.

New York, Aug. 21.—[Special.]—Old Christy Mathewson today looked just as promising as a pitcher as he did about twelve years ago when he began winning ball games for New York and the Cubs were rudely stopped in their merry whirl around the eastern cities. The score was 8 to 2.

It is quite probable that had the Giants been able to count only two runs instead of eight, Matty would have won just the same. He had the Cubs "buffaloed," and after the third inning he set them down round after round in playful fashion.

On the other hand, a couple of ex-Philadelphians attempted to pitch for the proud Trojans and made a sorry mess of the job. Eddie Stack got first chance at it and fled in great distress in the midst of a third inning bombardment. Earl Moore took his place and pulled the boys out of that plight but was unsteady and ineffective afterward and the Giants took delight in making the victory decisive.

Evers Swats Three Hits.

Matty's hurling was good to look upon, and it was too bad he wasn't against some sturdy fellow who could have made a contest out of the game instead of a farce comedy. Johnny Evers was about the only fellow on the Chicago team who caused annoyance to the veteran hurler. The Trojan poled three hits in the four times up, one of them a home run into the right wing of the grandstand.

However, no pitcher ever received more brilliant support than was accorded McGraw's big star today. There were a half dozen or more sparkling catches, some terrific infielding and at the same time a lot of runs on his side, so he didn't have to worry. So many great fielding plays resulted because for once Matty treated the Cubs with the same scorn as he does the Cardinals or the Cincinnati Reds.

Matty Lobs 'Em Over.

As soon as his mates gave him a lead of three runs Matty began lobbing 'em over and letting the Cubs whale the ball to any part of the Polo grounds they desired. At least Matty did that until some one got on the bases, then he promptly tighened up and pitched as he always did when battling the old champion Cubs.

Of course a lot of fellows hit the ball hard because of Matty's careless abandon. But there are three speed boys in the outfield and they made the game a thriller by their great running catches. Perhaps Matty pitched that way just to give the crowd some thrills. Young Burns was the first to bring the crowd to its feet when he made a daring and wonderful sprint across foul ground, dangerously near the concrete stand, and pulled down a foul fly by Zim which seemed to go out of sight in the sky. A little later Cy Williams poled a terrific line fly to right center and every one thought it was a sure triple or a home run. Jack Murray, some sprinter himself, whirled and ran for the fence as if mad. Just before he got to the wall he turned suddenly and let the ball fall into his hands.

It was only fair to Fred Snodgrass in center that he have a chance to get a bit of applause, too, so Matty laid the ball over the plate for Archer in the seventh, not wishing to pitch any more balls than necessary. Archer swung and the sphere started for the farthest possible barrier, away down in left center. Snodgrass turned and legged it like a wild man, and while we were wondering if Archer would be lucky enough to make a home run on his drive, Snodgrass pulled the ball down over his shoulder while still running.

Trojans First to Score.

The only time the Cubs really made the veteran work was in the third inning; then he tightened up and escaped out of a bad place and allowed only one run, the first tally of the game. One was out when Leach singled, and Evers followed with a ripping one inside of first base, sending Leach to third. Schulte produced a long fly to Snodgrass, and Leach sprinted home, Evers scooting to second on the peg to the plate. Heine Zim then smashed fiercely to deep short, but Fletcher made a lunge and came up with the ball. He never threw to first, but shot to third and seemed to nail Evers. The decision went against him, however, and Evers then started a double steal, but was nailed.

In the last half of that same round, the Giants staged their first rampage, making four runs. Snodgrass began with a walk and stole second. McLean singled over second and Snodgrass was stopped at third. Matty popped a foul to Archer, but Burns lined a single to left, sending Snodgrass home and McLean to second.

Shafer followed with a line single to center, filling the bases. McLean was taken out and Cooper ran for him. Fletcher forced Shafer at second, but got to first himself in time to avoid a double play, and Cooper scored. Doyle poled one inside of first base for a double and both Burns and Fletcher got home. Stack was removed from sight right there and Moore took the hurling job. Merkle popped up a foul to Archer and the first rampage was over.

Moore Also Yields Tallies.

Moore got into trouble in the next inning and permitted two runs. He walked Snodgrass with one out. Wilson singled, sending Snodgrass to third, and he scored on Matty's out. Burns singled again, sending Wilson home. In the sixth Snodgrass led off with a triple to left center and came home when Matty himself poked a single to right. In the eighth, with one out, Fletcher tripled to right center and tallied on Doyle's sacrifice fly.

The other run for the Cubs was obtained in the fifth when Matty got in the hole to Evers after two men were out. Evers had the call three and nothing and Matty didn't want t walk any one, so laid the ball over. Johnny poled it into the right end of the grandstand for a home run. No Cubs got on the bases in the sixth, seventh, or eighth. Heine Zim started the ninth with a single and never got to second. The next two fellows flied out, then Heine was caught off first base, ending the game.

MISERY IN MISSOURI.

The boys of Stovall's pitching corps
Are quarreling, they say.
Each one of them is fighting for
The chance to pitch today.

For those not picked to pitch today,
Tonight's a night of sorrow,
A night to go to church and pray

It's Johnson's turn tomorrow.

Walter Cochato and Driver Legg experienced a sudden change of heart and actually won a race in straight heats.

If Cal keeps Rousch in center the youngster will probably throw right handed one series and left handed the next.

Suggestion to Hughie—Why not inform your army of correspondents that you're not working here any more?

The Wake would like to know why a safety rail at a motordrome is called a safety rail.

"Murray made two sensational catches in right field." They'd have been a lot more sensational if he'd made them in left field.

Editor's note—We are not given to printing slams like the foregoing, but it was signed "J. K." and we thought we had to.

"Chicago Has Best Archer," said a headline. One might add that Detroit wishes it still had him.

The author of the following gave his full name and address, but the authorities will have a harder time apprehending him if we suppress those details:

"Lord, Weaver, it makes me Rathy to see you Chase the ball so hard, and if Bodie, Chappell, and Collins would Russell up a bit we might Schalk up a win occasionally.

We don't know why they should print a picture of Wilbur Good anyway, but it becomes still more baffling when they call him George Pierce.

ROMANCE, LOVE, AND HATE.
By Frank Schulte.
New York, Aug. 21.

I didn't hit in Philly, no; I guess I didn't hit;
In other words, I guess I didn't maul that ball a bit.
I guess I missed that ball. O, yes, I guess I didn't hit.
I guess I didn't give them Philly pitchers fits.
My most jealousest enemies will gratefully admit
That while I was in Philly I mauled that ball a bit.

When Hugh Duffy was manager of the White Sox Frank Houseman used to take frequent workouts with the players before the game. Frank has not been invited to participate in the preliminary practice since Jim Callahan went on the job, and he suspects that Cal is afraid he might show up the regular outfield.

While Marty O'Toole was on the market Frank happened to be frolicking in left field one day. He has a trick of making catches backhanded, and he was pulling some dandies on this occasion. The bugs in the bleachers begged him to reveal his identity, but he turned a deaf ear. Matty McIntyre was rehearsing alongside of Frank, and finally the fans besought Matty to tell who his side kick was.

"It's Marty O'Toole, the famous star from St. Paul," said McIntyre.

"Marty O'Toole, h—l!" shouted one of the bunch. "The old gray haired devil is O'Toole's father; that's what he is."

PITTSBURGH CREW SLAMS DOOINS, 9-6

Fourteen Hits for Twenty-eight Sacks Gathered Off Three Hurlers.

BYRNE LEADS WITH BAT.

Third Baseman Lobert, Hit by Batted Ball, Is Forced to Leave the Combat.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 21.—In a hard hitting game today Pittsburgh defeated Philadelphia, 9 to 6. The Pirates made fourteen hits for a total of twenty-eight bases. Byrne led with a home run, a double, and a single, while Miller made a home run and a double, and every visitor except O'Toole got one or more safeties.

Alexander was knocked off the slab in four innings and Rixey lasted only one, but Marshall finished the game in good style. Lobert was hit on the right knee cap by a fast grounder off Wagner's bat in the first inning and the injury later forced him to leave the game. Score:

Forces In Winning Run with Two Out in Ninth, St. Louis Losing by Count of 7 to 6.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 21.—With the score tied, two out, and three men on bases in the last half of the ninth inning Harmon gave Connelly a base on balls and forced Whaling across the plate with the run which gave Boston the victory over St. Louis today, 7 to 6. The visitors batted Hess hard in the first, third, and fifth innings. Boston found Griner easy after the third and drove him from the slab in the sixth. Zinn, purchased recently from the Rochester International league club, played his first game for Boston today and made a good showing. Score:

EITELS PURCHASE BIG FEE IN LOOP

Merge Leasehold and Take Site of Metropolitan Block, La Salle and Randolph.

CONSIDERATION $750,000.

Property One of Chicago's Landmarks, Prominent Before Fire of 1871.

Karl and Emil Eitel, owners of the leasehold estate in the ground under the Metropolitan block at the northwest corner of Randolph and La Salle streets, 80x181 feet, have merged the leasehold and fee by the purchase of the latter from Alexander A. McKay. The consideration is withheld, but it is said the sale was on about a 4 per cent basis, which would make the consideration in the neighborhood of $750,000, which is 4 per cent on the annual ground rent of $30,000, which the Eitels pay.

The purchase makes the Eitels the owners in fee simple of a plot with a frontage of 121 feet on Randolph street and 181 feet on La Salle street, as they already owned the forty-one feet west and adjacent to the Metropolitan block. The board of review valued the land at $409,989 and the five story building at $95,241, or a total of $505,230.

Obtained Lease in 1910.

The Eitels leased the property in 1910 for ninety-nine years, at which time it was said they planned in the near future the construction of a hotel or office building, but the delay in the completion of the La Salle street tunnel is said largely to have been responsible for the postponement of the project.

The Metropolitan block is one of the landmarks of downtown Chicago. Prior to the fire of '71 it was a four story building and was a conspicuous business and financial center. The first floor was occupied by R. K. Swift with a bank, while in 1858 Mr. Greenebaum, father of the heads of the present banking house of Greenebaum Sons company, had a bank on the corner.

Own Bismarck and Garden.

The Eitels are, with E. Demme, the proprietors of the Hotel Bismarck and the Bismarck garden and control by ninety-nine years' lease the property at the southeast corner of Randolph street and Fifth avenue and own in fee simple the property at 173 Randolph street, where their wholesale store and office have been located for a number of years.

The sale to the Eitels was negotiated by Frederick T. Hoyt, who also negotiated the lease, while C. H. Poppenhusen and John P. Wilson Jr. attended to the legal details.

Young & Johnson, who were the brokers in the recent sale of the Morse avenue theater for Anton Wille to Anna C. O'Bryan, have sold for William A. Bond to James O'Connor the six apartment building at 1512-16 Bryn Mawr avenue for $28,500, subject to an incumbrance of $15,500. Mr. O'Connor gave in part payment the residence property at 2141 Ewing place and the balance in cash.

Auburn Park Deal.

There was filed for record the transfer by Mrs. Mary A. Stevens and Mrs. Edna J. Reul and husband, Harry, to Alfred E. Manning of their interest in the ground under the Auburn lakes, three in number, in Auburn Park, and the private parks adjoining the same, comprising about eight acres in all. The boundaries being Seventy-eighth and Seventy-ninth streets, Stewart avenue, and the Rock Island right of way. A consideration of $2,000 is given, and Mr. Manning subsequently conveyed to the Chicago Title and Trust company in trust. It is the purpose of the people living in that immediate vicinity to purchase the ground under the lake and immediately surrounding them and transfer the same to the south park commissioners with the understanding they maintain the same as parks.

M. S. Plotke Makes Purchase.

The property at the southwest corner of Willow and Orchard streets, 48x83¼ feet, with flat improvements, has been sold by the estate of Michael W. Robinson to Milton S. Plotke, consideration nominal, subject to an incumbrance of $7,500.

Patrick F. Haynes has conveyed to Arthur E. Jones, trustee, a tract of five acres at the northeast corner of Argyle street and California avenue, for $6,500, subject to an incumbrance of $5,500.

RECEIVER DEMANDED FOR W. R. HUMPHREY, REALTY MAN.

Petitioners Allege Liabilities of Broker Are $100,000, While Known Assets Are Only $11,700.

Appointment of a receiver for the estate of William R. Humphrey, a real estate broker with offices at 29 South La Salle street, was filed yesterday by the Homestead Realty company of Kansas City, Mo. Humphrey's liabilities are alleged to be in excess of $100,000. Known assets of $11,700 were listed.

The realty company based its petition on eight notes totaling $9,000, which they hold against Mr. Humphrey and which they claim they are unable to collect.

The appointment of a receiver "is absolutely necessary of re the preservation of the estate and equity," reads the petition.

A petition to have the Italian-American Macaroni Manufacturing company, 1306 Belmont avenue, declared insolvent, and a receiver appointed, was filed by Armour & Co., J. M. McDonald, and the Pillsbury Flour Mills company.

Attorney Ben N. Breding was asked the cause of the insolvency.

"Oh, I guess the Italians are going back on spaghetti and macaroni," he said.

FEDERAL GRADES, NEW GRAIN PLAN

Secretary Houston May Also Seek to Regulate Interstate Shipments.

HEARINGS TO BE HELD

Brokers and Farmers Will Be Given Chance to Express Opinions on Move.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—An announcement that foreshadows the eventual application of the food and drug act to interstate shipments of grain and possibly federal grain inspection, was made today by the department of agriculture.

The bulletin contains a tentative standard graduation of corn, worked out by the bureau of plant industry, which had been conducting an extensive investigation of grain grading throughout the country under the direction of congress.

The scheme of graduation announced today is for the information of the grain exchanges and organizations of dealers and farmers who will be invited to a series of formal hearings in the latter part of September or in October.

After hearing arguments for and against the tentative standards, Secretary Houston will fix the grades which will be recognized by the government.

Proposed Grades Given.

The grades proposed follow:

Grade classification—White, yellow, and mixed corn...	Maximum pctge. of moisture	Max. pctge. of damaged corn, exclusive of "heat damaged" or "mahogany" corn	Max. pctge. of foreign material, including dirt, cob, finely broken corn, other grains, etc.	Max. pctge of badly broken or "cracked" corn, not including finely broken...
No. 1	14.0	2	1	2
No. 2	15.5	4	1	3
No. 3	17.5	6	2	4
No. 4	19.5	8	2	4
No. 5	21.5	10	3	5
No. 6	23.0	15	5	7

Sample—See general rule No. 6 for sample grade.

Grading Rules Proposed.

The following general rules for grading corn are proposed:

1. The corn in grades No. 1 to No. 5 must be sweet.

2. White corn, all grades, shall be at least 98 per cent white.

3. Yellow corn, all grades, shall be at least 95 per cent yellow.

4. Mixed corn, all grades, shall include corn of various colors not coming within the limits for color as provided for under white or yellow corn.

5. In addition to the limits indicated No. 6 corn may be musty, sour, and may also include corn of inferior quality, such as immature and badly blistered.

6. All corn that does not meet the requirements of either of the six numerical grades by reason of an excessive percentage of moisture, damaged kernels, foreign matter, or badly broken corn, or corn that is hot, heat damaged, fire burnt, infested with live weevil, or otherwise of distinctly low quality, shall be classed as sample grade.

7. In No. 6 and sample grade reasons for so grading shall be stated on the inspector's ticket or certificate.

8. Finely broken corn shall include all broken particles of corn that will pass through an 8x8 mesh wire sieve, the diameter of the wire to be twenty-five thousandths of an inch.

9. Badly broken or "cracked" corn shall include all broken pieces of kernels that will pass through a 4x4 mesh wire sieve, the diameter of the wire to be thirty-six thousandths of an inch, except that the finely broken corn as provided for under rule 8 shall not be considered as badly broken or "cracked" corn.

10. It is understood that the damaged corn, the foreign material, including cob, dirt, finely broken corn, other grains, etc., and the badly broken or "cracked" corn, as provided for under the various grades, shall be such as occur naturally in corn when handled under good commercial conditions.

11. Moisture percentages as provided for in these grade specifications shall conform to results obtained by the standard method and tester as described in circular 72, bureau of plant industry, United States department of agriculture.

The department will issue within a few weeks proposed gradings of wheat, oats, and other grains.

McCumber Started Agitation.

The movement to subject the grain trade to national regulation emanates from two sources. Senator McCumber of North Dakota for several years has been pressing for legislation creating a system of national grain inspection which shall supersede state inspection. But congress has gone no farther in this direction than to authorize an investigation and fixing of standards of grading.

HOGARTH DECISION PLEASES CHICAGO RAILWAYS OFFICIALS.

Satisfaction Expressed at Treasury Department Clearing Local Financiers of Charges by Discharged Employe.

Chicago Railways officials yesterday showed considerable satisfaction with the action of the treasury department in clearing the National City bank of New York and local financiers of charges preferred by J. B. Hogarth, a discharged employé. Henry A. Blair, head of the company and chairman of the board of the Chicago Elevated railways, attributed the charges to a desire to promote the so-called "protective association" now seeking to defeat the present company administration at the October meeting.

The department considered Hogarth's charge that the Chicago financiers had obtained a $44,000,000 loan from the New York bank in violation of the banking laws. The examiners found the transaction was not a loan, but the purchase for a syndicate of $30,000,000 notes.

"There was quite as much merit in this story as there is in many others relating to railways matters, for which Mr. Hogarth is responsible, and through the active circulation of which he hopes to rally support to the protective association, on behalf of which he is acting," said Mr. Blair. "By those who are familiar with the character and standing of the men who are being assailed by the Hogarth charges, the futility of these attacks is recognized and their purpose well understood, and a continuance of the campaign of misrepresentation, in which the unfounded charges against the National City bank are a shining example, will gain no substantial support."

TAX SEARS-ROEBUCK OWNERS

Reviewers Assess Shareholders of Chicago Mail Order Firm.

ROSENWALD'S FIGURE LEADS

Holdings Are Valued at $2,510,917, Largest in Cook County.

The board of review held a "clean up" day yesterday and disposed of the four most important cases which have been presented. The Thomas Cusack Sign company, which was assessed on $4,500,000, will pay taxes on $141,000; the banks were reduced 10 per cent instead of 15 per cent as has been the custom; the insurance companies secured a reduction of 25 per cent, and the shareholders of the Sears, Roebuck & Co., who have never been taxed on their stock, were assessed at one-tenth of the market price of their shares.

The Cusack company refused to file a schedule after repeated requests from the board of assessors. The property was then placed on the books at $3,000,000 and a penalty of $1,500,000 added. The company complained to the board of review. Its sworn statement of assets included $49,000 in bill boards, $40,000 in paints, and $5,000 in cash.

Webb Admits Figure Too High.

"The assessment was too big, of course," said Reviewer Webb, who handled the case, "but it was the only way to make them come in."

The reviewers totally disregarded the brief submitted by Assistant Corporation Counsel Leo Hornstein, in which he demanded that the assessment of the banks be increased by several millions.

The assessment of the shareholders of Sears, Roebuck & Co., a foreign corporation, was made after a prolonged fight on the part of the Illinois Tax Reform league, which informed against the shareholders. They have never been taxed on their stock. Protest on the part of several assessed is expected on the ground that they live outside of Cook county.

Here's the List.

Mr. Rosenwald had already scheduled $500,000 on other personal property. The addition makes his assessment the largest in Cook county. Richard W. Sears, who owns 4,140 shares, claimed to be a resident of Lake county, and not assessable in this county.

TAKE PROFITS IN TRACTION ISSUES

Traders Sell Railways Certificates "2" After Prices Advance Further.

Improved Position Due to General Belief That Prospects Are Good.

Traders began taking profits yesterday after lively buying early in the session on the Chicago stock exchange lifted the price of Chicago Railways certificates "2" nearly a point and a half. With the profit taking the advance was checked, and at the close the price stood at 29½.

Strength shown by this issue in the last few days helped series 1 to advance a point and series 3 to work up a half point. The "B" issue of 5 per cent bonds also furnished the only feature to a dull market in this class of securities.

The improved position of the Railways securities is based on the belief that the prospect is good. The company has issued no official statement of earnings latterly, but gross is understood to be maintaining the steady growth of previous years and net making the encouraging exhibit marked since the reorganization.

National Biscuit common furnished a bit of interest with another 3½ point advance on limited trading. Inquiry is good, but sales on this market are few at present. American Can and Montgomery Ward preferred stocks ruled fractionally higher, but elsewhere there were general recessions. Carbide's drop of 2 points showing the widest change. Swift & Co., Gas, and Quaker Oats moved off a fraction on light business.

Beet Sugar's Position.

American Beet Sugar is now understood to have disposed of all the 530,000 bags carried over from the 1912-'3 fiscal year and showing on the March 31 books as stock on hand. As this constituted close to one-third the 1912 production, it is worthy of note that the prices obtained were satisfactory, market and prospects considered.

With a recollection of this large stock for carrying over, the company has been working this year to negotiate advance sales, and has already disposed of the product for August and September for future delivery. This foresight has probably cost something, as sales so contracted could not take advantage of higher prices prevailing at present.

Currency Discussion Today.

A number of the western bankers who recently conferred with Secretary McAdoo on the division of the $50,000,000 crop moving supply, and incidentally on the currency legislation, arrived during the day to participate in today's important conference at the Hotel La Salle. The bulk of the New York bankers and those from various middle west cities are due this morning. The conference will open at 10 a. m.

Brief expressions by those already here indicates something of a division of sentiment toward the Glass-Owen measure as amended. There is practical unanimity that the bill is not all it should be, but there is wide divergence in the extent of hostility. One considerable faction believes the administration has done its best to meet the demands of the banking interests, and further amendments are not of a nature so serious they will fail of careful attention by congress. The other faction is so vigorously opposed to such features as the non-administrative powers of the bankers' advisory board, itself a concession, that the whole measure is opposed.

Northern Pacific Expenditure.

Advance figures of Northern Pacific's 1913 fiscal year contain one important feature, the extent to which the road took advantage of its notable gain in gross revenue to build up its roadway. Gross reached the high point of $72,600,000, or nearly 15 per cent better than 1912.

Out of this was expended $18,700,000 for maintenance, nearly 25 per cent more than in 1912, and probably sufficient to allow the company to let down a bit should coming revenue fall below expectations. Yet with this outlay net after taxes and outside operations adjustments figured $24,-300,000, or 11.3 per cent better. The balance for the stock should prove to be somewhere around 8½ per cent.

September Disbursements Heavy.

Dividend and interest disbursements next month will total $112,023,045, an increase of $5,149,000 over September, 1912. The increase is entirely in the form of interest, which is $5,600,000 more than a year ago. Dividends show a slight decrease, due to the comparison with a month when American Tobacco made a $9,000,000 distribution. This year it will pay out $2,000,000.

Dividend figures make the following comparison:

	1913.	1912.
Railroads	$20,703,564	$19,925,938
Industrials	35,232,440	37,028,122
Street railways	2,387,041	1,819,936
Totals	$58,323,045	$58,773,996

The current year contains far in excess of 1912, however, in the matter of industrial dividends, the following table giving monthly comparisons:

	1913.	1912.	1911.
January	$ 49,288,183	$ 44,148,718	$ 42,631,480

Money and Exchange.

Money in Chicago steady, 6@7 per cent on commercial paper, 6@7 per cent on collateral, and 6@7 per cent over the counter. Foreign exchange was quoted as follows:

Sixty day grain	483
London cable	486⅞
London demand	486¼
Berlin checks	95 3-16
Paris checks	518¾

Bank clearings in Chicago, $44,084,063. New York exchange in Chicago sold at 20c discount.

Dividends Declared.

Chesapeake and Ohio railway company yesterday declared a quarterly dividend of 1 per cent, payable Sept. 30 to stock of record Sept. 5, and reducing the rate to 4 per cent a year. It has been paying 5 per cent since the beginning of 1911. The road's situation was not sufficiently benefited by the lifting of the Hocking Valley rate from 7 to 8 per cent by the day's declaration.

The Great Lakes Towing company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent, payable Oct. 1 to stock of record Sept. 15.

The Brooklyn Union Gas company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent, payable Oct. 1 to stock of record Sept. 13.

Increase of Dividend Rumored.

Some credence is given the report that the Public Service company of northern Illinois will increase the common dividend rate at the end of the year. The concern has recently disposed of a $2,500,000 issue of notes, proceeds of which will take care of the $1,500,000 maturing notes issued for paying for the Northwestern Gas purchase.

The last annual statement was for a fiscal period of fourteen months. According to figures given out recently, earnings after interest and dividend allowance show a margin of something less than 2 per cent over present dividend requirements. It would appear any increase in the rate must be based on the assumption of better business in the future.

Pacific Gas and Electric's annual statement, an account of which has already been published, offers the following balance sheet as of Dec. 31, 1912: Rights and good will and properties, $116,-487,071; construction funds, $1,657,752; stocks of subsidiary companies, $34,177,281; bonds, $2,219,-...; deferred charges, $5,717,494½; materials and supplies, $1,723,042; bills receivable, $45,014; accounts receivable, $1,373,573; cash, $1,094,006; miscellaneous, $387,404; total, $165,072,397.

Liabilities—Common stock, $63,695,616; preferred stock, $10,000,000; bonded debt, $77,955,-...; bonds called, but not redeemed, $36,480; due to subsidiary companies, $2,666,843; bills payable, $2,...,596; accounts payable and unaudited bills, $...,685; drafts outstanding, $690,233; deposits, $...,373; unpaid coupons, $37,487; dividends, $598,-...; interest accrued, $1,183,504; refunds, $1,321,-009; reserve funds, $2,920,171; surplus, $3,011,679; total, $165,072,397.

LATEST WALL STREET GOSSIP.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—[Special.]—Action is what is expected in the stock market within the next few days. Prices and trading have reached the point of inactivity where the peaks and recessions of trading have given place to a dead level. Something must shortly happen one way or the other. There have been three days of desultory trading, obviously that of the professional.

Reading and Lehigh Valley formed a feature of strength in the market today that was conspicuous against the background of general decline in the rest of the speculative department. Reading, at the high, moved up to 162, within ⅜ of the high of the recent upward movement. Lehigh Valley was firm throughout the day. The action of the two coalers attracted attention. It gave evidences of potentialities for a future upward movement.

The weakness of the Harriman stocks, in which popular interest is now largely centering, was a prominent feature of the market. Selling of the Union Pacific rights to subscribe to Southern Pacific stock reaches larger proportions as the time of duration of their life, now little over a week long, draws to a close. The rights were sold today as low as 26 cents, less than 1-3 their value a week ago. One of the innumerable chances for a profitable trade afforded in the prices of this Union-Southern Pacific offering is for an underwriter who is to get his Southern Pacific stock at 85½, to sell present Southern Pacific short at present prices five points higher.

It is obvious, however, that no selling of this kind will take place. The underwriters do not know in the first place whether they will get any stock. Again, it is naturally accepted that the members of such a syndicate are more interested in the future value of Southern Pacific at prices around par than in the possibility of a profit of the questionable nature presented in the short sale.

One of the very striking parts of the report of the officers of the Chesapeake and Ohio was the fact that since March the number of its stockholders has increased almost 20 per cent, from 5,100 to 6,100. Though the experience of one road is not a conclusive proof, the public has undoubtedly been in the market at the low prices and has been steadily stowing away cheap stocks in their investment boxes.

The reduction of the Chesapeake and Ohio dividend from the annual rate of 5 to 4 per cent was less than then pessimistic expected, and the stock moved up slightly after the action. Chesapeake, it has been recognized, could not maintain its 5 per cent rate on earnings that were at best equivalent to 7 per cent on the stock.

The raising of the Hocking Valley dividend from a 7 to an 8 per cent basis today, in addition to the declaration of the extra dividend of 4½ per cent recently, is, of course, all to the advantage of the Chesapeake. The increase of the Hocking dividend, however, amounting to a net gain of $88,000 to the Chesapeake, could hardly be expected to be an influence of much weight in determining the advisability of the reduction of the dividend of the Chesapeake at this time, whose dividend requirements yearly amount to more than $2,500,000 at the reduced 4 per cent rate.

General Financial News.

July output at Rhodesia in July was 59,248 fine ounces, valued at £249,302, comparing with 57,122 oz. worth £240,514 last year.

Earnings of 106 public utilities companies for the year ended June 30, collected by the Chicago Market Record, show gross of $270,200,000, and net of $125,500,000, the latter a gain of 9 per cent.

Lee, Higginson & Co. announce the theft of $5,000 Illinois Steel Co. 4½ debentures, due April 1, 1940, Nos. 2356 and 11184-7, and $5,000 American Telephone and Telegraph 4s, due July 1, 1929, Nos. 11196, 17996, 75511-3, and warn against negotiation in them.

Local Securities.

The Harris Trust and Savings bank and its eastern associates have just purchased £926,000 [$4,-506,500] of Toronto, Canada, 4 per cent bonds maturing July 1, 1948. These bonds are a general obligation on all the taxable property in the city of Toronto. They will be offered at a price of 84 and interest to yield about 5 per cent. Available records indicate that this is the lowest price at which city of Toronto bonds have been publicly offered. The bonds are being issued in pounds sterling and payable in London and also payable in Toronto and New York city in currency at the fixed rate of exchange of $4.86 2-3. They will be offered in this market by the Harris Trust and Savings bank and Brown Bros. & Co.

IN FOREIGN STOCK MARKETS.

LONDON, Aug. 21.—The stock market was heavy today. Uncertainty regarding the Mexican situation weakened Mexican securities and realizing caused declines in other directions. Consols were firm on weekly bank return and closed 3-16 higher. American securities opened steady and a fraction higher. Unfavorable reports of the Mexican situation induced selling during the forenoon and prices fell below parity. New York offered stocks in the afternoon and the market continued to sag and closed easy. Money and discount rates were quiet.

UPTURN IN HOGS CONTRACTS RANGE

Cheap Packing Grades Advance and Lightweight Offerings Hold Steady.

CATTLE TRADE BUOYANT.

Steers Sell Firm to 10 Cents Higher; Lambs Climb; Sheep Stationary.

There was a contraction of the price range on hogs at Chicago yesterday, and, while cheap packing grades sold at an advance of 10c, high priced, lightweight offerings held barely steady. A top of $9.10 was made, but while this was only as high as sales made on Wednesday, the average price was given an upward boost of 6c by the advance for packing hogs. Big killers showed little hesitancy in following the upward trend of values, taking 13,600 head at an average of $8.26. Shippers bought 4,000 hogs, and about 3,500 were carried over unsold.

Cattle market had a buoyant undertone, with steers selling firm to 10c higher. A feature of the trade was the sale of distillery steers at $9.00 per hundred lbs. the highest price of the year. Cows and heifers sold slowly at weak prices, while calves were firmer, with the bulk of prime vealers at $11.00@11.25.

Lamb prices continued to climb upward, making a gain of 10@15c, while sheep values held stationary. The trade had a good action, with both native and range lambs topping at $8.00, while Montana wethers made $4.65.

SUES TO SET ASIDE LEASE.

Coal Man Says Brother-in-Law Obtained Assignment on Downtown Property but Didn't Pay.

Suit against Herbert E. Bell, president of the Bell & Zoller Coal company, 343 South Dearborn street, to have the assignment of a ninety-nine year lease on a building at Michigan avenue and South Water street, held by Bell, set aside was filed in Circuit court yesterday by Lorraine F. Bowyer, president of the Kanawha Valley Coal company, 305 North Michigan avenue. He is a brother-in-law of Bell. Bowyer charges that while he was seriously ill in 1911 and pressed for money, his brother-in-law persuaded him to sell him the lease, the price to be fixed by mutual agreement. He says he delivered an assignment of the lease to Bell but has not as yet received any money for it.

TRADING LIGHT IN STOCK MARKET

Uncertainty Marks Day at New York Despite Bearish Sentiment.

STEEL BILLETS DOWN.

Issue Heavy with Others as Mexican Crisis Continues to Restrain.

New York, Aug. 21.—Definite news concerning the affairs in which Wall street is particularly interested just now was lacking today, and the uncertain movements of stocks reflected the lack.

One of the few factors was renewed selling here on a moderate scale for foreign account, and the manner in which the list sagged under these offerings suggested that traders saw no reason for supporting prices.

Although no attempt was made to put the market under heavy pressure, and business dragged along in desultory fashion throughout the day, prices did not recover from the depression of the first half hour.

Market Sentiment Bearish.

It was a waiting market, and, while sentiment was bearish, traders were not in the mood to enter upon new ventures. News from Mexico was mixed. The continued uncertainty over the Mexican situation was, perhaps, the chief restraining factor.

The reduction of $2 a ton in steel billets attracted attention, the course of the market for billets being considered one of the best indications of prevailing conditions in the steel trade in general. United States Steel was sold persistently and its heaviness influenced the entire list.

Chesapeake and Ohio rose nearly a point after announcement of reduction in the annual dividend rate from 5 to 4 per cent. The heavy losses which the company sustained in the spring floods explained the change, which had been generally expected and fully discounted.

Bond Market Reactionary.

The bond market showed a reactionary tendency. Total sales, par value, $915,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Money on call steady, 2@2¾; ruling rate, 2¾; closing, 2@2¼. Time loans steady; 60 days, 3¾@4 per cent; 90 days, 4¾; six months, 5¼@5¾ per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 6@6½ per cent; sterling exchange steady, 4.8310 for 60 day bills, 4.8650 for demand. Commercial bills, 4.82⅝. Bar silver, 59⅛. Mexican dollars, 46. Government bonds steady. Railroad bonds irregular.

Six Railroads Are Sued.

Sixteen suits for $500 damages each were filed yesterday against six railroads leading into Chicago, charging cattle were kept in cars for more than thirty-six consecutive hours without being properly provided with water, food, or facilities for resting.

STRONGER TONE IN WHEAT TRADE

Firm Liverpool Cables and Unfavorable Weather Northwest Are Factors.

CORN HAS LATE SETBACK.

Forecast for Rain and Lower Temperatures Check Buying; Offerings Larger.

Higher cables from Liverpool, early strength in coarse grains, and predictions of lower temperatures in the Canadian northwest were instrumental in giving wheat prices a sharp rise yesterday. Profit taking was encountered on the bulge, and part of the advance was lost, but for the day prices were ¼c to ⅜@½c higher. Cash houses were fair sellers of the December, Nye-Jenks and Armour selling quite a little.

The commission house buying was headed by Clement-Curtis, King-Farnum, Barrell, and Geahart. Barrett was a moderate buyer, and local shorts covered freely on the first advance. The market was bare of offerings at the start, but during the latter part of the session the demand appeared to be much less urgent. The export demand was conspicuous by its absence, and bids were reported 1@2c out of line.

Harvesting Is Delayed.

Further rains northwest were shown by the weather map, and harvesting and thrashing operations have been delayed at a number of points. Winnipeg wired that low temperatures were forecast, and that it would be dangerously close to the frost line. At some places in Canada the crop is further along than usual at this time of the year, and the main cause of concern is a possible wet harvest.

Receipts in the southwest are dropping off, arrivals at St. Louis and Kansas City for the day being 200,000 bu, against 375,000 bu a year ago. Total primary arrivals were 983,000 bu. compared to 1,090,000 bu a year ago. Receipts here were 344 cars, with 206 cars for today. Northwest points had 219 cars; last year, 241 cars; and Winnipeg 29 cars, against 61 cars a year ago.

Russian Advices Mixed.

Liverpool was influenced by the bullish Russian reports and by the delayed harvest in western Europe, native offers generally being light. Closing prices at the English market were ⅛@¾d up. Spot wheat was firm because of the better demand for cargoes and parcels. Paris was 1@1½c lower; Antwerp, unchanged; Berlin, 1⅜c up; and Budapest, ⅝c higher. Weather conditions are still unfavorable in some of the important wheat sections of Europe.

Argentine shipments were estimated at 480,000 bu for the week. The acreage in Argentina is estimated larger than a year ago. Minneapolis wheat stocks decreased 775,000 bu for five days.

Corn Advance Is Checked.

Corn gained sharply in price early, but lost most of the upturns, closing ¼c up to ½d off, the September weakening a little on increased offerings from the country and some scattered realizing in the pit. Rains were forecast for a large part of the belt, and while the reports from the southwest were bullish they did not have so much effect on the market as recently.

The cash market was firm, prices steady to ½c up, but the eastern demand was quiet, and there were more offerings of corn from Iowa and also from Nebraska. In sections where there have been rains the crop has shown improvement, and from those sections more corn is offered at prevailing prices. So far receipts continue small, but it is expected there will be a fair run in a short time.

Receipts for the day were 67 cars, with 59 cars the estimate for today. Primary receipts were 380,000 bu, against 333,000 bu a year ago. Shippings sales from here were 145,000 bu. Argentine shipments for the week were estimated at 5,100,000 bu. Liverpool was ⅝@¾d higher. Armour and Chapin bought September early, and there was fair buying of the December by Ware-Leland and Bartlett-Frazier.

Less Buoyant Tone in Oats.

Oats were fairly active, but showed less buoyancy than corn. Final prices were unchanged to ⅛@¼c off. The cash demand was slow, sales for shipment being 105,000 bu. Sample prices were not much changed. Offerings were not heavy and the local receipts are not coming up to expectations. Elevator concerns were moderate sellers. Kempner, Logan-Bryan, Edwards, Armour, and Bartlett-Frazier were fair sellers. Cutten was credited with buying early and there was fair buying by country houses. Receipts were 213 cars, with 238 cars the estimate for today. Western arrivals aggregated 455,000 bu, against 588,000 bu a year ago.

January Product Firm.

Hog products were firm early and closed with moderate gains, although there were quite liberal sales on the swells. Cudahy Packing company was credited with covering a big line of short January ribs and lard and this buying helped the market. Receipts of hogs were, as expected, 19,000, with 15,000 the estimate for today. Prices at the yards were steady to a little firmer. In the west receipts were 56,600, against 56,200 a year ago. The cash trade was moderate. Foreign prices were unchanged, except for backs, which were 6d higher. Receipts of products here were 17 cars; shipments, 91 cars.

Rye Scarce and Firm.

Rye was scarce and firm, with sales of No. 2 at 68c; No. 3, 67c, and No. 4 at 66c. No. 2 for September delivery sold at 68c. Receipts, 3 cars.

Barley sold at an advance of 2c and closed with malting 68@76c; feed, 58@63c, and screenings, 30@52c. Receipts, 16 cars.

Timothy seed held on a firm basis, with sales of September at $6.10 and December at $6.00@6.05. October was $5.90 bid and cash lots $4.50@5.40. Cloverseed was steady at $13.25 bid for October and $8.00@14.50 for cash lots.

Duluth flax closed 1⅛@2½c higher, with cash on track $1.52½; September, $1.51; October, $1.52⅛; November, $1.52½. Receipts were 18 cars. Minneapolis was 2c higher at $1.52¼@1.53¼ for cash on track. Receipts, 8 cars. Winnipeg closed 2c higher, with October $1.37½; November, $1.37¼, and December, $1.36½. Receipts, 17 cars.

AMERICAN GRAIN MARKETS.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 21.—WHEAT—Was in narrow range, with a strong undertone. Rains in northwest further delayed harvesting and thrashing. NEWS AND GOSSIP OF BOARD OF TRADE

Exporters reported little demand for wheat, and local cash men did not report any wheat sold to the seaboard exporters. Bids from the other side on new business were said to be 1@2c out of line, and the demand for forward shipment has been slow for several weeks. Liverpool reported a good demand on the other side, but neither future nor spot prices at Liverpool were materially higher. In the southwest there was a fair demand for red winter wheat, which has been strong recently. St. Louis cash wheat and September gained relatively on the Chicago wheat. No. 2 red sold at 92c at St. Louis. Farm offerings of all kinds of wheat continue light in all directions. At Minneapolis the cash demand was a little less active and prospects are for good receipts.

The crop report of the Northwestern Railway company said: "Last week the weather has been extremely hot over the entire territory covered by the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, but fortunately was followed by rains. Conditions of corn in Iowa are generally good and a normal crop is anticipated. The hot, dry spell has been broken in Nebraska. Corn north of the Platte is in condition to withstand almost any kind of weather. In northern Illinois, Wisconsin, and Minnesota there is every prospect for a normal corn crop. Scattered rains which followed the extreme hot weather in South Dakota give a prospect for one of the largest corn crops ever produced in that state."

Reports from this state where there have been rains showed considerable improvement in the corn crop, and offerings were a little larger. It was claimed that Omaha was offering corn to come to Chicago for the first time in several weeks, and receivers said that Iowa points were selling more corn to come to Chicago. These indications that the demand from the west and southwest was less urgent helped take the edge off the corn market. Prices for sample corn were steady to ½c higher, and sales from here were 145,000 bu. Oats were not much changed and offerings were moderate. The eastern demand was of moderate proportions. Oats sales, 105,000 bu.

Minneapolis advices received yesterday indicated that harvesting and thrashing was at a standstill in many sections of the northwest, rains having been general and quite heavy for several days in the Red river valley section. Reports in regard to thrashing returns in North Dakota show an extremely irregular range. In parts of the western section farmers will hardly get back seed, while in other sections the yields will run up to 25 bu per acre. At a meeting of millers, mainly from North Dakota, held Wednesday at Moorhead, it was estimated the state would average about 11 bu to the acre or around 77,000,000 bu for the state.

Inglis wired Logan-Bryan from Champaign, Ill.: "Corn in fair condition throughout Kankakee. Gilman to Champaign much better than I expected to find it. Went through many fields today. Farmers more hopeful after rains. While rain is general over this section more would be beneficial, so it will take heavy rains to bring forward the pastures. Corn examined will run 35 to 60 bushels and is being made rapidly. Large reserves of old corn here. Some farmers selling, as many wagons on the road delivering. Weather forcing. Oats are a poor yield here."

Wheat cutting has started in Canada, 75 to 100 miles north of Regina, the cutting having started at the earliest date in several years. This would indicate that the talk of late harvest has been premature. Grain men familiar with Canadian conditions do not fear any frost now until after the first of the month, and by that time the great bulk of the wheat will be cut. More concern is now felt in regard to a wet harvest than to frost.

Le Count wired Barrell from Yorkton, Sask.: "Coming west from Binscarth the wheat crop is later, though some early fields are being cut, but the crop in general over this district will require balance of month to mature. Both wheat and oats are a good crop and filling fine. The crop is mostly oats in this district. Some fields are ripe, while others are very late. Weather clear, warm, and favorable."

Kansas City wired: "Rains may have helped few fields in Missouri, but taken as a whole the southwest condition has shown no improvement. What cash corn we get comes from Iowa at about 75c Kansas City. It is offered fairly liberally at this price, as I understand farmers in Iowa are contracting to sell new corn at 65c at their stations."

Omaha wired Bennett: "At Criswold, Ia., they are selling corn 1c higher than they are paying for wheat. This is good corn country, and if rains would come now best could do would be a third of a crop."

Weather conditions in France were more favorable. As a result of the better weather conditions Paris was sharply lower for wheat futures.

Bids on the call for wheat to arrive were ¼@½c higher; corn, ½@¾c lower; oats, ⅛@¼c lower; rye, 1c higher.

Estimated receipts for today: Wheat, 206 cars; corn, 59 cars; oats, 238 cars; rye, 3 cars; barley, 16 cars; hogs, 15,000 head.

A late message from Winnipeg said that indications were for temperatures dangerously close to the frost line last night.

Russian reports indicated crop conditions were still unfavorable over a considerable portion of the wheat territory.

An Argentine cable said the acreage of wheat and oats was larger than last year.

Argentine shipments were estimated at 480,000 bu. wheat and 5,100,000 bu corn.

Minneapolis wheat stocks decreased 775,000 bu for five days.

LIVE POULTRY TAKES UPTURN; FOWLS ADVANCE HALF A CENT.

Creamery Butter Slightly Higher—Other Grades Quiet and Easy—Eggs and Potatoes Hold Steady.

Firmness pervaded the market for live poultry at Chicago yesterday and prices of fowls were advanced ½c a pound. Spring chickens sold freely at 20c for freight receipts and 18c for express arrivals. Roosters were quiet at 11c a pound. Total receipts were reported at 4 cars and 1,000 coops, all of which found a ready outlet at the prices.

Fancy creamery butter showed a further slight gain in value, selling at 27½c a pound. Lower grades were quiet and easy, with total receipts of 10,351 tubs. Egg values held stationary, but there was a firm market for fresh laid, high grading eggs. Receipts were 9,055 cases.

Potato receipts were reported at only 10 cars. These found a ready outlet at recently advanced prices and some of the stale stock on track was disposed of. The market closed in a strong position, with sales at 57@95c a bu.

Trade in fresh fruits and green vegetables was restricted to small volume because of the half day holiday among retailers.

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Cotton goods markets were distinctly firmer and more active today in the convertible and print cloth yarn division. Raw silks are still advancing. Yarns rule steady with a higher tendency. Dress goods trade for spring is hinging around cheap brocades as a new offering in goods to retail under 75 cents a yard.

A GREAT MONEY MAKING OPPORTUNITY.

The one thing for which there is the greatest known demand in the world today is BETTER and SAFER LIGHT for the farm and suburban home—I have it—a beautiful bright, white electric light that can be installed at a moderate price and maintained at small expense, and no possible chance for fire or explosion; no machinery. This proposition will bear closest investigation and the demand is worldwide. There is a great opportunity for quick returns from the sale of State and Territory rights, as well as from the sale of plants. I need money to manufacture these plants and push the sale of territory, or will sell controlling interest to right parties. If you are interested and have capital address A O 31, Tribune.
